REPUBLICAN PARTY READY FOR THE FRAY

The State Headquarters Formally Opened by the Secretaries.

QUAY IN TOUCH WITH CAMPAIGN

Now at Seashore, but Within Easy Calling Distance of Philadelphia.

STONE IN CONFERENCE WITH BOIES PENROSE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aufi. 4.—Senator Quay did not come up from Atlantic City today, having sent word to Senator Penrose that he would remain at the shore and complete negotiations for the leasing of a cottage which he will occupy with his family until the 1st of October. He will come to the city tomorrow morning and will then announce the names of the members-at-large of the Republican state executive committee, of which he is the chairman. At the same time he will issue a call for a meeting of his committee, to be held in this city some time prior to August 15, to map out the plans of campaign.

This is earlier for the formal opening of the campaign than had been expected, but according to Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham, this early meeting does not mean that there has been any change in the conditions which compelled such an early meeting. The purpose of holding the first meeting at this time is to informally discuss some of the details of the situation so that the secretaries of the committee may continue their work in the absence of those members of the committee who have planned to spend part of August and September on their vacations.

Senator Quay will keep in close touch with the campaign from this time on until election day, and, by having his cottage at Atlantic City, will be enabled to come to the city two and three times a week if necessary. In his absence, his colleague, Senator Penrose, and Secretaries Andrews and Garvin will be in charge of the campaign details.

Insurance Commissioner Durham this morning announced that on Wednesday morning he will leave the city for a three weeks' vacation in Colorado.

Republican state headquarters were formally opened this morning by Secretary Wesley R. Andrews and his assistant, Thomas H. Garvin. By tomorrow morning, when the state chairman comes from Atlantic City to take charge, everything will be ready for him to start the machinery in motion.

Gov. Stone, accompanied by Insurance Commissioner Durham, Senator Penrose, T. Larry Eyre and several other political friends came up from Atlantic City this morning. The governor left the station in company with Senator Penrose and Commissioner Durham, going to the Walton, where the governor remained closeted with the commissioner and senator for nearly an hour. The governor then returned to the station and boarded a train for Harrisburg.

Senator Penrose said the force of employes at headquarters will be busy for the next 10 days preparing new lists of the voters of the state and performing other routine work preliminary to the active campaign which will begin, he said, about September 1.

FATAL RUNAWAY.

Millionaire Campbell's Wife and Man Who Tried to Rescue Her, Expected to Die.

WARREN, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—G. W. Campbell, wife of the millionaire lumberman of Warren county, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured in a runaway late this afternoon. In company with her son, she was driving along Water street with a spirited team, when the horses became frightened.

Mrs. Campbell was thrown from the carriage and her right hip broken. Having a heart affection, her physicians state tonight that she is in a critical condition.

Sam Dunn, a teamster, was knocked down and trampled by the horses while trying to stop them. He sustained a fracture of the skull and internal injuries. The physicians say that he will not recover.

OBJECT TO MIDWAY.

Good People of McDonald Trying to Protest Morals of Those Who Attend Fair.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The people of McDonald are up in arms against the proposal to have a "midway" in connection with the fair to be held this fall. The campaign against exhibitions is being conducted by the women of the town, 458 of whom signed a petition presented to Mrs. J. N. McDonald, who owns the ground on which the fair will be held, asking her to refuse to allow her property to be used for the location of a "midway."

The petition states that in former years the fair management sold "privileges to those who through their depravity exposed to the unwary attractions basely immoral, obscene, polluting and disgusting in the extreme."

CONIACKER IN BOX CAR.

Man Under Arrest at Ashtabula and Coins Are Gathered Up.

ASHTABULA, O., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The Ashtabula police have discovered at Collinwood, a small town west of Ashtabula, in an old box car, what is claimed to be the headquarters of a maker of spurious coins. Some 15 pounds of metal from which it is thought the coins were made, was found, but no tools for making them could be discovered.

Nathan Beard, the man who occupies this old shop, is under arrest, charged with passing counterfeit money. A representative of the United States secret service arrived today and gathered up several of the spurious coins.

STRIKE LEADER WAS CARNEGIE'S YOUNG COUSIN

Relative of the Ironmaster Led the Special Delivery Boys.

FIVE OF YOUNGSTERS ARE STILL DEFIANT

Charley Carnegie, a 12-year-old cousin of the great steelmaster, yesterday led the special delivery boys of the Pittsburgh postoffice on their strike. The strike was soon crushed and the boy relative of Andrew Carnegie is temporarily out of a job.

It is just about half a century since Andrew Carnegie himself was a messenger boy in the streets of Pittsburgh. It is true that he carried telegrams, while Charley takes special delivery letters, but the two jobs are strikingly similar.

Dissatisfaction over being required to contribute from their own salaries to pay the salary of an assistant clerk caused the strike yesterday morning among the special delivery boys in the Pittsburgh postoffice. The leader in this method of expressing dislike for the plan was Charles Carnegie. The strike was soon pretty well quashed by Postmaster George L. Holliday, who told the boys plainly that they should return to work at once or leave their positions. Most of the boys went back to work, but young Carnegie says he quit on the spot rather than wait to be discharged, and he still stoutly maintains that the boys are in the right in the matter.

Tale of the Strike.

Two stories are told of the strike, one by Postmaster Holliday and one by young Carnegie, who speaks for the boys. The substance of both stories is that when the monthly salaries were paid the boys on Saturday, amounts varying from 8 cents to about $1 were found to be deducted from their salaries. This was done in order to pay the salary of a new assistant clerk in the special delivery department.

Charles Carnegie lives with his mother at No. 19 Grace street, Mt. Washington. Mrs. Carnegie is a widow, her husband, Harry V. Carnegie, having died 11 years ago. He was, like Andrew Carnegie, his second cousin, a railroad man, and worked for the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie from the opening of that line until his death. Harry Carnegie was born in Cork, Ireland. His father, Thomas B. Carnegie, was a Scotchman and a first cousin of Andrew Carnegie's father. For a time after the death of Harry Carnegie, leaving a widow with four small children, Andrew Carnegie aided the family materially.

The Young Striker.

Charley's story of the strike differs somewhat from that of the postmaster. "There are five of us, anyway, that would not go back to work, while this method of taking our money is going on," he said. "The other boys beside myself are Dan Eckels of Oakland, Anthony Welsh of Wakefield street, John Fogarty of Twelfth and Penn, and Charlie Fairman of Elliott borough. We all lost money. My loss was 40 cents, while one of the other boys was just $1 shy. They don't let us make over $30 a month, so that we cannot make it up. Ah, there's lots of jobs. I'll have another today. What's the difference?"

One of the boys was seen as he was starting out with his batch of special delivery letters, and when asked how the boys were feeling he said that they were still dissatisfied and were all liable to quit at any moment. "We are all back at work, but we don't think that we should be called upon to give up any of our pay to Blaney," said the little fellow. "Blaney's all right, but the P. M. should pay him and not we fellers."

Postmaster Explains.

Postmaster Holliday explains the situation in the following statement made to a Gazette reporter:

"The boys are paid 8 cents for each letter delivered. If, however, a boy delivers more than 375 letters during the month, he receives but $30, the limit allowed by the department. The city office is permitted to charge the department with 8 cents for each letter, however, no matter whether a number of the boys deliver more than the 375 letters each month or not, and this usually creates a surplus.

"As it has been necessary for some time to have an additional clerk in charge of the work for the boys, I decided to appoint one of their number to this position and pay him $50 per month out of this surplus, and selected Charles Blaney, who had recommended himself by his excellent work as a delivery boy.

"This last month of July was not up to the usual standard of business in special delivery matter and in order to make up his salary of $30 I had to make a reduction of from 8 cents to 65 cents in the pay of each boy, taking the smaller amounts from those who did the most work and who by their records had proved the hardest workers.

"Any boy is privileged to quit who desires to do so, but I have no intention of permitting them to delay the service if I can help it. One boy has been discharged for agitating the dissatisfaction, and I have no intention of taking him back on the force, for the reason that he is not the kind of boy we want in the service."

BEEF PACKERS FILE DEMURRER IN REPLY

Declare Government's Complaint is Insufficient for an Injunction. Matter Wholly Technical.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The government suit against the alleged beef trust was sent a step forward today by the filing in the United States circuit court of demurrers of the defendants. The demurrers set up that the complaint on which an injunction is asked is insufficient.

In specific terms the demurrers assert that "so much of the bill of complaint as asks a discovery" of the several interests of the defendants and their business methods has not stated such a case as would entitle the complainant to the relief prayed for.

The effect of the filing of the demurrers is technically to admit the allegations charged in the bill of complaint. The argument advanced in support of the packers' position is that, admitting the truth of the charge, no sufficient ground has been shown for the issuance of the petitioned writ.

If the demurrer is sustained by the court the original complaint may be amended, and if overruled the defendants have the privilege of answering.

The South Side Hilltop Does the Mont Pelee Act.

FIRST STEP WAS TAKEN TOWARD THE WIDENING

Resolution Presented Directing Recorder to Sign for City.

ATTEMPT FOR PURER WATER ON SOUTH SIDE

A resolution directing the city recorder to sign, in behalf of the city, a petition for the opening and widening of Virgin alley, from Wood to Smithfield street to a width of 50 feet was presented in common council last night by Thomas M. Brown, of the Twentieth ward, and referred to the committee on public works without debate. The resolution will be reported out of that committee at the first regular meeting of September. There is no doubt that it will pass the common branch, as all expressions of sentiment heard last night were strongly in favor of the improvement. It went to the proper committee without debate.

John F. Semmelrock, of the Twenty-sixth ward introduced a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee, three from common council and two from select council, to confer with the officials, stockholders or any one whom the company may designate of the Monongahela Water Company with reference to the purchase of that plant, its franchise and all appurtenances thereto.

Semmelrock Was Modest.

Mr. Semmelrock so far forgot the usages of legislative bodies as to name the common council members of the committee in the resolution and included himself as a member of the committee; and as he named himself first, it is presumed that he aspired to be chairman of the committee. The two other members whom he named were Joseph G. Armstrong of the Twenty-ninth ward and John Lewis of the Twenty-eighth ward, a chief ringster and a lesser ringster. He stipulated in the resolution that the members of the committee should be from the South Side.

The naming of the committee by Semmelrock was received with a howl of disgust, and Christ F. Beckert, Jr., and Daniel F. Crawford of the Fourteenth ward scored Mr. Semmelrock for ignoring the chair, who is supposed to appoint special and standing committees. The resolution was adopted after it had been so amended by W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward as to place the power of appointing the committee in the hands of the president. President Crawford overlooked the discourtesy and consulted with Mr. Semmelrock in the appointment of the committee. Semmelrock, Armstrong and Stevenson were appointed members of the committee.

McCandless Was Scored.

Mr. Semmelrock stated that he had no intention of being discourteous to the chair, but that he had named these men because they are South Side councilmen and are naturally interested in giving their people some relief. Inasmuch as the Citizen leaders in the branch have gone unreservedly on record against any proposition for pure water that does not include the South Side, the resolution naming South Side men was not necessary.

Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works came in for a great deal of scoring while the meeting was in progress. C. A. Schaad of the Thirteenth ward introduced a resolution directing the director of public works to have the switch track near the East Liberty market house removed, as it is not in use. The switch was put in by Booth & Flinn, it is believed, without a permit. On motion of W. C. Reitz this resolution was referred to the committee on public works, which is instructed to learn when the switch was put in and whether it had been put in without authority, as had been alleged.

Councilmen to Decide.

Mr. Schaad also presented a resolution directing the director of public works to expend the $2,500 which had been appropriated for the Thirteenth ward for

AUTOMOBILE RACE AFTER A GIRL WHO PILFERED JEWELRY

Woman Who Missed Her Diamonds Gives Prompt Chase to Suspect in a Carriage.

RECOVERED IN AN ALLEY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

St. Louis, Aug. 4.—Mrs. L. D. Cabanne, the beautiful wife of young Dute Cabanne, millionaire sportsman and clubman, last evening had a chase in her own automobile after a young woman who had taken two of Mrs. Cabanne's diamond rings, family heirlooms.

Mrs. Cabanne went into a cafe toilet room to rearrange her hair. When she came out she left two costly diamond rings on the washstand and did not think of them for some minutes. When she looked for them they were gone. Mrs. Cabanne remembered that a girl had gone into the toilet room immediately after she came out, and that on coming out again the girl complained to the young men and the girl companion with whom she had been drinking wine that she did not feel well and had hastily departed.

Mrs. Cabanne's suspicions were aroused. She asked her husband to join her in her automobile and give chase to the party, which had left a few minutes before in a carriage. For several miles the Cabanne automobile was driven rapidly through the city in pursuit of every suspicious looking carriage, but a detective was notified of the loss, and he started to make a thorough search for the suspected party. After three hours he returned with the young woman, who admitted that she had the diamonds on her person, but said she could not get at them there.

Mrs. Cabanne accompanied her into a nearby alley, and the detective, who was close at hand, declares she turned highwaywoman herself, and, thrusting a slender jeweled hand down the frightened girl's dress, drew forth the lost diamonds. The girl was released. She gave her name as Bert Hunt.

SECOND OHIO BRIGADE IS IN CAMP AT NEWARK

Gov. Nash Arrives to Stay All Week and Gen. Dick Is Expected Today.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEWARK, O., Aug. 4.—The Second brigade encampment was late in getting started, but it is now on. The Fourth Ohio got into Camp McKinley at noon today, and the Fifth and Eighth regiments arrived shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon. Col. Thompson's Seventh regiment from Ironton, Zanesville and other points, came in two detachments, the last of which did not arrive until 5:30 tonight. The Cleveland engineers arrived Sunday. The Fourth and Eighth regiments had dress parade tonight.

Gov. Nash, who spent the week with the First brigade in July, came in this afternoon, and said he would remain all week. Gen. Dick is expected tomorrow.

Dispatches from Akron telling of an alleged clash between the soldiers and the Akron police created a sensation in camp tonight. It was said that the Akron police raided the armory because of a disturbance. The Akron company was detailed for provost guard duty here. When the Eighth regiment reached camp this afternoon, Capt. Werner of Company F was called to headquarters to explain. The captain said that the report had been exaggerated, and that only one of his men was implicated with two others from Company B, and the affair was not serious. The explanation was satisfactory to Gen. Speaks, who permitted Werner and his men to become provost guard.

PRISON MUTINY CRUSHED.

Thirty-Four Convicts Killed and Survivors Terribly Punished.

VIENNA, Aug. 4.—"Slowopolskie" today reports a revolt of convicts at Jelisavetopol, Russia. Thirty-four of the convicts were killed and 73 wounded and 20 of the soldiers were injured in the melee.

The ringleader was executed in view of his fellow prisoners; 15 others were sent to solitary confinement in the darkest dungeons of the prison, where they will remain for six months. The remainder were flogged, and several of them are reported to be dying from the effects.

TO MANDAMUS CITY AND FORCE WORK ON BRIDGE

Dr. G. W. McNeil Outlines Plans of 21st Ward Residents.

COMMITTEE HOLDS A MEETING TONIGHT

The Twenty-first ward will compel the continuance of work on the Lincoln avenue bridge. Within a few days, following the meeting of this evening, a petition in mandamus is to be filed by Dr. G. W. McNeil, a common councilman from the ward, asking the city government to show cause for the stoppage of work on the bridge, and, if good cause is not shown, to compel the fulfillment of the contract. Councilman McNeil made that announcement in city hall yesterday afternoon, and he added that he was in earnest about it.

"Does the Twenty-first ward intend to permit the cessation of work on the bridge?" was the question addressed Dr. McNeil, as he was leaving the hall after a talk with Controller John B. Larkin yesterday.

"It most emphatically does not," returned the councilman. "I expect to go into court in a few days and ask that the city be compelled to complete the contract for this bridge. I shall file a petition in mandamus in common pleas court, and the city will have to give the court a better explanation than it has given me or the court will order the immediate continuance of the work.

Matter Will Go to Court.

"This dilly-dally business has gone far enough. We are going to have something to say about how the Twenty-first ward business shall be conducted. I shall take the matter to court at once. That bridge was promised to us for years, and now that we have gotten it started we must be further persecuted by the stoppage of the work for a reason which I do not consider a good one."

Dr. McNeil made good his threat a few days ago when he parted from Director J. Guy McCandless, after hauling that official over the coals. He told the director that he expected to send the slogan through his ward and call the clans together for a pow-wow on the situation. This call went out as soon as the irate councilman could make the arrangements, and the meeting is to be held this week. Dr. McNeil will tell his constituents about the satisfaction he was not able to get from the city government, and they are likely to work with him in anything he may undertake.

Will Fight the Case.

The petition is to filed in common pleas court No. 2 and a meeting of the bridge committee this evening will appoint a finance committee to see to it that money is subscribed to pay attorney fees and the necessary costs. The Twenty-first ward has been anxious about this bridge for years. There are two factions in the Citizens party in the ward, and about three factions in the machine organization in the ward, and the only thing upon which the five factions are able to agree is that this bridge is needed and should be finished as soon as possible.

Work on the bridge was stopped because of the desire of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to run a branch track from the West Penn and Allegheny Valley railroads down Negley run to enter the Pennsylvania railroad yards, near Linden avenue. The railroad officials believe that this will assist them to partially remedy the freight congestion, about which every manufacturer in the city is complaining.

At the present grade on which the bridge is being constructed the railroad can neither construct its tracks under the bridge nor over it, and the work is temporarily stopped until the Pennsylvania engineers and city engineers can form some plan that will remedy matters.

Killed by Deputy Sheriff.

MIDDLESBORO, KY., Aug. 4.—At Cumberland Gap today George Williamson, deputy sheriff, shot and killed Charles Vaughn, who resisted arrest. Vaughn was guilty of a small offense.

GENERAL MILLER IS CHARGED WITH UNFAIR ACTION

Attorneys for Wife Declare His Views Were Gotten Before Jury.

EXCEPTIONS FILED AGAINST FINDING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Franklin, Pa., Aug. 4.—The Miller lunacy case did not end this morning in the appointment of a committee for Mrs. Miller, as was expected. When court convened with Judge Criswell on the bench, Commissioner Edward E. Hughes presented the report of the commission in lunacy, which included the verdict of the jury.

Counsel for Mrs. Miller immediately followed with a bill of exceptions, containing ten counts, and an application to set the verdict aside. Counsel for the other side replied by presenting a petition signed by Mrs. Miller's brothers, two of her children and others, asking the appointment of General Miller to the committeeship. The court held that the law required him, in case of the filing of exceptions, to defer the appointment of a committee until he had reviewed the testimony. His honor fixed August 15 for the hearing of the arguments on the exceptions.

The proceedings in court bordered a little on the sensational. John O. McCallmont, who presented the exceptions, was followed by his father, the Hon. Samuel Plumer McCallmont, who is in his 80s, and who is referred to as the "Nestor of the Venango county bar."

In Cause of Humanity.

Mr. McCallmont said he was not employed as attorney in the case, but came to appeal for Mrs. Miller in the cause of humanity. This case, he said, was one in which money and influence were arrayed against justice and right. Even Mrs. Miller's brothers, the Sibleys, had deserted her, said the old man. He held that she was as sane as anybody and needed no committee to look after her. Mr. McCallmont almost broke down as he finished his speech and his eyes welled with tears.

In reply Attorney Carmichael declared that the accusations made by Mr. McCallmont were unworthy of consideration; that Gen. Miller took this action after he had endured for years what no other man had stood, and that the general desired only that his wife should have the protection and care that a woman in her condition should have. He pointed out the fact that six unprejudiced jurors had found Mrs. Miller to be insane, and urged the necessity of appointing a committee at once.

The petition he presented bore the signatures of Hon. Joseph C. Sibley and E. Henry Sibley, bothers of Mrs. Miller, and their wives; C. J. S. Miller a son, and his wife; Leroy and French Miller, sons, and S. A. Megeath, a son-in-law.

Judge Has No Recourse.

Attorneys for Mrs. Miller stated that it would be a great injustice to appoint a committee before going over the testimony. Judge Criswell said he had no other recourse than to go over the testimony before acting upon the application of Gen. Miller's counsel.

The report of the commissioner showed that Mrs. Miller owned $20,000 in real estate and $11,000 in personal estate. In the latter was included $5,000 worth of jewelry.

The bill of exceptions complained chiefly of the rulings of the commissioner. It was held that he erred in ruling out the testimony of Dr. W. F. Meyers as an expert; in ruling out the testimony of Hon. S. P. McCallmont as an expert and as witness in a matter of fact; in refusing to allow Dr. Stephen Bredin to explain his testimony in regard to the copy of the physician's certificate attached to the insurance policy of Hon. Joseph C. Sibley; in allowing the certificate to be accepted in evidence when it was but a copy of the original; in opening up the testimony when it had been mutually agreed that testimony on both sides had closed; in refusing to allow the respondent to offer in testimony deeds executed by Gen. Miller and his wife, indicating that he regarded her as sane; in admitting the testimony of Dr. Johnston, Gen. Miller's private secretary, as to the general's treatment of his wife.

Charges of Unfairness.

Perhaps the most sensational charges were contained in the supplement to the bill, which was as follows:

That upon the appointment of the commission, of the application for which respondent had no notice, the commissioner proceeded within three days to take testimony; that after the material testimony on the part of the prosecution the relator procured an adjournment for 10 days, on account of his expected absence on important business, although he had full knowledge of said business when he procured the commission, and although he could not be a witness against his wife and has not spent a full hour before the commission. In the meantime he has granted and encouraged interviews to reporters of newspapers in the state, which interviews were published in said newspapers and republished in those of Franklin and neighboring places, and were read by members of the jury; that said interviews gave the public and the jury what might have been the relator's testimony had he been a competent witness, were some times incorrect, and left a false impression on the minds of the public and the jury.

Respondent also says that several reporters of different newspapers, present at the hearing, were under the influence and control of the relator; that while said reporters had published in the different papers represented by them favorable testimony on the part of the relator they omitted, suppressed or garbled such testimony on the part of the respondent; that these reports in the newspapers were red by the jury, and that their tendency was to prejudice the minds of the jurymen against the respondent.

SHOT BECAUSE HE'S A UNION MAN.

POTTSVILLE, PA., Aug. 4.—William Purcell, a striking mine worker, was shot today at Phoenix Park, where he resides. His assailant, who is unknown, escaped. Purcell was approached by a stranger who demanded to know if he was a union man. Being answered in the affirmative, he drew a revolver and shot Purcell. The latter's condition is critical.

UNEASY FEELING PERVADES TOWN

Troops Take Position in Streets During Funeral of Shenandoah Riot Victim.

BIG CROWDS WATCH LONG PROCESSION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 4.—An indescribable but well defined feeling of uneasiness has supplanted the excitement which held sway over the minds of the mining element here since the rioting of last Wednesday, and the calling out of the troops. This feeling of uneasiness is undoubtedly growing stronger each day. It is evidently due to the numerous and persistent rumors, which have been widely circulated since the troops were ordered here, that the railroad companies are very soon, probably this week, to resume operations at some of the collieries under the protection of the militia.

Everybody has heard these reports, but none of them can be traced to any responsible source. The reports seem to have originated nowhere in particular, but having once been started keep going round in a circle. Despite this these reports are believed by many people here. They express this belief emphatically, and state that before another week is over mining operations will have been resumed.

Scranton New Storm Center.

Scranton is regarded as the most likely place where the attempt will be made, as there is a larger number of men there for the companies to draw upon. Whatever of truth there is in these reports there is no denying that the soldiers here are prepared at any time to move instantly to any section of the region. Troops under arms are always ready "to move at a moment's notice," but this truism is particularly applicable in this case.

Near the camp of the Twelfth and Eighth regiments and the Governor's troop, on a siding of the Reading railroad, are seven coaches attached to an engine, with steam kept up night and day, and on it are displayed white flags said to be the sign to all telegraph operators and railroad men generally that it is to have the right of way over all other trains of whatsoever character. One battalion of the Twelfth regiment is known to be held in reserve under special orders to go anywhere at any time.

While in readiness for whatever developments may come, the soldiers have settled down to the regular routine duties of camp life. The order of the day is rigidly observed, and the respective camps are kept in the best of discipline.

Troops Show Activity.

The troops showed more activity today that they have on any day since they were ordered to Shenandoah. There was nothing on the surface to indicate anything, yet there was a feeling of uneasiness which caused the commanding officers to increase their vigilance and hold the soldiers in a state of preparedness.

The greater part of this vigilance was due to the fact that the funeral of Joseph Beddall, who died as a result of injuries received in Wednesday night's riot, took place today. Beddall was a brother of Deputy Sheriff Thomas Beddall, who was one of the principal figures in the fight, and a nephew of Sheriff S. R. Beddall. These men attended the funeral, and in consequence there were many rumors afloat that they would be attacked.

These stories reached brigade headquarters and Gen. Gobin decided to take every precaution possible to prevent any untoward incidents while the funeral was being held, without too great a display of the military force. A platoon of the Governor's Troop was stationed on one of the town's principal streets, near headquarters, and one battalion of infantry of the Twelfth regiment was held in readiness in camp to march on short notice. Provost Marshal Farquhar also kept a watchful eye on matters with a detail of men.

Great Crowds Line the Way.

The funeral services were held at William Penn, a mile from here. Then the body was escorted by the Shenandoah lodge of the Masonic order to Shenandoah and through the principal streets to the cemetery, which is located on a mountain north of the city. A great crowd lined the sidewalks, the majority of the people being striking mine workers. Nothing occurred to disturb the funeral, however, and after it was over the cavalry was withdrawn.

Company H of the Twelfth regiment was placed on duty at Indian Ridge colliery of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company, near the foreign quarter. This was done so that a town constable could be assisted in case he was attacked while making arrests of persons who were in last week's riot. The services of the soldiers, however, were not needed.

Rumors of a resumption of work in this territory are still in circulation, but there is nothing to indicate that the reports have any foundation. There are in the Shenandoah district 19 collieries operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, which formerly employed 12,000 men, and six collieries owned by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, which employed 3,000. There are also several individual collieries.

Inspector Not Informed.

The mine inspector for this district said today that where a coal company desires to place a mine in operation it is compelled by law to notify the mine inspector of the district in which the mine is located so that he can make an inspection to see whether it is safe to permit men to enter it. Up to this time, he said, he had not received any intimation that the companies are about to resume work.

The troops have been indulging in some test maneuvers. The Eighth regiment, on a test call to arms, had one company on the double-quick march in one minute and the whole command in three minutes.

Col. Clement ordered Company H of the Twelfth regiment to scale a very high culm bank, and the feat was accomplished in 30 seconds. Capt. Ott, commander of the Governor's troop, took a dash west across the country this morning toward Girardville. The troop returned shortly before noon.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Aug. 4.—The day having passed without a resumption of mining in the strike region caused rejoicing at President Mitchell's headquarters tonight. There was some fears that work might be started at the Woodward colliery of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company near Plymouth today, and a large number of strikers were stationed in the vicinity, but when it became known for a certainty that the mine would not resume the strikers returned to their homes.

SUSPECT WAS SHOT BY THE CONSTABLE

Officers Had an Exciting Time in Capturing Two Men Charged With Robbery.

Charged with larceny, Mac and Robert Murray of Breckenridge township were committed to the Allegheny county jail last night by Justice of the Peace J. M. Hathaway on the information of Anthony Demaulin, an Italian of that place.

The Murray brothers, with several others, are charged with robbing Demaulin in a public highway of a watch and some money on June 12. They made their escape and since that time have succeeded in evading the officers in pursuit of them.

On Sunday last the warrants for their arrest were turned over to Constables J. J. Finney and Frank Shaw. They watched them about their farmhouse on Sunday and when they sat down to dinner the officers pounced down on them. There were six men among the Murray family, and all were armed and prepared for resistance.

The constables surprised them and Mac Murray rushed into the yard with a revolver in his hand. Constable Finney called to him to give up, but instead he ran for a small woods. Finney shot him in the right thigh. He did not know that he had wounded him at the time and started back to assist Constable Shaw. In the meantime Shaw had arrested Robert Murray and handcuffed him to a gas pipe line leading to the house. The rest of the boys escaped, including Mac, who was wounded.

Constable Finney yesterday afternoon traced Mac to a house in Harcums alley, where he found him wounded in the thigh. He obtained permission from Dr. Charles of No. 2117 Carson street to have the man taken to jail.

KING EDWARD GETTING IN CORONATION TRIM

Now Able to Walk Up and Down Stairs—Rehearsals for the Ceremony in Progress.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

COWES, ISLE OF WIGHT, Aug. 4.—King Edward today for the first time since his illness walked up and down a flight of stairs without assistance. He also enjoyed a stroll upon the upper promenade deck of the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, from which a splendid view of the yacht races was obtainable. Empress Eugenie, who has arrived here on her yacht, the Thistle, visited King Edward today.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Visitors to London who will not be able to see the interior of Westminster abbey before the coronation may do so after that event, it having been officially announced that the edifice will be open from August 12 to 16. Invitations to the coronation ceremony have been telegraphed, at the king's command, to the mayors of all cities of more than 20,000 inhabitants.

Rehearsals of the coronation ceremony are held daily, with the exception of the musical program, which has been made a special order for Friday. A structure is being erected between the abbey and parliament buildings through which members of the house of lords and of the house of commons will have private access to the abbey.

The Doings of Mr. Tracy.

SPOKANE, WASH., Aug. 4.—Harry Tracy, the outlaw, is believed to be hiding today in the Rock Lake country, west of Harrington. He was seen three miles north of Odessa last evening traveling north.

THE WEATHER.

"Fair and warmer Tuesday; warmer Wednesday," is what the weather man sent out last night. That is about the kind of weather he has been predicting for several days, and, while his prediction was pretty closely adhered to during the days there have been comfortable nights, so the hot days did not depress as much as the same degrees of heat on other occasions.

Warmer.

Dodge City was the hottest place in the country yesterday, as the mercury registered 102 during the day. It was hot in Kansas and Oklahoma, but it takes heat to make the corn, so the people there are accepting the weather as a blessing. At Oklahoma it was 98 and at Kansas City it was 90.

The Gazette's weather service thermometers at Kaufmann's corner at the following hours yesterday registered:

CHIEF AMBITION TO WIN RESPECT OF HIS WORKMEN

Senator Hanna Declares Laboring Man's Word of Honor Beats Contract.

GIFT FROM HIS EMPLOYES

Street Railway Men of Cleveland Present Him With Handsome Cane—In Reply to Address He Talks of Civic Federation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Cleveland, O., Aug. 4.—The 800 employes of the Cleveland City Railway Company, of which Senator M. A. Hanna is president, met in a downtown hall tonight and presented Senator Hanna with a valuable cane.

In acknowledging the gift Senator Hanna expressed his sincere thanks to his employes for their gift, and incidentally spoke of the relations that he hopes to see soon to exist between capital and labor.

"I cannot adequately express my feelings on this occasion," he said. "It has been the one ambition of my life to merit the respect, if not the affection, of the men in my employ. I have been with laboring men all my life and have been their employer for many years, and this night means something to me, for it brings with it the satisfaction of knowing that so large a number of men in my employ have been satisfied with my career as an employer.

"Your chairman has referred to the Civic Federation. I say to you that were it not for my official position and my duties as a public servant, I would devote more of my time to the policies on which that organization is founded.

"When the great anthracite strike was threatening our Federation worked hard for weeks to avert it—to bring men and employer together, but failed. After it was on we worked hard to settle it, but failed. However, in that matter, it is my personal satisfaction to know that the statement that I made at that time that the men would not go back on their word has been kept and that a sympathetic strike has been averted. I told the Federation that there would be no sympathetic strike among the bituminous miners.

"I believe in manhood. Labor organizations are not things which can be sued for breach of contract. They have no corporate existence. But I would rather have the promise of a laboring man, backed only by his sense of honor and his manhood, than any agreement which might be enforced by law.

"Manhood and integrity are the same, whether they belong to a miner, a street railway man or a boss. For myself I have no higher ambition than to work for the purpose of bringing capital and labor nearer together and to live out my life in Cleveland where I have lived for 52 years."

FIRST STEP TAKEN TOWARD WIDENING

boardwalks and steps on certain streets which the councilmanic delegation in the ward has decided upon. This resolution was adopted.

During the discussion of this Harry A. Lamb of the Eleventh ward told council that Director McCandless is not paying any attention to the councils, and that something ought to be done about it. He said that in the matter of the boardwalks and steps in the ward McCandless was putting in these improvements as he saw fit, and without consulting the representatives. Mr. Lamb recalled that common council some time ago, at his initiative, had adopted a resolution directing the director of public works to put benches and lights in Central park in the Eleventh ward. He said the director had paid no attention to the resolution. "Are councils to be ignored in this way forever?" said Mr. Lamb. "I, for one, am getting tired of it."

McCandless' Defiance.

Mr. Schaad said he had called on Director McCandless with reference to the Booth & Flinn switch, and that McCandless had finally said: "That switch will stay there while I am director, and will stay there after I am gone. I will not remove it." Mr. Schaad also asked councils how long they expected to put up with that kind of treatment.

The resolution empowering the filtration committee to appoint an expert or experts to go over the plans for the filtration plant and ascertain from the plans what it will cost to construct such a plant as the plans call for was reported from the finance committee with an affirmative recommendation, and was read the first time. Chairman Stevenson of the committee moved that the resolution be placed on second and third reading and final passage, and Mr. Armstrong demanded a call of the roll. The roll was called, and the motion was whipped by a vote of 29 to 13, a motion to suspend the rules requiring 34 votes. The vote was as follows:

Ayes—Baldauf, Baker, Beckert, Bechner, Bole, Brown, D. F. Crawford, Delaney, Fitzpatrick, Hughes, Jack, Lamb, Lauder, David Lewis, Martin, McNeil, M. E. O'Brien, Reitz, Schaad, Schuck, Shaw, Shearer, Soffel, Sterratt, Stevenson, Wasson, Woods, Zeuger, C. S. Crawford—29.

Noes—Armstrong, Barr, Bonini, Brand, Cavett, Cross, Hogue, Moore, Thomas O'Brien, Rodgers, Semmelrock, Sheehan, West—13.

Garbage Was Shelved.

The garbage ordinance, which has been found to be illegal, owing to the four-year contract clause, came up in the regular order on third reading. Joseph G. Armstrong moved to postpone indefinitely. Joseph G. Wasson, Twentieth ward, wanted to debate it. Armstrong rose to a point of order, that the motion was not debatable. Then the chair asked Armstrong to state his motion, and he stated it again, slightly different. Then the chair ruled that both his motions were out of order. Mr. Stevenson then moved that the ordinance be tabled, and this motion prevailed.

William Brand of the Seventeenth ward then called up the resolution ordering the city solicitor to institute proceedings against the Pittsburgh Junction railroad for alleged violations of the smoke provision in its franchise. Mr. Brand evidently had sinister designs on the resolution, but Mr. Lamb moved that the resolution go over until the next meeting, and this motion prevailed. The lobby then gave Brand the laugh.

The resolution presented by Harry A. Lamb at the last meeting authorizing the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the probable cost of cutting down the Fifth avenue hump, came up on first reading, but on motion of Dr. G. W. McNeil, it was referred to a joint committee of three, consisting of Lamb, McNeil and Bonini.

Other Ordinances.

The machine evidently realized that it had nothing to gain by reading the minutes, for no opposition was made last night to dispensing with that formality.

A number of ordinances for street and sewer improvements came from select council, and Dr. John P. Sterret of the Nineteenth ward asked whether the streets that were to be improved had been sewered and whether the necessary water pipes had been laid. He said the practice of improving streets without first putting in the necessary pipes is reprehensible. Councils agreed with him, but passed the ordinances.

An ordinance granting permission to Mrs. Rebecca D. Berger to construct bridges from her building, which she is erecting, across Ross street to the building of the United States Baking Company, was passed finally, and is now up to the recorder for his signature.

After a great deal of wrangling, an ordinance appropriating $500 for the purchase of a submarine diving apparatus for Brilliant station was passed finally.

Indiana Tinplate Workers Refuse to Accept Cut in Wages.

RICHMOND, IND., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The tin plate workers of Indiana have again refused to accept the proposed cut in wages to help the combine secure the Standard Company's order. The workmen say they will starve before they will accept the cut.

The mills at Elwood and Anderson have been shut down indefinitely, the company assigning a lack of orders as the cause. It is believed to be a plan to get the men to accept the proposed reduction, which is 25 per cent.

JULY OATS CORNER STILL IN COURT

JUDGE CHETLAIN ISSUES TWENTY-NINE MORE INJUNCTIONS.

Petitions Declare Margins Can Only Be Paid by Illegal Use of Authority Inequitable and Unjust—Cases Invoive $120,000.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Judge Chetlain today issued 29 more injunctions as a result of the legal battle being waged over the recent corner in July oats. At the request of Waite, Thirburn & Co., the complainants in the former injunction suits, 19 bills were issued against the Bank of Montreal, restraining its officers from paying over margins to as many board of trade firms, to whom the complainants had made short sales of July oats.

There is a marked difference in the nature of the petition on these bills, however, from those first granted. The petitions this time, instead of alleging conspiracy to corner July oats, state that the margins can be paid only by the illegal use of an authority inequitable and unjust.

Ten of the injunctions issued today were at the complaint of Pratt & Buckley and other board firms. These latter injunctions are against individual board firms to prevent them from collecting margins.

The amount of money involved in the Waite, Thirburn & Co. cases is about $40,000; in the others about twice that sum.

DYNAMITE USED IN JAIL DELIVERY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NASHVILLE, TENN., Aug. 4.—Armed with dynamite to blow himself out of prison Gum Hyatt, train robber and desperado, tonight led a desperate band of 16 convicts to liberty from the Tennessee penitentiary.

Fifteen of the party got entirely clear of the premises and only one, Edward Carney, sent up from Nashville, paid the penalty of death in the bold undertaking. Joseph Loss and James Work were traced down by bloodhounds and captured, but the rest of the prisoners had gotten so far out of bounds that by midnight no trace of them could be had.

The prisoners were furnished dynamite from the outside, which they used in blowing out an opening in the main wing of the prison. Hyatt stood off the inside guard with a brace of revolvers, which also had been furnished him from the outside, while the men preceded him, and Carney, the prisoner who was killed immediately preceded the train robber.

The dynamite was laid by Doc, the Manchester train robber, and he made good his escape with the train of prisoners that left by the opening made by the explosive. Six of the prisoners that got away were government men and the others were state convicts.

Men and bloodhounds are in pursuit of the convicts.

CHILD FATALLY SHOT.

Drink-Crazed Italian Begins Shooting at Man Who is Holding Baby in His Lap.

SCRANTON, PA., Aug. 4.—Six months ago Frank Jarro, an Old Forge Italian, shot his neighbor, William Repp, because the latter cut down a shade tree on the dividing line between their properties. Jarro thought he had killed Repp and fled to Italy.

Learning that the wound was only superficial he returned and yesterday made his appearance at Old Forge. In the interim Repp had sued for damages to his person, secured judgment by default and had Jarro's property sold at sheriff's sale.

The purchaser, Gemmorro Fagello, was sitting on the front porch tonight holding his 5-year-old boy on his knee when Jarro came along, crazed with drink, and began firing at him from a revolver. A bullet entered the child's abdomen and another struck the father in the arm. The child is mortally wounded.

CONVICTS GO TO CIRCUS.

Performance, Including Glove Bout, Given in Michigan Prison Yard.

JACKSON, MICH., Aug. 4.—A circus performance was given in the state prison yard this afternoon for the convicts. A ring was made and a performance that lasted an hour and a half was given.

What pleased the prisoners most was a three-round bout between Tommy Wilson and Chan Fang, a Chinaman. The performance included the full acrobatic program of the circus, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience of prisoners.

Citizens' Meeting at Boston.

The Citizens party held a big mass meeting in Odd Fellows hall, Boston, near McKeesport, last night. Speeches were made declaring the policy of the party in the coming county fight, and the enthusiasm of the large crowd of citizens was expressed by their hearty applause. The speakers at last night's meeting were as follows: Robert Heath, candidate for legislature; G. D. O'Neil of McKeesport, candidate for recorder; David Collingwood, candidate for county treasurer; William Bort, chairman of the Allied Labor league of the South Side; Joseph Eitchenstern and several other prominent citizens of McKeesport and Boston.

BIG FINANCIERS SWAP SCHEMES WITH FARMERS

Result is Promised Reduction in Freight Rates on Grain From Northwest.

J. J. HILL CHIEF FIGURE

With Other Railroad Leaders and Representatives of Grangers, He Sits Down to Old-Fashioned Country Dinner in Big Hall.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 4.—Grain rates will be reduced from all points in eastern Washington and the reduction will take place in time to benefit the farmers on this year's crop. The amount of reduction is not determined, but conjecture says from one to two cents per bushel.

The Great Northern and the Central Washington branch of the Northern Pacific will be connected by a cross-road to run from the terminus of the Central Washington in the Grand Coulee to Adrian on the Great Northern. It will be built as soon as the surveys can be completed.

This announcement was made by President Mellen of the Northern Pacific at Davenport today. The decision was unique in the history of American railroading. Three railway presidents, in response to a petition from the leading farmers of the Big Bend country, assembled at the county seat of Lincoln county to hear their case, plead their own interests and render judgment. They were James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern, President S. S. Mellen of the Northern Pacific and President A. L. Mohler of Oregon Railway & Navigation lines of the Harriman system.

Old Fashioned Country Dinner.

Public addresses were delivered by the three presidents. Then adjournment was taken to the armory, where an old-fashioned country dinner was served to the railway guests and visitors from the surrounding country. The presidents entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion. Mr. Hill deposited his hat under his chair, remarked that he had not enjoyed himself so thoroughly in many a day and rubbed elbows with a wheat grower from the Egypt country and another from the Cedar canyon camp.

After dinner hundreds of people gathered around the railway presidents, shaking hands and listening to spirited discussions.

Mr. Hill talked farming and stock-raising. Mr. Mellen elaborated on his previous announcement, and Mr. Mohler spoke of the immigration plans of the Harriman roads.

All this was preliminary to the real conference of the day. Various counties and districts sent delegations to the convention, and after dinner these delegates reassembled in the convention hall and through their spokesmen laid their wishes before the railway presidents.

Hall Packed to Doors.

The spectacle was impressive. The large hall was packed to the doors, and scores of farmers, fruit growers and miners stood in the aisles. Many sat on the carpet floor. Earnestness was stamped upon their features and earnestness ran through all their speeches.

Mr. Hill was the only president speaking at the conference. He answered many questions from time to time, offered numerous voluntary explanations of matters that seemed all wrong to the farmers, and repeatedly asked the farmers to speak out their beliefs and convictions. He was frequently applauded, and the convention was always alert to applaud any telling point whether made by delegates or by the president. The entire proceedings were characterized by good spirit, and there was much good nature in the badinage.

A special train bearing the railroad men and newspaper correspondents returned to Spokane this evening. Later the party left for Colfax, in the Palouse country, where a similar conference will be held to-morrow.

TELEGRAPHERS BLAMED.

New Castle Dispatcher and Mahoningtown Operator Responsible for Easthrook's Fatal Wreck.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury late this afternoon returned a verdict upon the death of Engineer Edward Murphy, of Mahoningtown, who was killed in the recent Western New York and Pennsylvania wreck at Easthrook.

The jury found that the collision was caused by the negligence of the office of the Pennsylvania train dispatcher here, and on the part of the railroad telegrapher at Mahoningtown. Operator C. O. Foster of Mercer swore positively that the orders he received for Murphy's southbound train read to pass in New Castle. He repeated them back without being corrected.

Dispatcher Hestor and Copying Clerk Wilfred McGraw swore that Foster had repeated the order back from Mercer, for Murphy's train to pass at Graham's siding.

TOO CORRUPT FOR HIM.

Reiss Resigns His Seat in the Legislative Body of St. Louis—He Recommends Its Abolition.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Paul C. Reiss, member of the house of delegates, has found his associates in the city lawmaking body too corrupt for him. Tomorrow night he will resign in a letter to the mayor and speaker of the house, in which he will state without mincing words that he finds it impossible to serve his constituents fairly and honestly as the house is now constituted. He will declare that the "majority," so called, is corrupt and all-powerful, and that it is simply impossible to obtain needed legislation at their hands.

He will recommend, it is said, that the present house of delegates and also the city council, be abolished and the city's lawmaking powers be vested in a body of 15 men, who shall be elected at large and who shall receive salaries large enough to justify them in giving their entire time to making laws for the city.

Nearly Cut Man's Nose Off.

Minnie Lagaski was committed to jail yesterday to await a hearing by Alderman A. G. Sharra on a charge of aggravated assault and battery, preferred by Hippolit Swiczenski of No. 2814 Penn avenue. It is alleged the woman, who lives at 2816 Penn avenue, laid in wait for the man in her back yard until he appeared and then threw a china vessel at him, striking him in the face and almost severing his nose. Jealousy is supposed to have prompted the act.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Evelyn Briggs Baldwin, arctic explorer, whose expedition on the America has returned to Honningsvaag, Norway, after an expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars by William Zeigler, must discover the north pole or forever forego the sight of Mr. Zeigler's face. Mr. Zeigler is as fully determined on this as he was when Baldwin sailed away, a year or more ago. Mr. Zeigler is a man of determination.

"I have told Mr. Baldwin to carry the stars and stripes to the north pole or never show his face in New York again," said Mr. Zeigler at the time the expedition started, and he reiterated the statement today, and acknowledged, in the face of dissappointment, that he meant every word of it.

If at any time Mr. Zeigler felt disconsolate of the non-success of Baldwin, his spirits were revived this afternoon when he received this cable dispatch:

Tromsoe, Norway.

Cheer up. Awaiting Frithof. Beware canards. Fearless.

"There is no signature to the dispatch," Mr. Zeigler said, "but it was unquestionably sent by Baldwin.

FOR CARRIERS' SUITS.

Bids Were Opened and Contract Let for 250 Uniforms.

Assistant Postmaster George A. Holliday at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon opened the bids for letter carriers' regulation uniforms for the fall and winter season, which had been invited some time ago, and the contract was awarded to Feickheimer Bros. of Cincinnati, after all the samples had been submitted to a committee of the mail carriers, consisting of B. A. Gross, Max Barton, John Russell and J. M. Duff.

Heretofore carriers have been purchasing their uniforms wherever they pleased, and as a result the uniforms of many of the carriers do not conform to the regulations as prescribed by the department. To overcome this defect in uniformity Postmaster Holliday considered it best to advertise for bids and thus secure the same kind of uniform for all the employes and at the same time secure for the men a much more reasonable rate.

In inviting the bids all the large clothing houses of the country were informed of the conditions and the cloth specified. The bids opened were from Kaufmann Bros., M. Oppenheimer and Solomon & Ruben, Pittsburgh; N. L. Lewis, John Wanamaker & Co. and Jacob Reed's Sons, Philadelphia; and Feickheimer Bros., Cincinnati. The committee, in making the award, took into consideration the cloth, the lining and the general workmanship of the suits, and they expressed themselves as well pleased with all the conditions in regard to the suits selected. The price was not announced, but it is understood that it was in the neighborhood of $13.

There are about 250 carriers here, and the majority of them expect to buy new suits this winter, consequently the contract is one of no small proportions.

LOOKING FOR RELATIVES.

Coroner Trying to Locate Father of Girl Who Took Her Life.

Coroner McGeary sent a telegram to Brighton Beach, N. Y., last night asking the authorities there to make inquiries for the relatives of Elizabeth Mann, who committed suicide yesterday by drinking carbolic acid at No. 1 McIntosh court, Allegheny.

Miss Mann was 25 years old and William McKenna told a coroner's deputy that she was a single woman, that her father lived at Brighton Beach and was well-to-do. He said she had only been here eight weeks and that they occupied the same apartments only four days. They quarrelled on Saturday and he left her because she permitted another man to call on her. McKenna regretted his quarrel with the woman and while telling his story cried like a child.

CHICAGO NOW HANKERS AFTER SUBWAY TRANSIT

Councilmanic Committee Returns From Eastern Cities With Ideas.

SINGLE SYSTEM WANTED

Aldermen Reach the Conclusion That Their City Can Have Cleaner Streets Without Destroying Prosperity—Underground Trolleys.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Members of the city council committee on local transportation have come home from the east favoring consolidation of street railway management, a municipal rapid transit subway, grooved rails and underground trolleys.

Some lay more stress on this point and some more on that, but all are agreed that, considering its size and capabilities, Chicago has the worst street car service and the dirtiest streets on the continent.

"We must have good service and a subway," said Alderman Foreman, "and we should have all of the lines, if not under one management, at least affiliated in a working agreement. Surface street railways here should be operated as they are in New York, as one system, and the same company should operate cars in a subway, which under all circumstances must be owned by the city.

"New York and Boston do not seem to hold to the theory that in order to be prosperous a city must be dirty. New York is experiencing a degree of prosperity that is without example in this or any other country, and in spite of prosperity has clean streets and pure air."

SUCCEEDS RABBI JOSEPH.

Bernard L. Levinthal of Philadelphia Becomes Head of Orthodox Jewish Church of United States.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 4.—Bernard L. Levinthal, for 11 years chief rabbi of the orthodox Jews of Philadelphia, has been appointed to succeed the late Chief Rabbi Jacob Joseph of New York as the head of the orthodox Jews in the United States.

Rabbi Levinthal came to Philadelphia 11 years ago from Kowno, Russia, to take up the position made vacant by the death of his father-in-law, Rabbi Lazer Eleinberg.

It was he who started the kosher beef association to inspect the meat eaten by orthodox Jews and see that the animals were killed according to the Mosaic law.

The rabbi has been active in the Zionist society, founding the branch in this city. He is vice president of the federated Zionist societies of the United States. He was also, last week, elected vice president of the American Jewish Orthodox Society of Rabbis of the United States.

TAYLOR DENIES IT.

Declares He Did Not Predict War With Germany in 1907.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Rear Admiral Taylor denies the story wired from Washington that he believes the United States and Germany may go to war in 1907. When asked if he had set a date for a conflict between the two countries he said:

"Such assertions as have been credited to me are without foundation other than that I have said our seacoast defenses should be well protected against attack by any European power. All naval officers are of this opinion. It would be ridiculous for me to predict a war with any nation. Our navy should be strengthened in readiness for any possible war."

BARGAINS IN HIGH GRADE PIANOS AT HAMILTON'S THIS WEEK

The bargains in pianos and other musical instruments at Hamilton's this week are exciting much interest and attracting many buyers. This is always the case when Hamilton's announce a special offering, because this old reliable music house has earned the fullest confidence of the public during the 35 years in which it has been engaged in selling fine pianos and high grade musical instruments of all kinds to the people of Pittsburgh and the surrounding country.

If you are contemplating the purchase of a piano, either now or at some later time, it will pay you well to visit Hamilton's. The purchase of a piano is a matter that calls for careful consideration. Moreover, it is an investment that may prove worthless or else turn out handsome dividends in the form of a lifetime of the purest and most elevating enjoyment for yourself and your family.

In order to be perfectly safe in making such an investment, buy your piano at Hamilton's, where you are secured by the honor and established reputation of the largest and best known music house in the state. By making your purchase during the present week you will save one-third to one-half the regular price and at the same time you will be sure of getting a thoroughly reliable, high-grade instrument.

Among the list of pianos for which Hamilton's have the exclusive sale in this territory is the matchless A. B. Chase, which is admitted to be the purest toned instrument of the day. For delicacy and refinement of tone it certainly stands unequaled. It is an art piano for artists.

Hamilton's also sell the J. & C. Fischer piano, which is celebrated for its brilliant vibrant quality. The Fischer is the most popular piano in the world. Over 118,000 Fischers are now in use. Many thousands of them right in this community.

At this store you'll also find the exquisite Schumann, the best of all medium priced pianos; also the Smith & Barnes and the Hamilton, both well-known and popular, are sold only by this house.

Your old instrument will be accepted as part payment on a new one, at its full value.

Send for catalogue if you cannot call.

MAY'S 506 - 508 MARKET ST.
THE MAY DRUG CO. PITTSBURG PA

A WORD TO THE GREAT ARMY OF SUMMER TOILERS.

If You are Not as Robust, Vigorous and Happy as Others in the Month of August

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Will Give You Health, Full Energy and Happiness.

Many men toiling in offices, stores and workshops during this hot summer weather, and women weighted with the work and cares of home, are critically near the breaking down point. The symptoms of coming sickness and disease are manifested in sleeplessness, nervousness, tired feelings, languidness, irritability, failing appetite and poor blood circulation.

Paine's Celery Compound is a precious boon to the ailing, sick and rundown in this August weather. A bottle or two used at once will quickly bestow the needed strength to battle against the weakening and enervating effects of the oppresive heat, and will enable men and women to go through the necessary routine of daily toil with heart, soul and energy. Paine's Celery Compound is specially distinguished for its ability to build up rundown systems in hot weather.

Mr. George W. Demarest of 128 West 97th street, New York, says:

"I am a licensed stationary engineer and although my work is not very laborious, I suffered so intensely with severe pains in my back and kidneys that I was compelled to leave my work and remain at home for six months. I suffered greatly with headaches and soreness in chest and lungs, and my joints became very stiff. I actually felt I was doomed to fill an old man's grave at the age of thirty-two. As a last resort I used two bottles of Paine's Celery Compound when I was able to resume my work, and after using the third bottle I am in perfect health. The value of Paine's Celery Compound is inestimable and I urge others afflicted as I was to use it

BRAVE GIRL PUT UP HARD FIGHT AGAINST THIEF

Went After Burglar Who Was in Her Room With a Chair.

HAS FRACTURED SKULL

Colored Intruder Hit Her on Head With Bottle and She Can Scarcely Recover—Burglar Captured After Jumping From Grant Boulevard.

The brave attempt of Edna Wandess, 18 years old, of No. 2721 Bedford venue, to capture a burglar in her oom yesterday, will probably result atally for her. The burglar, who was rrested and gave his name as James Brown, struck her in the head with n iron-topped perfume bottle and fractured her skull. He is now incarcerated in No. 2 police station. Brown was only captured after jumping over a retaining wall and injuring himself. He was chased over a half mile by the officers when he was injured.

The young woman went to her room about 1 o'clock in the afternoon and found the room in great disorder. She looked about the place and, to her horror, found a man under her bed. The burglar crawled out and tried to escape.

He made a dash for a side window and the girl picked up a chair and went at him. The intruder grabbed a bottle from her dresser and struck her over the head, knocking her down. Brown then sprang from the window and ran out Bedford avenue. The woman's screams attracted the attention of a number of men standing nearby, and when they saw Brown jump from the window they started in pursuit. He went into Herron avenue and down that street to the Grant boulevard. On the Grant boulevard Sanitary Officer Samuel Friedman, who was guarding a quarantined house, saw the colored man and the crowd pursuing him and started out in the avenue to head him off.

Brown, without any hesitation, ran to the side of the boulevard and jumped over the retaining wall. He landed on the side of the hill, 15 feet below. He was injured so badly that he was compelled to give himself up. He was taken to No. 2 police station and City Physician H. E. McCandless attended him. He was badly bruised. The young woman was attended by Dr. J. R. Burke of Herron avenue at her home. Her skull is fractured in addition to having a bad laceration, and her recovery is not probable.

Brown says he lives at No. 86 Washington street. When arrested he had a gold watch and chain that belonged to Edna Wandless.

YATCHING CRUISE OPENED

Annual Event of New York's Famous Sailing Organization Has Begun.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW LONDON, CONN., Aug. 4.—The greeting of Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard to 87 captains on board the flagship Corona this afternoon formally opened the New York Yacht club cruise of 1902.

Grouped about the flagship at this time were over 100 of the finest yachts in American waters. The racing element was well represented with the three 70-footers, Rainbow, Mineola and Yankee, and the 60-footers Weetamoe and Neola and the two crack schooners, Elmina and Muriel.

Tomorrow morning this great fleet will get under way for the initial run of the cruise to Newport, a distance of 40 miles, with the start at Sarahs Ledge at the entrance of this harbor and the finish at Brenton's Reef lightship.

At half past 4 o'clock four flags were hoisted on the flagship, requesting the presence of all the captains on board, and half an hour later came the principal event of the day, the meeting on the afterdeck of the Corona.

Fleet Capt. W. Butler Duncan, who managed the Constitution last year, was in waiting to make the formal presentation to Commodore Ledyard. After a few minutes general chat the meeting was called to order by the commodore.

The fleet this year will go round Cape Cod and the regatta committee planned two courses over Nantucket Shoals. The meeting decided to sail the shorter one, making the distance from the start at Vineyard Haven to the finish off Provincetown, 70 miles.

Tonight all the steam yachts are brilliantly illuminated, while on shore, piazzas and lawns are crowded with gay throngs.

DON CAMERON HURT.

Severely Injured in the Groin by His Carriage Colliding With a Cart in Scotland.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—While ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron and Mrs. Cameron were driving this afternoon from Fort William, Invernesshire, Scotland, to Inverlochy castle, Lochaber, which he has leased for the summer, the horses shied and the carriage collided with a cart.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cameron were thrown out and the senator was severely injured in the groin. With the exception of shock, Mrs. Cameron was not hurt.

AVALON CARNIVAL OPENS.

Big Street Parade by Firemen From Surrounding Towns.

The carnival and street fair under the auspices of the Avalon volunteer fire company opened last night with a big parade and a monster attendance. About 7:30 the firemen formed in a parade in Parker's meadow, Avalon, where the carnival was held. About 500 men were in line, two brass bands and others in carriages.

The line included firemen from Homestead, Braddock, Wilmerding, McKees Rocks, Pitcairn, Turtle Creek and Bellevue. They marched through Avalon and Bellevue, returning to Parker's meadow about 9 o'clock. The carnival includes a large number of attractions, the most popular attracting large crowds. The visitors to the carnival came from Bellevue, Ben Avon, Emsworth and Lower Allegheny, and also many firemen from surrounding towns. The affair will be continued tonight.

MAYOR JOHNSON WINS.

Can Go Ahead With Three-Cent Street Car Fares in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 4.—The circuit court today dissolved the injunction recently issued by Judge Caldwell, restraining the city council from granting public service franchises, and especially those giving the low fare street railway company the right to use the streets.

Mayor Johnson fought the injunction suit and as a result of his victory today, the low fare lines will probably be constructed as soon as possible.

SAY ASSESSMENT IS MUCH TOO HIGH

PROPERTY OWNERS ON SOUTH SIDE OF DIAMOND STREET TO APPEAL.

Judge Marcus Acheson Yesterday Filed His Exceptions to the Report Made by the Board of Viewers—Delay May Last for Two Years.

When the Diamond street board of viewers resume their sittings, during the first week of next month, to hear the exceptions to their report, they will find that nearly every property owner on the south side of the street is dissatisfied with the benefits assessed against him. The north side property owners think they are not given awards high enough to cover their damages. Judge Marcus W. Acheson of the United States court filed exceptions to the benefits that were assessed against him yesterday. He adds his complaint to that of Henry Davis, who filed the first exception.

Judge Acheson owns the property at the corner of Diamond alley and Smithfield street, occupied by Solomon & Ruben. He owns 120 feet fronting in Smithfield street, and running a fraction more than 90 feet in the alley.

His Diamond alley frontage is considered in two pieces, one having a frontage in the alley of 60 feet, and other having a frontage of a fraction more than 30 feet. For that reason, two a assessments of benefits are made against him, and in his exception he says that both of them are too high. He says he believes that the improvement is costing more than he will get out of it. He is assessed $56,877 71.

The south side property owners are preparing to unite and take the matter to the highest court. Many of the property owners on the north side, who are awarded damages, are not overly pleased with the award, but they are holding back their exceptions until they learn what their brethren on the opposite side of the thoroughfare are going to do. The property owners of either side will damage the cases of their friends on the opposite side of the street when the exceptions are heard.

After the exceptions are made and heard, the board will make another report. If any of the exceptions are allowed a new schedule will be made. If the exceptions are all overruled, the report will stand and will at once be filed with the court. The report will lie there for 30 days, during which the appeals may be filed. If appeals are made, the court will take them up, hearings will be given, and the court will then render its decision. After this is done the property owners, if dissatisfied, can take the case to the supreme court.

This legal circumlocution can easily occupy the next two years and the city government will not make any move until the legal questions are all settled and until the supreme court is through with the appeals, in case they reach that tribunal. The city will pursue a policy of masterly inactivity toward this improvement.

GAME COMMISSION IN NEED OF MONEY

Now in Debt and Must Have Cash to Enforce Game Laws of State.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAMBURG, Aug. 4.—The state game commission needs money badly to carry on its work of enforcing the game laws, and through J. E. H. Denny of Ligonier, has issued a public appeal for funds. The last legislature appropriated only $3,000 to the commission, and now it is in debt.

"You are probably aware," Mr. Denny says, "that the state allows this commission the 'enormous' sum of $1,500 per year to conduct its business. This scarcely pays for a clerk and postage. We have been compelled to employ lawyers to conduct several big cases, and to engage the best, as the defendants have celebrated legal talent on their side. We are about $1,000 in the hole.

"We think it is only necessary to state this condition of affairs to those interested in game protection and the preservation of song and insectiverous birds, in order that they may help us who are doing the work. Don't be timid about sending a small amount—every little helps—nor afraid of giving too much. We can use every cent we can get.

"The collection of the fund has been given to me, and I will be very glad to receive checks."

READY FOR PLANS.

Proposed Changes of Wilkinsburg Grade Crossings Sent to Chief Engineer Brown.

Surveys of the relative situation of the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad at Wilkinsburg and the streets of the borough crossed by the railroad at grade have been sent to Chief Engineer W. H. Brown. The proposition to the borough which is to be made by the railroad company for the abolition of the dangerous crossings is expected in the near future.

While the Wilkinsburg improvement is the one most needed at present it is not the only grade-crossing abolition that the management of the Pennsylvania railroad has in sight on the Pittsburgh division. The work at Latrobe will be completed shortly, when every grade-crossing in that town will have been removed. There is one grade-crossing in Greensburg, and at the towns of Larimer, Penn, Manor, and probably others west of Altoona work of this kind will be done as soon as the plans can be made and the appropriations obtained. On all new work of the Pennsylvania, both east and west of Pittsburgh, no grade-crossings are allowed.

ROACH AFTER ALLEN.

Detective Was In Steubenville Yesterday Looking for Supposed Slayer of King Woman.

The Pittsburgh detectives are still looking for the slayer of Achsah King, who was murdered on July 23 in Curran's saloon at Sixth and Wylie avenues. Detective John Roach is in Steubenville, O., looking for a river man named Joseph Allen, who is suspected of having committed that crime. Superintendent of Detectives Philip Demmel said that he was certain that Operative Roach would arrest his man and have him in this city by the end of the week. Detective Roach may have to go to Chicago to apprehend his man, as Allen is supposed to have left Steubenville for that place.

There are several detectives working on another clue in this city. Detective William McElroy spent the entire day yesterday investigating the local end of the murder. Superintendent Demmel is certain that Detective Roach has the necessary evidence to arrest Allen if he encounters him and make information against him.

THE FRIARS MUST GO.

President Roosevelt Plainly Tells Prelates Why It Is Necessary.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Aug. 4.—President Roosevelt is thoroughly satisfied that the Philippine friars have not the confidence of the natives. It is his wish, therefore, to have withdrawn from the archipelago the friars now there to whom the people will pay no heed, and to see them replaced with good men—as many from America as possible—to whom the natives will listen and in whom they will have confidence. This he told today to Archbishop Ryan and Bishop Whipple, who called upon him.

Whitelaw Reid and Mrs. Reid were guests today of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt.

SIX-DAY BATTLE LOST BY REBELS ON THE ISTHMUS

News Comes from Insurgent Officers Fleeing from Agua Dulce.

FORCES ARE DESERTING

A Colombian Gunboat Missing and a United States Warship Starts Out to Find Her—Was Attacked, but Escaped.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Panama, Colombia, Aug. 4.—Telegraphic communication with San Carlos was re-established this afternoon and at 5 o'clock Gen. Salazar received a telegram from San Carlos saying that some revolutionary officers belonging to the forces under Gen. Herrera had passed that town in flight. They reported the defeat of the revolutionists at Agua Dulce. This news has not been confirmed.

The United States cruiser Ranger, it is reported, has gone to Agua Dulce to bring the wounded back to Panama. Definite news of the engagement is expected when she returns.

The government gunboat Boyaca, which is missing, left here last Tuesday with reinforcements for Gen. Morales Berti, who is located near the port of Agua Dulce. She was attacked by the revolutionary fleet and obliged to retreat. Since that time nothing has been heard of the Boyaca, but, being faster than the revolutionary gunboat Padilla, she is believed to have escaped. The Boyaca's rudder was recently found to be in bad order and the repairs made to it were conducted rapidly and not very thoroughly.

Gen. Salazar, governor of Panama, is of the opinion that some accident has happened to the gunboat which has left her helpless at sea or stranded on the coast of some island.

United States Consul General Gudger and Capt. Potter of the United States cruiser Ranger have sent cable dispatches to Washington asking permission, for the sake of humanity, for the Ranger to search for the Boyaca. This permission has been granted. There are over 300 men on board the Colombian gunboat, and Gen. Salazar hopes the Ranger will be permitted to go to their rescue.

The government gunboat Chucuito, which was sent from here with ammunition for Gen. Morales Berti, could not deliver her cargo because the post of Agua Dulce had been captured by the revolutionists. Water communication between the government troops at Agua Dulce and Panama, consequently, is interrupted.

A government officer who was captured by the revolutionists in January of this year during a previous battle at Agua Dulce has escaped from Gen. Herrera's camp and reached Panama. He reports that many revolutionists are deserting, partly because they are forced to fight against members of their own political party, as well as on account of the heavy losses the revolutionists are said to have sustained every day since the beginning of this battle.

Gen. Salazar, military governor of Panama, today told your correspondent that if Gen. Herrera's forces were not defeated within five days he would march with all the forces he has in Panama to attack the revolutionary leaders' rear guard.

ON WATER QUESTION.

Citizens of Mt. Oliver Will Hold a Meeting Tonight—General Gathering Later.

There will be a meeting of the people of Mt. Oliver tonight to protest against the quality and quantity of water furnished by the Chartiers Water Company. The meeting will be at McKinley park, so that all persons may attend and take part.

The Hilltop board of trade is acting in this matter in an aggressive manner. Letters have been sent to all of the boroughs supplied by the Chartiers company asking them to co-operate and see that the water company is forced to comply with its contract, which the citizens say is being continually violated, as either no water or a poor quality is furnished.

It is proposed at the meeting tonight to arrange and set the date for a meeting at which representatives from all of the boroughs supposed to receive Chartiers water will be present.

CROWDS CHEER NUNS.

The Sisters Refuse to Open School Doors to French Police Until Walls Are Battered In.

CHAMBERY, FRANCE, Aug. 4.—Crowds made demonstrations in two neighboring townships today against commissaries of police who were closing schools conducted by nuns. The tocsin was rung and the sisters who refused to open their doors to the commissaries were cheered by the people.

The police were obliged to make breaches in the walls of the buildings, whereupon the sisters, amid the cheers of their sympathizers, left by the front doors.

OFF FOR THE LAKES.

Iron City Fishing Club Party Enjoys Another Fast Run.

The Iron City Fishing club, one of the largest fishing clubs of the city, started yesterday on the annual hegira to its mecca, Penetang, in the Muskoka lake region. Just 136 members are enjoying the outing this year. The party occupied a special train of four day coaches over the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, leaving at 1 p. m., in charge of City Passenger Agent George H. Thompson.

The train was taken to Youngstown, O., in an hour and 34 minutes, which is a good fast run, but not a record run. In former years this party has made records on the Lake Erie. From Youngstown the route is over the Lake Shore to Buffalo, and thence over the Grand Trunk to the reserve in Ontario. The club was formed 21 years ago by a number of ministers of this vicinity, but lay members now outnumber the ministers.

MUST PAY PITTSBURGH RATE.

Gas Companies Supplying Near Towns Demand a Uniform Price.

Suburban patrons of the Ft. Pitt Gas Company and the Manufacturers Light & Heat Company have been notified that after the reading of the meters this month the base price of gas will be uniformly 25 cents the 1,000 feet when paid within 10 days after the first of the month. This is the Pittsburgh rate. Up to this time the rate has been 25 cents the 1,000 feet, subject to a discount of 2½ cents if paid in 10 days. In some localities the rate has been lower.

Among the towns affected by the price advance will be Avalon, Ben Avon, Glenfield, Emsworth and Coraopolis, supplied by the Manufacturers company and patrons of the same towns and boroughs and Carrick and Lower St. Clair township, supplied by the Ft. Pitt company.

PERSONALS.

J. E. Simons, till recently superintendent of rolling stock and machinery for the Pittsburgh Coal Company and now secretary and treasurer of the new Hunt Foundry and Machine Company, was surprised last night at his home, No. 349 Graham street, by a committee of seven representing the 350 men in his department in the coal company. Chief Clerk W. G. Hall, in a neat speech, seconded by W. C. Melson, storekeeper at the Montour shops, presented Mr. Simons with a handsome gold watch as a token of the good feeling in their relations of some years past. Mr. Simons revealed his surprise as much as his pleasure in accepting the gift. He and his family leave today for a rest at Chautauqua, after which Mr. Simons will take up his new work with the Hunt Foundry and Machine Company.

Francis Murphy, the greatest temperance apostle since the days of the celebrated priest, the Rev. Father Matthews, left Pittsburgh last night to visit his son "Ned," in Cincinnati and spend a week with his beloved ones. Before taking the train he regaled himself with a glass of milk, in which he invited the reporters to participate. "I am going to Cincinnati to see Ned," he said, "and later will go to California to take up my temperance work. I will spend a week with Ned and his family, after which I will go to Indianapolis, where I will speak to the 'Murphy boys' and call on a host of my friends. I will then journey to Janesville, Wis., and from there go to White Water, to see my son, William J. and his family, after which I will go to Los Angeles, Cal., where I will begin my temperance work on the first Sunday in September. This is my itinerary for the present, but it may be lengthened out as the season advances. My visit to Pittsburgh has been one of exceeding pleasure. I have had a delightful visit with my children and friends. I have renewed my youth, increased my strength, and I have never been so happy in God's service helping to emancipate his children from the thraldom of sin. I am loth to turn away from Pittsburgh, the city of my love and home. I hope, in the near future, to come again, and as my heart is so full in leaving the loving and generous people of Pittsburgh, I can only say 'God be with you till we meet again.'"

Judge J. B. Neal of Kittanning was a visitor in the city last night. He accompanied one of his neices to Union station to see her comfortably fixed on her return to school in the east. The judge was loth to talk on the political situation, but finally thawed out enough to predict Pennypacker's election as governor. "I was originally an Elkin man," he said, "but the nomination of Judge Pennypacker settled my convictions, as it did the Republicans of Armstrong county. Mr. Elkin is the soul of honor and can afford to wait, as he is a sure winner when things become settled. I am personally acquainted with Judge Pennypacker, both as a jurist and a citizen. He commands the respect of all men in the state, and will carry Armstrong county by a large majority. We have had a fight on our county ticket, but it will amount to very little, as we have settled our differences. We are all for the ticket as nominated, and I think the votes will declare our unanimity when counted. Ex-Gov. Pattison has many warm friends in Armstrong county, in both political parties, but friendship and votes are different things in a hot political fight. I am personally acquainted with George W. Guthrie, whose father was born in Kittanning, the county seat of Armstrong county. I know him personally as a gentleman and a good lawyer."

The Rev. W. D. Irons, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of McDonalds, Pa., passed through Pittsburgh to Northfield, Mass., last night to attend the general conference of the Christian Workers, now in session at that place. The session will last several days and will be addressed by a number of the leading ministers of the world. Among those who will attend the conference and make addresses are the Rev. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, the Rev. Dr. F. B. Meyer of London, the Rev. Dr. C. I. Schofield of Chicago and the Rev. Dr. Henry G. Weston, president of the Crozier Theological seminary of West Chester, Pa.

Bradford Merrill, managing editor of the New York World, passed through Pittsburgh last night to Yellowstone park. He said he was on a three weeks' vacation, had left the cares of his onerous position behind him, and hiked up and down the platform at a 10-mile gait while his train was being made up.

S. Suzuki of Tokio, Japan, who is making a tour of the world, is a guest at the Hotel Duquesne.

E. G. Constantine of Manchester, England, who is on a visit to this country inspecting the plants of the United States Steel Corporation, is at the Hotel Duquesne.

Count Camille Mercader, chief draughtsman of the Carnegie Steel Company, was a passenger east last night. He sails tomorrow for Europe to be gone seven weeks on business for the company.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the hotels last night were the following persons from nearby towns:

Griswold—P. Canning, Parkers, Pa.; E. M. Mentzer, Connellsville, Pa.

KILLS BROWN WOLF.

J. H. Knight, a Farmer Living Near Washington, Pa., Bags Queer Game.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—J. H. Knight of Centerville borough discovered a brown wolf while cutting alders a few days ago, and being armed only with a hoe had a hard battle. A dog came to his assistance and later a neighbor and his son appeared with a gun and the wolf was shot.

This is the first wolf seen in Centerville borough in the memory of any of the present residents.

Nelsen-Vanderbilt Engagement.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 4.—The engagement of Reginald Vanderbilt and Miss Cathleen Gebhard Nelsen was formally announced this afternoon by cards sent out by Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, mother of the young man, and by Mrs. Frederick Nelsen, mother of the prospective bride. The couple has been generally considered as engaged for some time.

New Jersey Coroner Loses Case.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 4.—William M. Wells of Burlington, N. J., coroner of Burlington county, was struck by lightning and instantly killed while fishing in Absecon bay this afternoon. His wife and daughter were with him and both of them were severely shocked.

SHERIFF ASKS THE GOVERNOR FOR STATE AID

Strikers Tearing Up Tracks To Stop Running of Street Cars at Cattlettsburg.

GUARDS ARE SWORN IN

Fear Dynamite Will Be Used on Bridge Across Big Sandy—Settlement Is Reached at Ironton—Boycott Threatened at Huntington.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Catletsburg, Ky., Aug. 4.—The situation is so serious here that Sheriff Haney has called upon Gov. Beckham for troops. The governor answered over long-distance telephone, saying that the troops would be sent only upon the order of Circuit Judge S. G. Kinner of this city. Judge Kinner refuses to grant the order and says the sheriff must swear in more deputies and try and disperse the strikers. An angry crowd of 30 men is in the lower end of the city tearing up the track and otherwise destroying the companies' property.

A bap-hazard schedule has been in effect today, but the passengers carried were very few. Outside the city limits the rails are coated with soft soap and ties and other debris piled upon the tracks. The street car officials are offering big money for guards and are having them all sworn in as deputy sheriffs. The guards are placed at short intervals along the track, as serious trouble is anticipated tonight. A big force of men is guarding the bridge across Big Sandy here, as they fear an attempt will be made to blow it up with dynamite. Public sympathy seems to be with the strikers.

Settlement at Ironton.

IRONTON, O., Aug. 4.—There was no repetition today of the exciting scenes of Sunday, and the street cars, manned exclusively by union men working under the agreement reached at an early hour this morning for recognition of the union, have had their usual traffic without the slightest evidence of disorder. The terms of the agreement, while not entirely satisfactory to all the strikers owing to a clause admitting of the employment of non-union labor to fill vacancies, was abided by today, but tonight there are reports of a renewal of the strike in the morning.

At Ashland no cars have been run since early this afternoon, and strike leaders declare the company, instead of offering the same terms accorded the Ironton men, made a proposition to recognize the union and use their own discretion about reinstatement of discharged employes, or vice versa. This was refused and an appeal made to Ironton to tie up the line until the company acceded to the demands of the upper divisions.

Quiet at Huntington.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Aug. 4.—This has been a rather quiet day in the street car strike on the Camden Interstate railway. The company has been running cars on schedule time all day with non-union men, but few people have been riding, many of the laboring men walking from two to three miles to their homes rather than patronize the cars. A monster mass meeting of labor unions was held here tonight, and it is probable that a boycott will be declared against anyone riding on the cars of the company.

MAYSVILLE, KY., Aug. 4.—M. M. McCoon, treasurer of the Camden Interstate Electric railway, was here today and secured nine men and took them to Huntington to guard the cars. The men are promised $14 a week and steady employment after the strike is over.

UNIONTOWN'S SUNDAY.

Blue Laws Being Enforced and Ice Factory Closes—Boothblacks Must Not Work.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The Sunday laws are being enforced here. Burgess Rutter originally got after the foreigners selling at their stands all day Sunday and gradually the cigar stores were closed, and on their complaint the hotels were notified to stop selling cigars. Soda water sellers were next fined.

Yesterday the ice factory remained closed and made no deliveries. A lot of boothlacks were called before the burgess this morning and were let off on promise to offend no more. One soda fountain dispensed beverage free, but others are said to have sold yesterday. Several merchants paid fines last Sunday and appealed to court to recover.

IS A RELIGIOUS DUTY.

Dr. Swallow Declares Every Man Should Go to Polls and Vote.

WARREN, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The Prohibitionists of Warren county held a rally here today with an attendance of about 7,000. Dr. Silas C. Swallow, J. T. Brennan of Warren and H. A. Pinney of Sheffield, candidates for governor, state senator and assembly respectively, were among the speakers.

Dr. Swallow in his addresses said he did not wish to tramp on any one's corns in setting forth his political views, but with him politics was a religious duty, and thought a man should go to the polls religiously.

Innocent Man in Prison.

DENVER, COL., Aug. 4.—On his deathbed William Thompson of Vilas, Baca county, has confessed that he killed his son Benjamin, aged 13, and that Zeb. Nicholson, who was convicted of having murdered the boy and is serving a sentence of 10 to 20 years in the penitentiary, is entirely innocent.

NEGROES STRIKE BECAUSE IT'S HOT

METROPOLIS, ILL., Aug. 4.—On two big Cincinnati and Memphis steamers, which passed here today on their way down the Ohio river, was witnessed the spectacle of white men working as rousters, a sight, rivermen say, not seen since long before the civil war. The negro rousters are all striking, not so much for higher wages, as because of the hot weather and heavy wheat shipments.

MANY MINOR ACCIDENTS.

Employes of Homestead Steel Mills Had Bad Day.

Minor accidents at the Homestead steel works were numerous yesterday. E. A. Norton, a millwright, was painfully injured by a large cylinder falling on him while he was packing it in one of the engine rooms.

An explosion of babbit metal in the armor plate department was responsible for two men being seriously burned about their heads and face. They were John Good of Munhall and Wren Crest of Homestead. They were taken to their homes after their injuries were dressed.

Patrick H. O'Neil of No. 107 Ann street, Homestead, while unloading material at the armor plate mills, was caught under a large beam which fell from a car.

William Kirkland of Heisel street, Homestead, had his right foot badly burned by a splash of hot metal in the open hearth department.

James Donovan of Braddock, an employe of the foundry department, was seriously burned about the arms, face and body by an explosion of gas which he was attempting to light at the foundry early yesterday morning.

Derrick Falls On Boy.

LATROBE, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Long Engle of Dorothy was taken to the Westmoreland hospital in a critical condition with his right leg off and his left leg broken. The lad was swinging on an old derrick at St. Vincent's crossing when it broke and fell on him.

BIG CLEANING OUT SALE J. C. CALDWELL PIANO STOCK

Special Sale of All These Fine Instruments Began on Monday Morning, August 4, at Ambuhl Bros., 622 Penn Ave.—One-Third to One-Half Below Regular Prices.

RARE BARGAINS FOR 10 DAYS ONLY

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 1, 1902.

After having been in the music business in Pittsburgh for the past eight years, business interests necessitate my moving to another city, and I have this day sold to Ambuhl Bros., for cash, my entire stock of pianos and organs.

Signed, J. C. CALDWELL.

As will be noted from the above statement, Ambuhl Bros., of 622 Penn avenue, have purchased the entire stock of pianos and organs of Mr. J. C. Caldwell, who was for many years in this business on South Highland avenue, Pittsburgh, other business interests having necessitated his moving to another city.

This stock of pianos and organs being quite large, and Ambuhl Bros. themselves having their usual large stock on hand, they find their store to be not large enough to accommodate all, and sell in the usual way, so began on Monday morning, August 4, with a special clearing sale, offering the goods as they bought them, far below their real value.

Many instruments from their own stock are also offered at cut prices during this special sale, as their fall stock, which is already ordered, will soon begin to arrive.

This, therefore, will be a record-breaking sale, not only in the remarkably low prices at which the instruments will be sold, but the high class of goods offered, and the very short time in which they have to sell them.

All must be over in ten days.

The instruments that are offered at this sale, as they were bought, at about half their real value, comprise some of the best known makes of pianos and organs in the market, both new and second-hand. Some are entirely new; some only shopworn, and some second-hand.

The stock comprises Weber, Chickering Bros., Hallet & Davis, Kranich & Bach, Wheelock, A. B. Chase, Haines Bros., Christie & Co., Kittel, Draper Bros., Light & Co., and Livingston.

The most fastidious can certainly find an instrument to their liking in all this array of famous makes.

Cash buyers will find this the opportunity they have been looking for, but easy payments will also be accepted.

Fine new pianos that sell in the regular way for $250, $300 and $350, are going in this sale for $167, $198 to $234.

Parties having children they would like to start in music this fall, but do not like to risk much money on the experiment, not being sure whether they will take to it or not, will find this an excellent opportunity.

Some good, full-size, Eastern made pianos, with full iron frames, Boston fallboard, and duet music desks, are going for $137. They will stand comparison with any pianos in the city at $250.

Excellent instruments can be secured in this sale on the down payment of $25, and $10 monthly payments, and some as low as $20 down and $8 per month.

Magnificent new, high-grade pianos, the best makes the world affords, that sell regularly for $450, $500, and $600, will be sold here during the next ten days for $310, $337, to $385.

It is well known that there are no better pianos than the Hallet & Davis, Weber, Chickering Bros., and Kranich & Bach. They are among the best the world over.

A second-hand Chickering upright, that will do very well for a beginner, will go for $120.

Good square pianos in excellent condition, of some of the very best makes, are going for $35, $45, $60 to $90, $10 down, and $5 per month, takes these.

The stock of organs included in this stock is large and varied. Some of the oldest and best makes being included. They are going at $22, $28, $34, $45, $68 to $95.

Entirely new $65 organs, with high top and mirror are going for $34.50.

Payments of from $6 to $10 down, and $4 and $5 per month, will buy any of these organs.

It is essential that parties intending to take advantage of this sale, should remember that it began on Monday, August 4, and lasts only ten days.

BURGLARY AND ROBBERY SWEEP THE TWO CITIES

Awful Record of Crime That Was Made in Two Weeks.

CITIZENS AT THEIR MERCY

While Some of the Best Detectives Are Idle, Houses Are Entered and Plundered, and Respectable Citizens Beaten and Robbed.

Another epidemic of burglary, robbery and holdups, not equaled by the brief period when the Biddle gang was in its prime, is in full sway in Pittsburgh and the surrounding towns. Within the past two weeks no less than 30 burglaries have been reported in this section, in addition to scores of holdups and trifling robberies.

This number does not include dozens of others, the reports from which are locked up in the police department and not given out to the newspapers. The financial loss runs far up into the thousands of dollars, the cash secured by the burglaries made public totaling almost $5,000. This does not include jewelry, silverware and other valuables that would probably double the amount at least, nor does it include the loot secured by petty thieves, who are working every day on the cars and the streets, nor the plunder wrested from peaceable citizens by highwaymen, who seem to infest every dark alleyway in the two cities and their surrounding towns.

Detectives Idle.

At the same time it is a fact well known at the Public Safety building that some of the most capable detectives on the force have been practically without assignments for weeks past. While their brothers are engaged on false scents of murderers they have been relegated to the background and compelled to sit idly about and wait to be sent out on a case.

As yet the only two of the murderers who made any strong effort to escape are still at large and the citizens of Pittsburgh are being beaten and assaulted by highwaymen, robbed by sneak thieves and plundered by burglars, all of whom seem to carry on their modern forms of piracy without fear of the police or detectives.

Two Weeks of Crime.

Beginning with the burglary of Philip Finzgibbons' saloon on July 21, when the burglar secured $860 in cash, continuing through various other robberies, including the looting of houses in all sections of the city, to yesterday, when a robbery of $200 worth of jewelry and silverware was discovered in McKeesport and four burglaries were reported in this city and Allegheny, the reports have been coming in at the rate of three and four a day.

A few of the thieves, nearly all amateurs, have been captured mainly through the suspicions of the plundered citizens, but the perpetrators of two-thirds of the crimes are still at large and plying their trade as vigorously as ever.

The appended list, consisting solely of burglaries, published even in the organs which support the administration of the police department, will give a slight idea of the daring and impunity with which robbers and burglars are working in our midst:

PYTHIANS' OUTING TODAY.

Big Preparations Made for Their Entertainment at Kennywood.

The annual outing of the Knights of Pythias will be held at Kennywood park today. The traction people expect that it will be one of the big days of the year, and they have made extra arrangements to care for the people who will attend the picnic. For years the members of the order have been talking of a home for widows and orphans. All that is made today at the picnic will go to the fund, and the committee feels if there is a good start made the members throughout this section will feel like giving to help swell the amount.

There are 52 lodges in Allegheny county and about 75 in Western Pennsylvania, and representatives are expected from all of them. The Pythian sisterhood will be well represented. It is expected that a number of candidates of the Citizens party will attend the picnic and take it as an opportunity to shake hands with the voters. Teams of baseball of the Iona lodge of Verona and the Oakland lodge of Pittsburgh will play a game. There will also be races of various kinds and all kinds of games. Something funny will be the "tug of war" between two lodges.

A Popular Trip of Pleasure and Enjoyment.

The Pennsylvania railroad will run another of their popular seashore excursions Thursday, August 7, leaving Union station, Pittsburgh, at 8:55 a. m., with through parlor cars and day coaches to Atlantic City without change, via Delaware river bridge. Through sleeping cars attached to train leaving Pittsburgh at 7:10 p. m., 9 p. m., to Philadelphia only. Tickets also available for numerous other seashore resorts. Rate, $10; tickets good for 10 days. Berths in sleeping cars on evening train can now be procured at ticket office, corner Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, or at Union station.

Big Rush for Gas.

Hundreds of people are taking advantage of the generous offer of the Philadelphia Company to make free connections and set meter free of charge to all who apply for natural gas now. Ordinances prohibit the tearing up of streets in winter. Gas is the poor man's luxury. Cheaper, cleaner and better than coal. No ashes to haul out. If you're not burning gas now ask for information at office, 810 Wood street.

WILL TAKE APPEAL ON VACCINATION

HENRY C. HOCHMEISTER CONVICTED BEFORE ALDERMAN TOOLE.

Refused to Submit to Municipal Inoculation—Student Wished to Operate on Him—Similar Case to be Heard Friday by Same Alderman.

The suit of Henry C. Hachmeister of 2313 Fifth avenue, against whom a test case was filed by the bureau of health before Alderman S. J. Toole, because he would not submit to vaccination, or allow the members of his family to undergo the operation, was decided, after a hearing yesterday morning by the alderman, against the defendant, who was fined $5 and costs, the minimum penalty. Hachmeister will carry the case to a higher court.

Supt. Pitcairn of the bureau of health was represented by Attorney A. C. Robertson, while the defendant had his interests in the hands of Attorney A. S. Moorhead. A. Green, a sanitary inspector, testified that he had notified the Hachmeister family that there was several cases of smallpox in their neighborhood, and that they must all be vaccinated before July 16, but that the order was not complied with for the reason that it was stated that Mr. Hachmeister would not permit it, as he did not believe in vaccination.

H. J. Benz, a student of the West Penn Medical college, who was employed by the city to vaccinate city patients; Dr. T. F. Moore, assistant to Dr. E. J. Matson, city physician, and Dr. Matson were also examined as witnesses for the city, and testified that vaccination was absolutely necessary for the health of the city, especially in this case, where smallpox was epidemic in the neighborhood of their residence.

Attorney Moorhead, for the defense, stated that he had no evidence to offer, and admitted that the defendant had refused to be vaccinated; but he insisted that it is one's right to refuse on the same ground that he could refuse to have his leg cut off, and that there was no law to compel one to submit to such treatment.

Attorney Robertson contended that the bureau of health was only acting under the strict interpretation of the law which it was its duty to enforce, and as there are a number of other cases of the same description now pending, he desired the matter to be settled once and for all. He said that the city had no desire to prosecute Mr. Hachmeister, but that if the alderman would impose the minimum fine, a test case could be made to decide the rights of the city in the future. The alderman then imposed the fine of $5 and costs.

The case of J. T. Rodgers of 5131 Ladora street, which is similar to that of Hachmeister, will come before Alderman Toole on Friday morning.

"THE GRAND DUCHESS" POPULAR AS EVER

Offenbach's Tuneful Opera, Splendidly Sung, Was Received With Enthusiasm by Audience.

The Duquesne garden stock company presented Offenbach's delightful opera bouffe, "The Grand Duchess," last evening to one of the usual large Monday night audiences, and the old favorite, which has seldom been heard here in late years, received a most enthusiastic welcome. It was mounted in the customary excellent taste of the management of this popular place of amusement, and the cast was in full accord with the capabilities of the various artists. There are few lovers of music who are not familiar with this most tuneful of all this great composer's works, and the audience last evening responded enthusiastically to the meritorious efforts of the company and the orchestra.

John J. Martin, as General Boum, the commander-in-chief of the army of the Grand Duchess, was decidedly humorous, and easily carried the greater part of the comedy, while his singing was also much enjoyed. Miss Edith Mason, in the role of the Grand Duchess, was in excellent voice, and as usual sang most acceptably. Miss May Carrington, as Wanda, was pretty and graceful and rendered her solos charmingly. Thomas H. Persse, as Fritz, the soldier, who is raised from a private to the rank of general at the sudden whim of the Grand Duchess, and then as suddenly discharged from the army through the connivance of the scheming courtiers, had a keen sense of the comicalities of the situation and greatly amused the audience, while at the same time he delighted all with his splendid singing. The other characters were well taken and gave evident satisfaction. The chorus, which has been highly commended all season, had every reason to be proud of their work. The costumes were handsome and the opera throughout was given with exceedingly good taste and splendor.

The Jacksons appeared in an artistic athletic act in the Palm garden at the close of the opera, and many lingered to witness their extraordinary performance.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—The Rev. Oscar Lee Owens, pastor of the First Baptist church, has resigned on account of poor health.

BLAIRSVILLE, PA.—John X. Yager of Vandergrift, a brakeman, was killed in the yards here while coupling cars this afternoon.

UNIONTOWN, PA.—D. B. Furman of Pittsburgh, W. Va., lost his life by jumping off a trolley car here Sunday after his hat. He fell on his head.

SHARON, PA.—The fire department at South Sharon cleared over $600 on the street fair held last week. The company will buy new fire apparatus.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Mrs. Michael Seovel, while picking coal in the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie yards at Hazleton, was struck by a freight train and killed.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—The next annual convention of the National Association of Blast Furnace Workers will be held the first Tuesday in October at Buffalo.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—W. C. Reilly, auditor and acting superintendent of the Youngstown Iron Sheet & Tube Company, has been made general superintendent of the big works.

SHARON, PA.—President John Stevenson of the Sharon Steel company denied the report emanating from Columbus, O., that the Sharon tin mills are to be removed to that place.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA.—Every company of the National Guard of West Virginia is in camp here tonight, about 900 men in all. They arrived this afternoon and by night all the tents were up.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Alexander Annett died yesterday at the Shenango Valley hospital as the result of a fall at the Raney furnace. He dropped from a scaffold and fractured his skull.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—The Rev. Dr. J. M. Loyd, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist temple of this city, has received a call to the pastorate of the Freedom (N. Y.) Baptist church, where he was formerly located.

OIL CITY, PA.—While suffering from temporary abberation caused by heat prostration, George Weigley, a Rouseville constable, attempted suicide, shooting himself in the left side with a revolver. He will recover.

CUMBERLAND, MD.—The Pennsylvania Sand & Glass Company of Pittsburgh has purchased the plant of the Hancock White Sand Company, on the West Virginia side of the Potomac, near Hancock, and has taken possession.

ROCHESTER, PA.—Logan & Moulds, general contractors and dealers in coal and stone, have made an assignment to George H. Coleman. The assignee's bond is fixed at $50,000. It is understood that the firm has assets sufficient to cover its liabilities.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Developments today indicate that the Greer plant of the American Tin Plate Company will close this week for an indefinite period, following the action of the members of Pride of New Castle Amalgamated lodge in refusing to accept the 25 per cent wage reduction asked for.

NO HONEST MAN TAKES CHANCES ON STATEMENTS

Catholic Editors Should Have More Care in Discussing Friars, Says Byrne.

NO WRONG IS INTENDED

Have Simply Accepted False Report as True—Prominent Laymen Defends Government Position at Knights of Columbus Banquet.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 4.—William Michael Byrne, United States attorney for Delaware, responded to the toast, "Some Issues of the Hour." He gave a vigorous discourse on the relations of church and state in the Philippines. Mr. Byrne spoke of the action of the Knights of Columbus of Delaware and throughout the country in protesting against the misrepresentation of Catholic interests in certain recent publications, and held that as Catholics demanded from Protestants the strictest veracity in the printed word, so they, in turn, should observe these strict standards when treating of topics affecting the conduct of their Protestant fellow-countrymen.

"I believe," said Mr. Byrne, "that no Catholic editor in America would allow to appear in his paper any statement of a fact as true which he knows to be false. But this is not enough. No scrupulously honest man states a thing as a fact which he does not know to be true; and I regret to observe that the statements appearing in the Catholic press charging the government with proselyting in the Philippines were made without the care of investigation which the gravity of the charge demanded."

Majority Are Catholics.

Mr. Bryne stated that it was not true that numerous Protestant clergymen were employed as public school teachers in the Philippine islands, and showed that there are about 3,500 Catholic teachers in the Philippine schools.

"Surely," said Mr. Byrne, "with our Catholic teachers outnumbering the Protestants three to one, with the young Filipino already grounded in the practices of Catholic faith, with an adequate allowance of time to Catholic priests to give these school children in the school rooms instruction in the doctrines of the Catholic religion, it betrays a somewhat conscious weakness of our cause if we frantically accuse the government of systematic proselytism because a small proportion of the teachers in the Philippines happen to be Protestants."

Having shown the safety of Catholicism under the school system in the Philippines Mr. Byrne proceeded to discuss the transition of the church there from a state-aided institution to one free, independent and untrammelled.

"While American Catholics," said Mr. Byrne, "will welcome the separation of the church from the state in the Philippines, it must be done in such a way as not to injure the church in the exercise of her spiritual functions."

Character of Buencamino.

"The personnel of the governing class in the Philippines must not be so constituted as to produce in the mind of the Filipino the conviction that he must become a Protestant in order to become a member of the ruling class. The career of the truculent Buencamino proves how vital this question is; and in selecting its governing class in the Philippines the American government with its fundamental equipoise between all shades of religion must not make such selection as may operate as a Protestant propaganda among a people now exclusively Roman Catholic. This phase of the question will, I am sure, receive the attention of our government which will not fail to accord to the American Catholic his appropriate participation in the magnificent work of planting liberty of the American brand in the Philippine islands for the benefit of the Catholic Filipinos.

"Much has been said in this country about the Spanish friars in the Philippines, but happily the American government has expressly disclaimed any participation in the accusations made against our religious orders there.

No Injustice to Friars.

"Unlike England, unlike Spain, unlike Mexico, unlike most every other country dealing with the question of monastic possessions the American government proposes that the change demanded by the times shall work no injustice to the friars. The condition of affairs in the Philippines demands that the friars no longer be extensive landlords. Their boundless acres ought to be divided into small homestead lots for the benefit of the Filipino people who would thus receive that impulse to industry and frugality arising from individual ownership of property.

"This is identical in principle with the Irish land problem. The Roman Catholic bishops in Ireland unanimously demand that the English government compel the Irish landlords to sell their vast estates to Irish peasants on fair terms and what American Catholic can complain if the American government voluntarily does for the Catholic Filipino what the Irish Catholic bishops demand shall be done by the English government for the Irish peasants."

EFFORT TO DELAY START.

Executives of Burns' Window Glass Workers Want a Late Start.

The Burns organization of window glass workers, the old local assembly No. 300, Knights of Labor, will delay as long as possible the starting of the factories. Notice was sent to all prospective workers yesterday that the executive board had decided that no scale of wages be given to any set of workmen or to any company till a majority of the producing interests working under the scale of this organization is ready to work. It is also declared by the board that any violation of this edict will fall outside of the organization.

This will in no way affect the start in most of the factories of the Independent Glass Company, operating under the Denny scale. The start of these is now being arranged for September 1.

New West Virginian Railroad.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Aug. 4.—The Elk River, Falling Rock & Gauley Railway Company was incorporated here today to construct a railroad from the mouth of Falling Rock creek, in Kanawha county, to the mouth of Twenty-Mile creek, in Nicholas county, W. Va. The headquarters will be at Charleston.

Struck By Train.

LATROBE, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Emmet Rhodes of Bradenville was struck by a train in Saxmans and hurled a distance of 20 feet, receiving injuries that will result fatally. His right arm was so badly crushed that it was amputated at the shoulder. He was taken to the Westmoreland hospital.

ATLANTIC CITY.

Knights of Columbus Celebrate Embarkation Day—Summer White House Project.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The embarkation day reunion of the Knights of Columbus closed tonight with a banquet. About 500 knights and their friends gathered around the tables in the Rudolf. James A. Burns of East Orange, N. J., acted as toastmaster.

Pittsburgh was represented by Frank Smith, editor of the Pittsburgh Catholic, who spoke on the subject "The Future, as Indicated by the Present." Edward L. Hearn of South Farmingham, Mass., spoke on "Our Order." E. A. Phelbin of New York on "The Catholic as a Citizen." National Organizer Thomas H. Cummings on "Columbus in American Citizenship," and George F. Monaghan of Detroit on a theme of his own selection. The principal orator of the evening was William Michael Byrne, United States district attorney of Delaware, who responded to the toast "Some Issues of the Hour."

Rowboats in Avenues.

Another storm swooped down upon Atlantic City this afternoon, soaking hundrededs of visitors and stampeding crowds from the boardwalk. Low-lying avenues were entirely submerged, the water being deep enough to permit passage of rowboats. The seaward side of Atlantic avenue was submerged to nearly the middle of that thoroughfare.

Projected Summer White House.

The proposition to build a cottage here for the use of the president of the United States during the summer, or at any time he desires to occupy it, has been raised. The site favored is a large tract of land owned by the government at Rhode Island and Pacific avenues, near the Absecon lighthouse. The suggestion has been made that citizens petition the government to contribute the site and the citizens pay for the construction and furnishing of the cottage. Several prominent citizens are back of the project.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Wellsboro Lawyer Points Out Strike Leader's Fatal Mistake.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Long before the anthracite strike began the management of Chautauqua placed on the program "Labor Movement Week," and invited prominent men here to discuss the question. That week is now here. Carroll D. Wright, United States labor commissioner, will give a course of five lectures an "Labor and the Law."

The first labor conference was held this morning, when S. J. Strauss, a prominent attorney of Wellsboro, Pa., talked on "Law and Order in Anthracite Regions." He said in part:

"The union of American miners is not new. We have had it before; but not until 1900 was it organized permanently. It is not a thing that came in a night or that can be thrown away in a day; it has come to stay. It is to be reckoned with, and on the way with which it is reckoned depends the future of the union and the position of the mine owner.

"No army was ever under better discipline than the miners' union, and they give implicit obedience to their leaders. Until June 2 the strike was without parallel in history for the peaceful manner in which it was carried on. Then the leaders made a prodigious error in ordering out the pump and steam men, which meant permanent injury and destruction to the mines. This has never been done before in a strike, and the wisdom of the order was questioned by the miners themselves. The order was not obeyed; a division was the result, and the men were separated from the union. Then followed violence, threats and boycott in a measure. I say in a measure, because the majority of the miners disapproved them and took no part in them; but instead of speaking out their disapproval and telling the misdoers that they were injuring their cause, they kept a silence which accused them."

Brainy Hair

Under your loose, thin, falling hair is a brain. Use it. The result? You will use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It checks falling hair, restores color to gray hair, and makes the hair grow. No need of having rough and unruly hair.

"At the age of 20 my hair turned gray and soon grew almost white. After I had been in this embarrassing condition for fifteen years, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and three bottles of it brought back the old color."—M. A. Knight, Baldwin, Mont.

GERMANS READ AN AMERICAN'S WAR PROPHESY

Admiral Taylor's Forebodings Widely Published and Criticised.

LINES FAST CONVERGING

Naval Conflict Expected to Come at the Time When Cuban Republic's Failure and the Isthmian Canal Will Need Attention.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Berlin, Aug. 4.—The utterances attributed to Rear Admiral Taylor of the United States navy, as to a probable conflict between Germany and the United States in 1907, have been printed conspicuously here. The Tageblatt says it requires all the wrongheadedness of a jingo, combined with complete ignorance of European affairs, to imagine that Germany intends to annex the Netherlands. Any German admiral so indiscreet, the Tageblatt continues, would be relieved of his duties immediately.

In a recent dispatch from Washington, Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of navigation, was credited with having given expression to the ideas referred to in the foregoing message from Berlin. Rear Admiral Taylor was described as thoroughly alive to the steady set of a current which is carrying the United States and Germany along converging lines in many parts of the globe and bringing these two nations into closer rivalry elsewhere.

To Rear Admiral Taylor was given the credit of warning the leaders of the United States navy and army that preparations must begin at once, and be vigorously prosecuted from this time forth, for a grave crisis in German-American relations in the spring of 1907.

The time of this crisis is fixed coincident with the most efficient sea power Germany now contemplates—the time when the Panama canal will be occupying much attention in this country, when the Cuban republic may have about reached the end of its tether, when Jamaica and other West Indian islands will be prostrate in bankruptcy, when the Netherlands (according to Admiral Taylor's predictions) will have been absorbed by Germany, leaving Curacao and the other Dutch islands of the Caribbean sea as bones of contention to force a supreme test of the Monroe doctrine.

Work Progressing Rapidly.

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, who with a party of other officials of the road left Saturday to inspect the Brownsville extension, returned yesterday morning. The site of the Brownsville station will be selected in a short time he said yesterday. The new line is progressing rapidly, except at Redstone Junction, where there is heavy work in progress, cutting through stone and changing the course of the creek. It will be late in the fall before the work is completed and the steel laid. The other officials with Col. Schoonmaker were B. C. Vaughn, assistant to the vice president; General Superintendent J. B. Yohe, Chief Engineer J. A. Atwood and L. H. Turner, superintendent of motive power.

Buried Under Fall of Slate.

John Muscatt, 40 years old, a German, was brought to the South Side hospital last evening suffering from a broken back. His spine, hip and ankles are also dislocated. Muscatt is employed at the Willock mines of the Pittsburgh Coal Company. Yesterday afternoon he set off a fuse for a blast, and, as it did not seem to work properly, he went in to make an investigation, when the explosion occurred, causing a fall of coal and slate. He cannot recover.

Kossuth Statue in Doubt.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 4.—The recent action of the board of control of the city granting a committee of Hungarian residents permission to erect a statue to their national hero, Louis Kossuth, was reconsidered tonight. The matter is now referred back to the committee on parks, to confer with a delegation of Hungarians to see if another site can be agreed to.

BOUGHT THE BOYS.

William Nicholson Brings Them from Greece to Shine Shoes and Is Arrested.

WORCESTER, MASS., Aug. 4.—William Nicholson, proprietor of two bootblacking establishments in this city, was arrested and fined $150 in the Central district court today for violating of the child labor law. Nicholson had employed 11 boys, ranging from 13 to 18 years old.

It appears that Nicholson had purchased the services of the boys from their parents in Greece for $125 each and shipped them to this country, where they were kept under a padrone system. Nicholson appealed from the sentence of the court and he was held in bonds of $300.

Coal Property Attached.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Sheriff Greer of Beaver county, Pa., has attached the property of the Beaver Coal Company, located one mile east of Georgetown, in which a number of New York and Western Pennsylvania men are interested. The attachment is for about $1,500. The company was formed about a year ago. Frank Colvert of Beaver, Pa., is one of the main stockholders in the company.

Caught in the Altogether.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—While wandering among the hills of St. Clair township, destitute of clothing, Charles Burbick, aged 27 years, was captured last night by Sheriff Leonard of Lisbon after a three days' chase. Burbick is demented and in 1898 was sent to the Massillon asylum, but was discharged from that institution a year later as cured. Last week he took off his clothing and has been wandering ever since.

Impaled on Pitchfork.

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—D. Mack Goodwin, a farmer of Richhill township, Greene county, fell from a load of hay Saturday and was impaled on a pitchfork. He was taken to the Haskins hospital at Wheeling, but died the same evening.

Kanawha, Charleston, 4 p. m.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. J. D. Curtis left last night for his home in Seneca, W. Va.

During July C. Jutte & Co. shipped south 40 coalboats and 50 barges.

Capt. P. R. Budd's two daughters are summering at Atlantic City.

Capt. W. R. Rodgers and family leave in a few days for Atlantic City.

The towboat Gleaner will be found in port this morning with empties.

P. J. Forsythe is home from Mt. Clemens and a business trip to the south.

Capt. O. A. Agard and family leave tomorrow for the lakes on a two weeks' vacation.

The Mariner arrived in port Sunday night with an empty tow. The Dave Wood is due in port.

The towboat Oakland will soon be ready for service as her boilers are now being put in place.

Capt. G. W. Thomas leaves tonight for Magnetic Springs, where his family is spending the summer.

The City of Savannah ran aground near Paducah on a sand reef at Cottonwood Bar and at last accounts had not been released.

Capt. Samuel S. Brown hopes to be able to go to Saratoga shortly. His varied interests at Pittsburgh, however, keep him busy here.

Charles Cramer of the Jutte & Foley Co. is at Atlantic City with his family and his mother-in-law and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Brokaw.

It is reported that the Alvin Sand Company has purchased the towboat Eliza, owned by the Monongahela people of Bellaire. The sand company has the boat on 10 days' trial.

Heavy rains which fell up the Allegheny river Sunday night are expected to keep the Ohio from falling very fast. There was 5.2 feet of water in the Pittsburgh harbor last night.

The R. L. Aubrey is again in service, having received new boilers, new machinery and a new electric light plant. The Robert Taylor is also again in service. Both are owned by the Jutte interests.

The Ben Hur knocked a hole in her hull by striking a rock at New Cumberland on her last trip to Pittsburgh, but the damage was repaired. The boat took some water but hurried repairs kept her afloat.

Thirteen towboats took the biggest fleets of coal south last month from Louisville that ever went in any one month and they never had such luck. Not a lump of coal was lost nor a boat or barge scratched.

There are several hundred empties in the harbor awaiting to be taken into the pools of the Monongahela to be reloaded with coal. Last month 570 boats and 864 barges of coal were shipped out of Pittsburgh. The total coal tonnage amounted to 1,061,690 tons, the largest month's run in the history of the Ohio river. The total tonnage for the month was 1,123,991 tons.

The New Orleans Picayune says: "The Hon. Louis A. Hymel of the firm of Hadden, Hymel & Co., lessees of the McLellan docks, has filed a protest with Capt. John P. Merrell, commandant of the New Orleans naval station, against the proposed docking in the naval station of the steamer Natchez. Mr. Hymel states that either of his company's docks, the Marine or the Ocean, could lift the Natchez, and as the government dock is to be extended to come in competition with the local docks it is not likely that the regulations governing the operation of the former will be violated in this instance."

Capt. R. R. Abrams of the I. C. Woodward yesterday appeared before the United States local steamboat inspectors and preferred charges against Capt. Frank Gamoe of the Elizabeth, and Pilots Samuel Hendrickson and Irwin Boyd, charging them with violating rules of the marine code. Boyd, who is a pilot, was a passenger on the Elizabeth. Capt. Abrams alleges that on Sunday the Elizabeth pushed his boat ashore in pool No. 9. The officers of the Elizabeth, it was stated by C. P. Foster, manager of the Independent Morgantown line, say that the Woodward has been crowding the Elizabeth on her natural course and on Sunday, the time which the alleged trouble took place, the Woodward's officers would not answer the proper signals, thus leaving the Elizabeth the only alternative of pushing the boat ashore. The facts, however, will be brought out at the hearing. Capt. Abrams in his report states that the Woodward was not damaged, but that there was great excitement among the passengers, who became frightened.

SURVEYING FOR NEW SITE.

Government Engineers Preparing Location for New Dam at Port Perry.

Capt. W. L. Sibert, who has charge of the government improvements on the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, has a corps of surveyers at work on the Monongahela river near Port Perry, surveying a site for the proposed dam to be situated at that place. It will take some times to finish this work and after the site has been chosen it will be necessary to open negotiations for its purchase.

The new lock and dam which will take the place of the present structure at Port Perry, known as Lock No. 2, will be situated about one mile this side of the present structure. It is anticipated that it will take some time probably to secure the site, and it is not known when work will begin on the lock and dam authorized by the passage of the last river and harbor bill.

Congressman T. E. Burton of Cleveland, chairman of the river and harbor committee, will be in Pittsburgh the latter part of August and in company with other members of the committee will make a tour of the Monongahela river in the yacht Troubadour, owned by Capt. Samuel S. Brown. The latter will assist in entertaining the guests. He held a conference yesterday with Capt. John F. Dravo and arranged some of the details.

The visit of the congressmen will be purely a business one. Congressman Burton will be here only a day or two, but Capt. Brown would like to have him and others remain longer so as to take them to the fishing lodges in the Cheat mountains. If the party goes above Brownsville the captain will provide a light draught steamer to convey the visitors to the headwaters of the Monongahela.

THE DEMOCRATIC DIFFERENCES ON TICKET SETTLED

Factional Fights in Third and Sixth Districts Have Been Smoothed.

WILL SUPPORT FUSION

Citizens Committee of 32 Will Meet Tonight and Pennypacker and Brown Will Be Placed at Head of Ticket—Machine Democrats Plot.

The Citizens party's executive committee of 32 will meet this afternoon and carry out the program that was agreed upon by the fusion forces. The program was settled after the conferences with the Democrats in the fusion compact. Judge Samuel Pennypacker, Republican candidate for governor, and William Brown, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, will be nominated by the Citizens party and will head that party's ticket. It is realized by the Democrats that the indorsement of the Republican state candidates is the only thing for the Citizens party to do, for it will inure to the benefit of the county fusion candidates.

The Democrats will vote the Democratic ticket, which will contain the fusion county candidates, headed by Pattison and Guthrie. It is well known that there are many Republicans who are sick and tired of machine rule in Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, yet who would vote the machine county ticket rather than run the risk of losing their vote for Pennypacker and Brown through scratching the ticket. It is to obtain the vote of these thousands that the Citizens party will nominate Pennypacker and Brown. In heading the Citizens party's ticket the name of Pennypacker will thus benefit the fusion county ticket.

Quarrels Are Settled.

The meeting of the Citizens executive committee will be held at 3 p. m. at the Citizens' headquarters in Third avenue. The executive committeemen will there be informed of the good news that all objections offered by certain Democrats to the fusion ticket have been removed, and that the ticket will receive the united support of the Democrats of the county.

In the third legislative district there are two factions of Democrats, the Boyle and Martin factions. The committee appointed by Boyle, as chairman of the legislative convention, yesterday indorsed the fusion ticket, and the Martin faction will indorse it today, abandoning its contention that a Democrat should be on the fusion ticket from that district.

The Martin faction now knows that it was the fault of the Democrats of the Third district that it has no representative on the ticket. Had they not been factionally divided and had they agreed on a candidate, he would have been put on the fusion ticket. The Democratic quota on the legislative end of the fusion ticket was filled by Democrats in other districts.

Machine Democrats Plot.

The committee appointed by the Democrats of the Sixth legislative district to try to secure Democratic representation from that district on the fusion ticket is, it is understood, satisfied with the present conditions and will indorse the ticket, which announcement may be made at today's meeting of the Citizens' executive committee.

The executive committee will prepare an address to the citizens of the county, explaining the issues and showing conclusively that now is the time to dislodge the corrupt machine, masquerading under the name of Republicanism.

The Democrats who for years have prospered by betraying their party for the benefit of the Pittsburgh machine will soon move in the direction of putting up a "ticket" for the purpose of dividing the Democratic vote at the next election. As a blind they will put Pattison and Guthrie at the head of the ticket and nominate the machine county ticket. It is said as a further reward the machine Democrats will be allowed to name a candidate for recorder next year, and that Alderman Stephen Toole, who under oath, testified in the Dauphin county courts that he was a machine Democrat, is to be the beneficiary. Senator William Flinn is a warm friend of Toole, who would suit him as well as any machine Republican for recorder.

Halle Pays the Penalty.

OSSINING, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Aaron Halle was put to death in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison today for the murder of Mary McCarthy, whom he shot and killed in a New York department store on May 17, 1900, because she had refused to marry him. During the third shock Dr. L. Newman of Paterson fainted and was carried from the death chamber.

Filipino Police Whip Fanatics.

MANILA, Aug. 4.—Gov. Bandholtz of Tayabas province has telegraphed Acting Gov. Wright that the combined police forces of five towns attacked and defeated a force under Ruperto Rios, leader of a fanatical Filipino society. Many of Rios' followers were killed or wounded, but only a few of the police were hurt.

Kunkel by Acclamation.

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—George Kunkel, who has served three terms in the house of representatives from the Harrisburg district, was renominated by acclamation by tonight's Republican city convention. He is a friend of Senator Quay.

Historical Edifice Crumbling.

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—The historical building in Frankfort in which the old German emperors were crowned is beginning to crumble. The authorities have ordered that braces be put immediately to save it.

SIAM'S CROWN PRINCE COMING TO IRON CITY

Pittsburgh Included in a Long Itinerary Beginning at New York, Closing at San Francisco.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—Akharay Varadhara, the Siamese minister, has informed the state department that the crown prince of Siam will sail from Cherbourg, September 24, and has furnished the itinerary of the distinguished guest while in the United States.

It is expected that the party will arrive on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse on September 30 or October 1. Probably they will spend three days in New York, including a visit to West Point. The party will go thence to Newport, Boston and Harvard college, arriving in Washington on the morning of October 7. They will go to Philadelphia on the 9th, remaining six days, making a personal visit to William Potter.

On October 16 the prince and his party will start on the main tour of the United States in a special train, going to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Chicago, St. Paul, Yellowstone park, Butte copper mines, Salt Lake City, Glenwood Springs, Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak, Cripple Creek gold mines, Santa Fe, the Indian pueblos of New Mexico, Grand canon of Colorado, Los Angeles, Pasadena wineries, San Diego, Coronado Beach, Santa Barbara, Del-monte, San Jose, Lick observatory, San Francisco and Yosemite. It is probable that the party will sail from San Francisco for the orient.

KAISER AGAINST IT.

Will Not Consent to Reduce His Fine Army Because Less Favored Nations Are Willing.

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—The king of Italy's proposal of a contraction of European armaments is a subject on which the czar and the German emperor undoubtedly will converse at their meeting at Reval, on the occasion of the Russian naval maneuvers. Emperor William almost certainly will give the suggestion no encouragement. His opinion, well known to diplomats, is that disarmament is a dream of the future.

"Germany cannot consent to impair her finest instrument of offense, which is the defense of her existence," he is quoted as saying, "because other nations are unable to equal it. We can stand the expense, and, besides, I consider that the army returns to the nation all that it costs, in discipline of character and wholesome training of the boy."

Seven Brigands Whip 350 Soldiers.

SALONICA, EUROPEAN TURKEY, Aug. 4.—Seven Bulgarian brigands who were surrounded in the village of Volka by 350 Turkish soldiers have escaped uninjured after having killed four soldiers and five villagers. The brigands burned a considerable part of the village.

CONG. H. H. POWERS FROM VERMONT
Says: "I can recommend Peruna as an excellent family remedy and very good for coughs, colds and catarrhal affections."
PERUNA
THE GREAT TONIC
HALF ACTUAL SIZE.

The great popularity of Peruna as a catarrh remedy has tempted many people to imitate Peruna. A great many so-called catarrh remedies and catarrh tonics are to be found in many drug stores. These remedies can be procured by the druggist very much cheaper than Peruna. Peruna can only be obtained at a uniform price and no druggist can get it a cent cheaper.

Thus it is that druggists are tempted to substitute the cheap imitations of Peruna for Peruna. It is done every day without a doubt.

When a patient calls at a drug store to procure some Peruna and the druggist recommends something else that will be just as good, it may be that he does not always recognize the responsibility that he is taking upon himself. Such a substitute is always sure to result in failure.

The claim of Peruna to being the standard catarrh remedy of the world is based upon the following facts:

It has the endorsement of—

Strongest in the World.
Surplus $71,000,000.
The Figures for it.
The Equitable advertises "Strongest in the World"—
And here are the statistics for it—taken from the official statements of the New York Insurance Department—

Ten Years' Record

During the ten years ending January 1, 1902, The Equitable's actual dividend earnings amounted to $62,686,755
$13,000,000 more than the earnings of the next largest company.
During the same period the Equitable apportioned to its policy holders dividends amounting to $26,318,950
More than $3,000,000 more than the next largest company.
And it has remaining for future distribution from these same ten years' earnings
$36,367,805
Over $10,000,000 more than the next largest company.
Is it any wonder that The Equitable has the confidence of the people?
No matter what sort of policy you want—if it's a good one, The Equitable issues it—

The Virgin Alley Widening.

Unless there is a special meeting of the committee, the resolution looking to the widening of Virgin alley, introduced in common council last evening, will be acted upon at the first meeting in September. Once returned from committee, there should be no delay in passing it through both branches, so there shall be no check to the progress of the city.

The only objections that have been made to the project up to date are that it is too local; that it should include the whole length of the alley from Grant to Liberty streets. That objection is not germane. As The Gazette has explained, the prime mover in this matter favors the widening throughout, but moves for the partial widening simply because that may be easily accomplished at present, and the remainder cannot. The widening of one square, however, will make the remainder easier. Property will be purchased and sold with the ultimate improvement in view, and leases will be made on the same basis. At the moment there are long leases that obstruct, which the holders will not relinquish.

On the other hand, if the widening on this one square is not ordered now it may never be accomplished. Two skyscrapers are planned, the one in Wood and the other in Smithfield street. If they are erected to occupy the thirty feet needed for the widening the cost of their removal afterward would be prohibitive. The need of another street is acknowledged by all. The congestion of Fifth avenue is self-evident. So the opposition—the little there is—is purely factitious. The necessity for relief by Virgin alley is the more apparent since objections to the awards in the Diamond alley case are likely to postpone that improvement for several years.

Coal Famine Imminent.

It is a cold outlook in the northwest. The anthracite region strike has prevented the usual summer shipment of coal from that section to the lakes. The inability of the railroads to handle the traffic of the Pittsburgh region is preventing any relief from here. Meantime the coal stocks of the northwest cities have declined to a minimum and there is but a fragment of the lake shipping season left. Unless something is done, and that quickly, the northwest will be confronted by a coal famine. That will mean railroad shipments during all the winter at ruinous prices. The northwest is a cold country, so the problem is serious.

Getting a Right Idea.

If the mission of the king of Italy to St. Petersburg last month and to Berlin in the near future, is rightly represented, that monarch has hit upon a better plan to meet the "American peril" than the international tariff proposed by a statesman of Austria some time ago. The heaviest handicap of the European producer is the military establishment. A large standing army is terribly expensive, not merely in the cost of sustenance, but in the withdrawal of brains and brawn from other avocations.

American supremacy is based upon substantial things—unparalleled resources, labor saving machinery, cheap transportation, government encouragement, and, above all, the efficiency of the American mechanic—but it is not impregnable. It can be sustained by vigilance only. The foreign manufacturer may adopt American machinery and methods; he may gain access to cheap raw materials; he always has cheaper labor. If he can be delivered from the enormous expense of sustaining huge standing armies he may become a formidable competitor.

It is not to be supposed that Italy, or Germany, or Russia can dispense with its army this year. Even if King Victor Emanuel succeeds in convincing Emperor William that Czar Nicholas was wise and in earnest when he inspired The Hague disarmament conference and got an arbitration plan, the armies cannot be disbanded at once. But they can be gradually reduced, and if they are, the principal ally of American export trade will be destroyed. The battle of peaceful commerce may then be waged more vigorously and with less certainty as to the victor.

Beef Trust Dodges.

Demurrers filed by the packers' combination, in the suit of the government to prevent operations in restraint of trade, amount to a confession of the charges made. The plea by the attorney is simply an appeal to the court to forbid the United States government to bring the defendant to trial. The most significant clause of this plea is that which contends the government has no right to file charges for the purpose of "discovery" of the affairs of the meat packers.

The Gazette does not propose to anticipate the court or define the law in this technical situation. But it is pertinent to say that nothing could better illustrate than this contention of the packers the necessity for a law requiring the utmost publicity being given the transactions of the great aggregations of capital called trusts. The men who have been juggling with the price of the poor man's beef know very well that publicity would promptly put an end to methods and practices by which virtual monopoly of the meat trade is sustained. There are things done in secret that would not be attempted, even, in the light of publicity.

It may be that under existing laws the government has no technical right to inquire into, or discover, through the medium of judicial procedure, the means by which control of a market is held. But, in the spirit of the Iowa platform, the people have clearly sovereignty over all corporations and aggregations of capital, and the government has the inherent right to know all about the affairs of corporations and trusts. What the law does not now provide for it can be made to provide, and if this suit falls through failure to force the beef trust to disclose facts, the onus will be upon congress to give effect to Mr. Rockefeller's advice that the best means for controlling the trusts is to compel them to make their business public.

Candid Praise for America.

Archbishop Ireland is kept busy nowadays reminding Catholics who are disposed to criticise the way in which the friar problem is being handled that the church has no ground for complaint. In a sermon delivered on Sunday in St. Paul he told his hearers that in no other country is there a government so fair-minded, so impartial, and so willing to treat all classes of citizens with absolute justice as that with which we are blessed in America. He urged those who must clamor, therefore, to clamor in their own name, and not in the name of the church.

The Minnesota prelate also bore testimony to the benefits conferred by America upon Porto Rico and Cuba. The bishop of the former island rejoices that the American flag instead of the Spanish floats over his diocese; and the ecclesiastical authorities in Cuba are heartily glad that the church status was fixed by the American government before a Cuban congress met in Hanvana.

Catholics who fear that the trouble over the friars in the Philippine islands will result in injustice to their church should read what Archbishop Ireland said and be thereby reassured.

The Iowa Plank.

Certain Democratic papers profess to see in the platform of the Iowa Republican convention a swing toward free trade. However, the swing is no greater than it was a year ago when the Iowa Republican convention adopted the identical plank with which some of our Democratic friends profess to be so well pleased. Neither is there any nearer approach to the abandonment of the doctrine of protection than is to be found in the platform of the Republican national convention of 1896, wherein it is declared: "We are not pledged to any schedules. The question of rates is a practical question to be governed by the conditions of time and production." Further, as the Iowa plank declares for Iowa Republicans that they "stand by the historic policy of the Republican party in giving protection to home industries," it should be Republican enough to suit any Republican taste.

However, since Democrats seem to be so well pleased with it, perhaps they will adopt the suggestion that because of it they vote the Republican ticket this year.

Peace and the Soldier.

If the king of Italy and the czar of Russia succeed in persuading the emperor of Germany, among others, that European wars are a thing of the past and that national contests are to be along the paths of peace, in industrial and commercial competition and colonial development, the duel, which has been the great satisfier of military honor in Germany, may pass away with militarism, and the students' duels may pass with it. The duel lingers among a military class, but has no place in the midst of an industrial and commercial population. The lame efforts of the German emperor to abolish or limit dueling have been in recognition of the wishes of the people as opposed to the military class and the lameness of the efforts is due to the natural sympathy of the war lord with the military institutions of his empire. The arts of peace are gradually triumphing over the arts of war, and the reduction of the military establishment will make them more powerful. The numbers of the military class is a bar to the full operation of the humanizing forces of the age. The barbarities that may be perpetrated by the operation of the code, supported by military opinion, is well illustrated by the story told in this paragraph:

Emperor William has pardoned a murderer who shot a young man, a friend, on the day set for his wedding. That he was shot in a duel was the extenuating circumstance, yet the affair was none the less tragic. The murdered man gave a bachelor dinner to which his friends were invited. In a drunken orgy the host struck his guest and the challenge followed. The next morning the giver of the dinner forgot the incident of the night before, and was recalled from a visit to his fiancee to fight the duel in which he was killed. According to the German military view the result was unavoidable; the laws of "honor" required that his opponent should kill him if he could. This appears to be also the view of the emperor, and it is one of the results of the military system in Germany.

The whole matter is shocking. It may be argued that had there been no drunken orgy there would have been no duel, but that is another story. The fact is that there was a duel, with most distressing result. Unquestionably German sentiment is shocked by it, and even army sentiment as a whole tends more to excuse than to justify it. But while the army is so large factor in German life there will be other incidents as deplorable, just as similar ones have preceded it. When the army becomes smaller and is more regarded by all classes as a means to an end instead of the end itself, the reform that has been lamely attempted may be accomplished. At that time the army will exist for the empire and not, as now, the empire for the army. Army officers will be amenable to public opinion and answerable to the law instead of being a law unto themselves and superior to the ordinary law, except as the emperor makes them subject to it.

Campaign Issues.

The congressional campaign begins with the country prosperous. Even the Democrats acknowledge that now, although only two years ago Mr. Bryan loudly proclaimed that prosperity did not really exist, and that people merely imagined that they were prosperous. Now Democratic organs are beginning to talk as though prosperity were something extremely undesirable, and that a full dinner pail is likely to give the workingman indigestion. The Republican campaign book very properly takes the ground that prosperity is the result of the Republican policy of protection, and that the way to remain prosperous is to keep the Republican party in power.

It is pointed out, too, by the textbook, and it is well for the voters to bear it in mind, that the trusts do not occupy as great a place in manufacturing industries as they do in public discussion. They are the outgrowth of modern industrial conditions. Free trade England is the home of the trusts. There is no occasion to change the party in power in order to deal wisely with industrial combinations. The Republican party can be depended upon to handle this question, as President McKinley's administration and the administration of President Roosevelt have proved.

The Republican party has every reason to be pleased with its record, and to appeal with confidence to the voters for a continuation in business at the old stand.

Fighting for Better Water.

If the South Side hilltops do not get plenty of good water it will not be the fault of the Hilltop board of trade. That organization has taken up the bad service in its locality and is making a systematic campaign that ought to produce results. Individual consumers have been protesting for some time against paying full rates for a short supply of impure water without getting much satisfaction. Now they are moving in a body, determined to have reform if there is any legal method by which it may be had.

It will be interesting to compare this effort to convince a private corporation of its duty with the attempts in the main part of the city to get better water and more of it from the municipality. The present situation is not especially favorable to public ownership. Appeals for pure water and larger downtown mains have been made for years, yet the pipes carry a rich brown mixture to domestic consumers and the insurance companies insist on the pink slip. The hilltop people, at least, have succeeded in getting a hearing for their grievances.

Democratic complaint that Republicans in the north have gerrymandered congressional districts to crush out Democratic representation is amusing when compared with the wholesale disfranchising of the negroes in the south, while the colored people are still counted to swell Democratic representation.

The Baltimore Sun's accurate estimator in Washington figures out the election of 211 Democratic members of the next house, and kindly allots 178 to the Republicans. These figures are subject to revision by the voters in November.

SEASIDE HOMES FOR THE THRIFTY

The Rich No Longer Have a Monopoly of Such Luxuries in New York City.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.

Judging by the real estate advertisements nowadays, a home by the sea soon will be within reach of any thrifty New Yorker. There is a long stretch of seaboard actually within the limits of Greater New York, while just outside of it one can find almost any kind of place one desires. The time will come when the New Yorker will not be content to go to Coney Island, Manhattan Beach or Rockaway for a day's recreation at the end of the week. With the cost of such a pleasure down to 10 cents or a quarter, according to the route taken, the ambitious New Yorker feels that it is too cheap, and that he should have a house of his own "down by the sounding sea," where he can put on his bathing dress in his own home and walk leisurely down to the water without troubling a bathhouse man at all. Lots within a short distance of the Atlantic ocean are offered at prices and on such terms as would have seemed fabulously cheap a few years ago. There is a great deal of property in Brooklyn, on Long Island, Staten Island and elsewhere near the sea, on which houses can be built at small expense, and which, with very low prices for the lots in the first place, makes the acquisition of a seashore home within the reach of any ordinary clerk or artisan. Plans of lots of this kind are opened every week or two, and they are snapped up by purchasers as soon as advertised, in most cases. What used to be barren, sandy wastes in Brooklyn are now attractive settlements of pretty houses, each with its own lawn and flower garden, with no sand about except on the carefully graded walks. Many of these settlements are too far from the ocean to permit of their inhabitants walking to the beach in bathing dresses, but they are none of them more than 10 or 15 minutes' walk or trolley ride to the water. There are few cities better situated for the enjoyment of seashore pleasures than this same busy old New York, and its adantages in that respect are improving every year.

Russell Sage's Birthday.

The fact that Russell Sage completed his 86th year has no particular significance. This wonderful man looks as young as he did 20 years ago, and, most likely, will be attending to business at 96. He has become used to newspaper interviews on each birthday, and it has become part of the routine of the anniversary for him to say that he feels well and attributes his long life and health to continuous hard work and the determination not to worry.

A Busy Theatrical Manager.

Sidney R. Ellis, the well-known Pittsburgher, is one of the busiest theatrical managers in New York. His office is in the heart of the theater district in Upper Broadway, and he is there every day. He has two important ventures this season. One is Al Wilson, the German-American comedian, in Mr. Ellis' own romantic play, "A Prince of Tatters," and the other the spectacular extravaganza, "The Evil Eye." Both of these productions will be seen at the new Bijou theater, Pittsburgh, in September and October, Mr. Ellis tells me.

Devery's Pump Becoming a Nuisance.

Neighbors of "Big Bill" Devery are beginning to complain about the number of "bums," "grafters" and disreputable characters generally that gather about the "pump" at Twenty-eighth street and Eighth avenue to do honor to his candidacy for the leadership of the Ninth district. The free beer and other privileges offered by the "Big Chief," of course, attract an undesirable element. "Panhandlers" and loafers generally were not likely to lose such an opportunity of getting something for nothing, and there is a ragged, wolfish army parading up and down Eighth avenue every evening nowadays, according to the complaints which one hears from the people. Devery is not a policeman now. If he were, the Bowery ruffians that make a rendezvous of the avenue would keep on the other side of the city. They know from experience that as a policeman Devery is down in all such cattle. But now, when he invites everyone to step up and have a drink, without inquiring closely whether his guests are residents of his district or not, the loafers from all parts of the city feel that it would be a crime to let such a chance go by. Some of these days, however, Devery is likely to jump into the crowd and clean out the toughs, even if he is not a policeman now, and the "bums" keep a wary eye on him over the edges of their beer glasses.

A Bachelor Uncle Divides.

Andrew Carnegie is not the only rich man who is determined not to die wealthy. There is Francis W. Dunlop, a bachelor of Brooklyn, who has avowed his intention to follow the Carnegie example, except that he will not give his money to found libraries, but to his relatives, in his lifetime. He has three nephews and a niece. They may not have been waiting for the decease of their uncle, and, in fact, there is every reason to suppose they have a strong, disinterested affection for him. To make sure that they shall not have too much reason to hope for his death he has just given all his real estate to his nephews and a large sum in cash to his niece. The nephews are required to pay their uncle $200 a month as long as he lives. He is about 60 now, and it may be that the apportionment of his property, relieving himself of all worry over it, is a shrewd business move.

A Pittsburgher's Operatic Venture.

W. H. Fullwood of Pittsburgh has just leased the Wilbur Opera Company for a term of five years. He is reorganizing the enterprise and intends to make it the strongest repertoire opera company in the United States, if possible. His brother, John A. Fullwood, will be in advance on the road. Susie Kerwin, who for a number of years was the prima donna of the company, has retired from the stage forever, Mr. Fullwood tells me. She has opened a "swell" dressmaking establishment in Salt Lake City and intends to stay there. It has become somewhat of a fad of actresses of late years to become modistes when they are tired of the stage, and Miss Kerwin is following the fashion.

No Coney Revelry After 1.

Coney Island is feeling the effects of the reform wave. The new police captain there, Knipe, sternly insists that everything shall close at 1 o'clock in the morning, and the sounds of revelry by night are not so extended as they were at old Coney. It is said that some of the keepers of concert halls begged hard to be allowed to continue business until 2 o'clock, saying that most of their profit came in the small hours of the morning; but the captain was inexorable and everyone had to go home to bed at 1.

Latest Central Park Suicide.

Suicides in the dog days are a regular thing in Central park. There was one last night, the only difference between it and many others being that the pockets of the victim were turned inside out, while the course of the bullet through his head indicated that it was self-murder. The police might be disposed to make a "mystery" of it were it not that they have three or four mysterious deaths by violence that have worried them fruitlessly in the last few weeks.

The Sugar Loaf Hat Coming.

White sugar loaf hats, such as were worn by the goblin followers of Hendrik Hudson in the Catskills, are the proper thing for automobilists in this state. This assertion is made on the strength of the fact that Irving Brokaw, one of the gilded youth of New York, has set the fashion at Saratoga. It has not reached this city yet, where the flat cap and goggles still hold their own; but everybody is looking for the sugar loaf to appear in Fifth avenue within a day or so.

Wreck Causes a Milk Famine.

New York was short of milk today. There was milkless coffee in hundreds of homes, and many restaurants had hard work to get enough for their regular trade. Two milk trains ran into each other on the Ontario & Western railroad, near Middletown, N. Y., and 14,400 bottles of milk went to everlasting smash.

Frightful Effects of a Child's Anger.

It is generally supposed that a woman of average strength and size can control a 9-year-old boy unless he is abnormally powerful and vindictive; but Marie Bentz, a governess of this city, says otherwise. She has entered suit for $50,000 against young Harold Hartshorne, son of a wealthy resident of Madison avenue, for an alleged assault and battery by the boy when he was 9 years old, in 1900. In her bill of complaint she declares that, as consequences of the lad's attack upon her, she has suffered and will continue to suffer from "hysteria, anastasia, abosia, paraphilgis, partial paralysis, inability to walk, dizziness, twitching and cramps in face, legs and other parts of her body, head and limbs; difficulty of speaking, sensory disturbances, intense emotion, irritability and other distress." She charges that the boy knocked her down, beat her and jumped upon her back, injuring her spine and head.

Rabbi Joseph's Successor.

The Rev. Dr. Philip Kline, head of the Hungarian synagogue in this city, probably will be selected to succeed the late Chief Rabbi Jacob Joseph as the leader of the Orthodox Jewish church in the United States.

Up to David B. Hill.

With the advent of August, politics in this city and state is beginning to warm up. The Tammany triumvirs, Murphy, McMahon and Haffen—dubbed by Devery "Sport," "Two-spot" and "Joke"—will meet tomorrow in the wigwam to discuss the fall campaign. The question of gubernatorial candidates, it is understood, will not be touched on by the committee until it has ascertained just what are the wishes of ex-Senator David B. Hill on the subject, and this is not likely to be known until after the meeting of the Democratic state committee, which will be about the middle of this month at Albany. The Tammany committee has assured the up-state leader that it will be guided wholly by his choice for the selection of the entire state ticket and has promised him the organization's loyal support in any event.

Bogus Coins in Fiatdom.

The usual summer report of bad money getting into general circulation in New York has just been set loose. The trouble is said to be principally in Harlem and the Bronx, where flat houses are numerous and where the great rank and file of New York's population has its household gods. Counterfeit quarters and half dollars by the thousands have been passed on storekeepers along the principal business thoroughfares. The old method of making a small purchase and giving a new coin to pay for it has been employed. The money as a rule is of this year's series, and, according to experts, is an uncommonly clever imitation. The engraving is executed by an artist well up in his profession. The coins have more of the real metallic ring than ordinary counterfeits, and have a greater percentage of silver in them. The interest in this state of things to Pittsburghers is in the well-known activity of bad money when once it gets into circulation, and the moral certainty that some of it, at least, will find its way into Western Pennsylvania.

Printed Race Tips Risky.

One of the evening papers here keeps a tabulated account of the winnings and losings of persons who bet $15 on each race according to the "tips" given by seven of its contemporaries. For 43 days of horseracing ending with the closing day at Brighton, it is shown that the biggest total winning by a follower of any one paper's tips would be $145, while one paper was so far out that the bettor taking its advice would have lost $607 on the 43 days. Horseracing as a sport is a delightful recreation for the mere spectator. The man that goes into action in the betting ring takes dangerous chances, even with the advice of track experts to help him.

Scant Police Sympathy for Hebrews.

It was a picturesque assembly that crowded into police headquarters today to complain of the behavior of the police in quelling the riot at the funeral of Rabbi Joseph last week. Nearly every man bore some indication of having been in a fray. Heads were bandaged, arms carried in slings and black eyes ostentatiously displayed. Some of the men hobbled on crutches and others groaned as they moved. They had all the earmarks of injury, and, to cap the climax, one of the visitors had a real, old-fashioned fit in the office of Inspector Brooks. Unfortunately for the callers at headquarters, the police have little consideration for the denizens of the Ghetto, and when an ambulance came to remove the man in a fit the surgeon and police agreed that it was a "fake." This almost precipitated another riot, which was only prevented by the authoritative order of a police official to "quit that right now." It does not look as if the Hebrews who were clubbed will get much satisfaction at police headquarters, where there is a prevailing opinion that violence was the only agent that could be used effectively under the circumstances.

Oldest and Best.

From the Erie Herald-Dispatch.

The Pittsburgh Gazette celebrated its 117th anniversary Tuesday. During a period much longer than the memory of the oldest inhabitant The Gazette has maintained a reputation for courageous, reliable news gathering and expression of opinion. Always conservative, yet positive and decisive, The Gazette has contributed to the molding of public opinion on important events to a greater extent than any other newspaper in Western Pennsylvania, and today, after marching along at the head of the civilization procession for more than a century, The Gazette is still a leading factor in public events, and its editorial opinions have the greatest weight with the leading men of the state regardless of party.

ECCENTRIC LADY FLORENCE DIXIE

She Has Ridden Hobbies Without Number and Is Odd Even Now.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Lady Florence Dixie, who has written to President Roosevelt asking him to interfere in behalf of the child laborers of the United States and to use his influence to put down this form of child slavery as Abraham Lincoln did negro slavery, is a Don Quixote in petticoats, and an extremely eccentric personage.

She never seems happy unless her name is before the public. She has in turn championed the cause of the Zulu King Cetewayo, of the anti-home rulers, of the Egyptian insurgent leader Arabi Pasha, of female suffrage and emancipation, of female athletics, besides a host of other causes that appeal to popular interest and attention.

She has also traveled through Patagonia, being the only white woman, I believe, who has ever attempted to explore that barbarous and almost entirely unknown corner of South America. Her reason for making this Patagonian voyage of exploration was, according to her own account, because it was "an outlandish place" and she was "sick to death of civilization." Her party consisted of her brothers, the late Marquis of Queensberry and Lord James Dougias, the latter subsequently committing suicide. They landed at Sandy Point and made their way up country to the base of the Andes and after camping for a few weeks in one of the high Cordilleras valleys got back to Sandy Point in safety.

Was Not In Favor at Court.

Lady Florence, although the daughter of a peer and the wife of a baronet, has never been in good order at the court of St. James and was barred by Queen Victoria from the drawing rooms and other state entertainments. Lady Florence accounts for this ill will and rigor on the part of of the late queen by ascribing it to a squabble which she had with the Lord Chamberlain's officials at Buckingham palace when she went to be presented after her marriage to Sir Beaumont Dixie. Lady Florence relates that the functionaries in question prevented her from entering the royal presence owing to the fact that she had failed to don the feathers and the veil that are "de riguer" on such occasions, and that she was forced to re-enter her carriage without having had an opportunity of receiving the royal kiss to which she was entitled as a peer's daughter.

That is her side of the story.

With regard to Lady Florence's championship of the anti-home rule platform of the Irish cause, there has always been a question in my mind as to the extent to which she was induced to interest herself in the matter out of a spirit of opposition to her equally eccentric mother, the old marchioness of Queensberry. The latter after the death of her husband became a convert from Presbyterianism of the most ultra-character to Roman Catholicism, and took the vows and adopted the garb of a Sister of Mercy. She became deeply interested in the home rule movement, became a generous subscriber, not merely to the Land league, but even to the Fenian agitation, and for a long time constituted herself the financial backer of a couple of Fenian newspapers. So acrimonious did the quarrel between mother and daughter become about this Irish question that when Talbot, the detective and informer was murdered, the Dowager Lady Queensberry presented a large sum of money to the family of the murderer in token of her approval, whereupon Lady Florence immediately gave a sum four times as large to the widow of his victim.

Attempted Assassination.

It is to her active opposition to the home rule cause, and to her action in assailing and exposing the methods of the Land league and other Nationalist associations from the platform and in the press that Lady Florence ascribes the alleged attempt to assassinate her, which has been shrouded in mystery to this day, and which indirectly was the cause of the death of John Brown, the celebrated Scotch gillie and body servant of the late Queen Victoria.

According to Lady Florence's story she was walking in the grounds of the Fishery, her country place on the Thames, near Windsor, in the dusk, when she was suddenly attacked by two men disguised as women, and armed with daggers. In her struggle with them she became unconscious, and the saving of her life is ascribed to her St. Bernard dog, which hearing her shrieks for help, arrived upon the scene and drove her assailants away. On her recovery to consciousness her gloves were found cut to pieces, both palms of her hands badly lashed with a knife, and two dagger holes two inches apart in the right breast of her dress. A broad steel corset rib had been broken by the weapon.

This happened not so very long after the murder in Phoenix park of Lord Frederick Cavendish by the "Invincibles," and Queen Victoria, who had been particularly horrified by the outrage, had her sympathies immediately aroused in behalf of Lady Florence, and sent at once John Brown to inquire as to the details of the affair, and after the health of Lady Florence.

John Brown, like the police, insisted that the entire adventure of Lady Florence was the product of the latter's particularly vivid and picturesque imagination, since not only had there been no witnesses of the affair, but neither the police nor the people in the vicinity could discover any trace or clue to her alleged assailants. But it was while engaged in these investigations that John Brown contracted the cold which carried him off in 10 days.

An Athletic Humanitarian.

Of course Lady Florence has taken an active part in the championship of the Boer cause during the recent war. She has likewise been in print for the purpose of protesting against rabbit coursing, vivisection, pigeon shooting (in her crusade against which she secured the support of Queen Alexandra), and even against fox hunting, her action in the matter attracting all the more attention as she has achieved renown as a first-rate shot, an expert angler, an excellent foot-ball player, a skillful fencer and an all-round sportswoman in almost every part of the world.

Lady Florence has started football clubs for women all over the United Kingdom, and insists that football is the ideal exercise for women. Needless to add that she is a first-rate cricketer and 20 years ago could sprint for miles without stopping to wind.

Lady Florence has two sons, one of them, the eldest, George by name, is married to one of the many daughters of the late Sir Alexander Jardine, and has been fighting for his country in South Africa in spite of his mother's advocacy of the Boer cause. The other is a lieutenant of the royal navy, and a godson of King Edward.

The Dixies are descended from Wolstan Dixie, who lived in the reign of King Edward III., and their baronetcy is one of the oldest in point of seniority, while there was a Sir Wolstan Dixie, a knight, who was lord mayor of London in the reign of King Edward VI. The ninth baronet of the line, whose widow I well remember—she only died in 1887 at the age of near 100—served with distinction at the battle of Trafalgar, and during the English war with America commanded the "Chesapeake" and also the "Saracen." His father, the eighth baronet, who possessed the family strain of eccentricity, left a will in verse beginning:

"I, Sir Willoughby Dixie, of Bosworth Park,
Without the aid of scribe or clerk,
Or pettifogger of the law,
Ready to make, or find, a flaw,
With haggard phiz and tottering limb,
With moonstruck mind, a prey to whim,
With every symptom of decay,
And wearing very fast away,
A stupor sealing both my eyes,
My worldly goods I thus devise."

THE DEATH ROLL.

William A. Caldwell.

William A. Caldwell, president of the Monongahela Insurance Company since 1867 and prominent in financial circles in this city, died yesterday morning at 2 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Letitia Holmes, No. 719 Irwin avenue, Allegheny. Mr. Caldwell, who was in his 80th year, had been in failing health for three years from bronchial trouble. His death was caused by general debility. Mr. Caldwell was a lifelong resident of this city and was a former stockholder in The Commercial Gazette. He was a son of John Caldwell, proprietor of one of the first tanneries operated in this section. He received his early training in the Pittsburgh schools and took a college course. For a short time he studies civil engineering under Mr. Remington, city engineer, during the 30's. He then engaged in the tannery business with his brother and later associated himself in the grocery business with the firm of Dalzell & Fleming. He formed a partnership with George Massey under the firm name of Massey & Caldwell. On the death of his partner the firm was reorganized with Mr. Caldwell at the head, under the name of Caldwell & Bro. The firm until 1868 was one of the largest of its kind in the city, having an establishment in Water street and dealing in groceries and steamboat supplies. One year after becoming president of the insurance company he retired from the grocery business. Mr. Caldwell at the time of his death was a director in the Bank of Pittsburgh and a member of the Sportsmen's club. He attended the First Presbyterian church in Wood street, with which his family had been identified for many years. With the death of Mr. Caldwell the last of his family has passed away, with the exception of his sister, Mrs. Holmes.

George E. Dunbar.

George E. Dunbar, aged 60 years, agent in this city for the Bankers' Life Insurance association of Des Moines, Ia., was attacked by heart disease in a street car in Cleveland, O., yesterday morning and died a few minutes later on the pavement, where he had been carried. He left Pittsburgh three weeks ago Saturday on a combined pleasure and business trip, going from here to Buffalo to visit a married daughter. From Buffalo he went to Cleveland, where he had a son and daughter, W. R. Dunbar and Mrs. Oscar Textor. He had been visiting them when the end came yesterday. Mr. Dunbar came to Pittsburgh about five years ago to represent the company which he has been connected until now. He had an office at No. 723 Park building, and was rooming at 721 Arch street, Allegheny. He was well known here, especially in insurance circles, and had many friends. He was a Mason and a member of the G. A. R. No relatives live in this city. His wife died many years ago.

Commodore Montgomery.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Commodore Joseph E. Montgomery, the aged confederate naval officer, who nearly captured Gen. Grant during the civil war, died here today. Commodore Montgomery was born in Carrollton, Ky., in 1817, and from his youth until the war broke out was engaged in river traffic.

Obituary Notes.

Joseph S. Ewing, a prominent G. A. R. man, is dead at Punxsutawney, Pa., aged 60.

Frank McClelland, a well-known resident of Shousetown, Pa., died at his home at that place Sunday afternoon. He is survived by his wife, five children, his parents and one sister.

His Vacation.

From Life.

Dimpleton—Been away on your vacation this year?

Von Blumer—Yes. Don't I look it?

"By Jove! so you do. Never saw you looking better. That isn't the way a vacation always affects a man."

"No. But this was an exceptionally good place. You probably won't believe it, but it was the most extraordinary place I ever spent a vacation in, and I'm going back there next year, as there is nothing like it."

"Good table?"

"Best in the world. Wasn't a thing I wanted I didn't have."

"Pleasant people?"

"Delightful. And the best of it was, it was so informal. We could do just as we pleased."

"Restful?"

"I should say so! Never was in a place where I could rest better."

"Beds good?"

"Great! Private bath, too."

"I'll bet it was expensive?"

"On the contrary, it was the cheapest place I ever spent a vacation in."

"Good heavens, man! Tell me where it is!"

"Home."

And Still Unsatisfied.

From the Philadelphia Times.

A traveler in Georgia met a genial-looking old fellow sitting astride a fence and thoughtfully smoking. He gave greeting:

"Good morning!"

"Mawning, stranger"

"How's times?" asked the traveler.

"Put-tee tol-able, stranger. Had some trees to cut down. Cyclone came 'long an leveled 'em for me."

"Well, that was good!" commented the stranger.

"Yes—guess 'twas. Lightning 'tother night set fire to the brush, an' saved me the trouble of burnin' it."

"Remarkable! Work all done then—eh?"

"Not yet, stranger. Waitin' now for an earthquake to come 'long an' shake the potatoes out of the ground."

A Missouri Decision.

From the Kansas City Journal.

"Mr. Moore," said Judge Phillips to an attorney during the recent trial of a case in the federal court at Joplin, "I believe it would be better to address the witnesses by surnames." The offending attorney apologized and temporarily reformed. Later an awkward long limbed and slovenly man was called to the stand. His clothing evidenced pressing need of repair and his person urgently demanded a bath.

"Now Reub——" began the absent-minded lawyer.

"Wait a moment," said the judge, as he leaned over and took a good look at the witness.

Then he turned to the attorney and added: "You may go on, sir. I see no reason why he should not be called 'Reub.'"

Birds of a Feather.

From the New York Tribune.

Judge Henry McGinn, who was recently elected state senator in Portland, Ore., tells this story: Two days after the last election, when the returns showed a very close race between McGinn and Dr. Harry Lane, two Irishmen met. One asked the other:

"How is it, Mike, that in so manny votes it should be nick an' nick atween Hinnery an' Dock Lane?"

"Well, I'll tell ye," was the answer. "They're booth very onpopiller min, an' if ye knowed wan, ye'd be certain to vote fur th' other, an' booth av thim are d——d well known."

Following a Good Example.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The Boer leaders who are coming to the United States to study farming methods are simply following the example of the rest of the world. American farmers and their machinery are in an unequaled class of their own.

THE FARMER UP TO DATE.

The farmer sat in his easy chair
Smoking a Henry Clay.
A Turkish rug lay under his feet,
And he hadn't a word to say.
He smiled as he read The New York Sun,
The price per bushel of corn,
And the market figures for beef on the hoof,
And his proud smile smacked of scorn.

His glance swept waving fields of maize,
And a countless, fattening herd;
A pile of bank-books met his gaze,
And

THE LIBERALITY TO EX-SOLDIERS UNPRECEDENTED

At the Same Time the Pension Laws Are Administered More Carefully.

ANSWER TO COMPLAINTS

High Water Mark of the Roll Was on First of July, When it Contained 999,446 Names—Increase Due to Legislation by Congress.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.

Wherever the question of pensions comes up in the campaign, Republican speakers will have a ready reply to give either the veterans on the one hand or those on the other who favor keeping a close account on the government's disbursements for its soldiers and sailors.

Since the time when there were numerous assaults on the administration of the pension office by certain persons in the Grand Army of the Republic, there has been an increased liberality toward the veterans, but it has been brought about by special and general legislation, and not by loosening the machinery of the pension office by which claims have been allowed to slip through by undue liberal interpretation in the pension laws.

On the 1st of July there were 999,446 pensioners on the rolls. That was the highwater mark in pensions. This number has been reached by a gradual growth, and the best informed men about the pension office believe it will not be exceeded, although the last congress was unprecedented in its liberality in pension legislation. This is for the reason that the death rate among pensioners is very great, the annual death rate being estimated for the next year at about 40,000.

The last congress passed 1,100 special pension bills and two acts which, within 12 months, it is believed, will add 10,000 pensioners to the rolls. One of these acts is to pension the survivors of the Indian wars and the other to pension those veterans who served in the Confederate service prior to their entrance in the Union army.

It is believed by some officials at the pension office that the liberality of congress toward pensioners has done much toward lessening the attacks on the pension office, which were formerly of such common occurrence. It is this congressional action that has increased the net number of pensioners from 991,519 in 1899 to 999,446 at the end of the last fiscal year, although this period was one in which the death rate among aged pensioners was very large. The increase between these two dates was very gradual. From 991,519 in 1899 the number increased to 993,529 in 1900, to 997,735 in 1901 and to 999,446 in 1902.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

THE PENSION ROLL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—The following pensions were granted today:

Pennsylvania—James Watson, Job, $10; Benjamin F. Durbin, Washington, $10; John H. Negley, Sr., Sewickley, $8; Samuel P. Gamble, Pittsburgh, $6; Joseph K. Bush, West Finley, $8; Henry S. Allabough, Silverdale, $16; Samuel Gault, Wilkinsburg, $8; Calvin Williams, Julian, $10; Enos Rogers, Rockhill Furnace, $17; Ludovick A. Kimmel, Normalville, $10; Daniel Merriman, Pittsburgh, $10; Charles H. Adams, Stroudsburg, $6; Hannah Wood, Athens, $8; Mary Jeffries, Dunbar, $8; Isabella McLaughlin, Buena Vista, $8; Margaretta C. Rose, Huntington, $8; Margaret Brown, Titusville, $8; Isabel Atwell, Pittsburgh, $8; Elizabeth Watson, Job, $8; Ellen Raub, Sayre, $12.

Ohio—Henry Imler, Fredericksburg, $6; Sherman Ferguson, Canton, $6; Joseph D. Heston, Quaker City, $12; Charlotte Barns, Burtonsville, $8.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Capt. McCrea of the gunboat Machias, has cabled that the Haitien outbreak is practically over.

Negotiations have been opened in Washington for the establishment of an entente cordiale between the governments of Colombia and Nicaragua.

The navy department will soon call for bids for a huge floating dock to accommodate a 16,000-ton battleship, to be built in the United States and floated over to the Philippines.

Eli Torrance, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., has appointed a committee to organize the work of erecting in this city a statue of Gen. B. F. Stevenson, founder and first provisional commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

Efforts will be made during the next session of congress to increase the limit of the enlisted strength of the navy from 25,000 to 30,000 men. This recommendation will be made by Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the bureau of navigation.

Harry Rechtein, former disbursing clerk of the department of justice, who recently confessed peculations against the government, has made good his shortage in full, depositing a check for $7,604.52, signed by his mother. Rechtein was indicted today.

The answer of Secretary Root to the suit in mandamus filed against him by Rebecca J. Taylor to compel him to reinstate her, has been filed. The secretary contends that the laws of the civil service were not violated in Miss Taylor having been discharged for just cause.

Complaints continue to be filed with the department of justice that the Sherman anti-trust law is being violated by the anthracite coal shippers. On account of lack of evidence furnished, the department has determined not to take action; but if proper complaints are filed legal proceedings will be instituted.

Acting Secretary of the Treasury Spalding has issued instructions to the collector of customs at New York to admit free of duty the box of decorations recently sent to the German ambassador by Emperor William for delivery to those who took active part in the entertainment of Prince Henry when he was in the United States.

Ohio rural free delivery routes will be established September 1, as follows: Fredericksburg, Wayne county, with two carriers; length of routes, 47 miles; population to be served, 1,050. Mineral City, Tuscarawas county, with one carrier; length of route, 21 miles; population to be served, 562. New Milford, Portage county, with one carrier; length of route, 23 miles; population to be served, 1,050.

WAGE CUT VETOED.

The tin plate lodges of the Amalgamated association have voted down the proposition of President T. J. Shaffer that they accept a 25 per cent wage reduction on the production of about 1,500,000 boxes of tin plate which is now brought from Wales. Shaffer and the tin plate wage committee of the organization will now have to go back to the officials of the tin plate company for new terms.

The base wage of the tin plate scale was renewed for this year prior to the annual convention of the Amalgamated association, but before the company would consent to a lot of conditions and detail clauses it proposed the reduction so as to head off export orders. In the details the scale is understood to be unsettled and this will probably mean that the total wage this year will be less than last.

Lodges at Newcastle and Elwood, Ind., were the last to vote down the proposition for a reduction by a large majority. In the end it is said that there will be little difference so far as the aggregate wages go. Without the detail clauses of the scale wages will be little higher than they would be with these clauses and the reduction accepted so as to hold the export orders.

MRS. ALEXANDER LAUGHLIN, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Robinson went to New York the latter part of last week to make an over-Sunday visit at "Seven Oaks," the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darlington, at Mamaroneck, Long Island. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will return to Pittsburgh today, but Mrs. Laughlin will remain as the guest of Mrs. Darlington for a few weeks. She will be in the party of friends Mr. and Mrs. Darlington will entertain on their steam yacht, Elreba, during the annual cruise of the New York Yacht club, commencing today.

The only Pittsburgh boat which is scheduled to make the runs from port to port for the prizes which have been offered for the squadron runs is the Amorita, the swift schooner owned by Thomas M. McKee of Ridge avenue, Allegheny. Mr. and Mrs. McKee are summering on the North Shore, the fashionable Massachusetts resort. But in the "tea kettle fleet," the name applied to the boats which cruise in the wake of the racing yachts and schooners, are some of the finest steam yachts afloat. Among them will be the Parthenia, owned by A. Hart McKee, and the Elreba, Mr. Darlington's fine steam yacht. The Seneca, though ready to take part in the cruise, will be withdrawn, because of the death of its owner, Theodore R. Hostetter.

The rendezvous of the fleet was at New London, Conn., yesterday. Today occurs the race from New London to Newport. Tomorrow the Astor cup races will take place at Newport. On Thursday the race from Newport to Vineyard Haven will be held; Friday the race from Vineyard Haven to Provincetown, Cape Cod; and on Saturday the race from Provincetown to Marblehead, Mass. On Monday and Tuesday of next week the racing yachts will take part in the races of the Eastern Yacht club.

People Here and There.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Richards and their children went last week to Atlantic City. Mr. Richards, who is cashier of the Cosmopolitan National bank, returned to Pittsburgh yesterday, but his family will remain in Atlantic City for two or three weeks. Later they will go south, visiting Richmond, Vicksburg and Charlottesville and will not return for some time.

Arthur Leroy Jamieson, of New York city is spending the summer with his sisters, the Misses Jamieson, in North Highland avenue, East End. Mr. Jamieson has studied art in Paris and will assist his sisters in their successful studio, Center and Highland avenues.

Mr. F. H. Tooker went to Atlantic City last week for a stay of several days. He returned to Pittsburgh yesterday morning.

Miss Alma Stoeble of Allegheny is home again after spending a delightful six weeks in the east.

Theodore Rehn, Joseph Devine and Martin Kennelly are at Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis H. Childs are staying at the Ampersand in the Adirondacks. Miss Mary Rhodes is in the Adirondacks at Saranac Lake, where she will soon be joined by her mother, Mrs. Joshua Rhodes.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant McCargo are spending several weeks at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Mrs. Thaw Will Entertain.

Mrs. Benjamin Thaw has invitations out for a dinner which she will give on Thursday at "Beachmound," her home in Newport, in honor of Miss Ethel Davies. Miss Davies, whose wedding to Archibald G. Thacher will take place on Saturday, August 9, at Newport, is a daughter of Julian T. Davies of New York, whose son, Frederick Martin Davies, married Miss Emily O'Neill of Pittsburgh. Miss Davies is a niece of Mrs. Bradley Martin and was a bridesmaid at the wedding of her cousin, Miss Cordelia Martin, to the earl of Craven.

Peaches and Plums.

As berries begin to grow scarcer in the markets the larger and more luscious fruits take their place. The warmer the weather the greater the supply of succulent food stuffs, so that selecting our materials with the same judgment with which it is supplied to our needs we might find the most trying days of mid-summer not unendurable. The most delicious of our mid-season fruits, as well as the most available for a stand-by, is the peach. Fortunately this is not at its best until many other favorite fruits are gone, so that when we most need a change we have it at its ripest and richest.

A basket of peaches is a good investment even in a small family, for only the choicest and best must be selected to be eaten from the hand or sliced and eaten with sugar and cream. Those which fail below the highest state of perfection may be used in desserts, marmalades and the like, while there are probably some which are still rather green and tart, which may be pickled or spiced. The freestone is preferred for many purposes, although there are many who insist that the clingstone is of finer and richer flavor. The convenience of the former, however, overbalances this feature and generally wins the day for the freestone. The peach seems to possess more of the nature of a substantial food than other fruits, although its pulp is composed almost entirely of juice. It has a notably small amount of saccharine matter compared with other fruits.

The popularity of the peach is due to the delicious flavor which is agreeable to every one and being very digestible when ripe and also most refreshing, one should enjoy them to the fullest while they are in their prime. Avoid eating the skin of the peach, as it is very indigestible and irritating.

The plum belongs to the same order, the stone fruits or the rose order. It is inferior to the peach, but richer in sugar and can be utilized in a variety of ways. Unlike the peach, it is improved, for most tastes, by cooking, and is made more digestible as well. The plum contains a large amount of gum, and like the peach does not jelly satisfactorily unless great care is exercised, and even then is apt to make a tough jelly.

The wild plum is one of the very earliest of known fruits, and the cultivated variety has been introduced very extensively.

Plums and choice bunches of grapes, with their green leaves, make a very artistic fruit piece.

Peach Blanc Mange.

Put half a package of gelatine to soak with half a cup of cold water for an hour; then dissolve it by pouring over it a cup of scalded milk and stirring over hot water. Pare about eight nice ripe peaches, remove the seeds, cut fine and press through a coarse sieve, adding while so doing a cup of powdered sugar. Add the dissolved gelatine, mix thoroughly and then fold in a pint of dry whipped cream. Turn into molds previously wet with cold water and set away to become firm.

Peach Tapioca.

Soak half a cup of tapioca over night in sufficient water to cover, then drain. Pare, remove the stones and slice enough ripe, tart peaches to make two quarts. Put these in a deep baking dish and sprinkle half a cup of sugar over them, then cover with the tapioca, and one and one-half pints of water. Bake in a moderate oven for three hours. Serve with good cream.

Escalloped Peaches.

Pare a number of medium-sized ripe peaches and arrange them in a baking dish; cover with a layer of fine bread crumbs; dot here and there with a whole clove and bits of butter and bake until peaches are tender and crumbs are nicely browned in a moderate over. Serve with butter sauce.

Peach Custard.

Take one quart of peaches, pared and stoned. Blanch a few of the kernels; stew in a little water with sugar to taste. Beat up the yolks of six eggs with one and one-half cups of sugar, the grated peel of half a lemon. Beat the white to a stiff froth and add half of this to the yolks. Take the peaches from the fire and pour them into a pudding dish. Pour the batter over them and bake until eggs are set. Put remainder of whipped whites on top and dust thickly with powdered sugar and brown a delicate color. Eat cold with cream.

Peach and Farina Pudding.

Put a quart of milk in a double boiler and when scalded add half a cup of farina and boil until farina is clear and thickens the milk; then add a small piece of butter and salt to taste. Beat the yolks of four eggs with eight tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and just before taking from the fire add this to the farina, stir until well mixed, then remove from range and flavor with vanilla. Beat the whites to a stiff froth with four tablespoonfuls pulverized sugar. Butter a pudding dish, put in part of the farina custard in which you have mixed the whites, then a layer of stewed peaches; cover with remaining custard and bake until custard is set. Eat with wine or orange sauce.

Peach Ice Cream.

Pare, chop and wash well a quart of ripe, sweet peaches, and when you have made a plain cream, freezing it very hard, stir in the peaches and repack. The cream should be made a little sweeter when peaches are added.

Pickled Peaches.

Take a gallon of peaches, not too ripe, and rub off the fuz with a soft towel and put them into a stone jar; put a pint of vinegar and boil with a quart of sugar and some whole cloves and stick cinnamon tied in muslin bags and when a syrup is made, pour this over the peaches and let them stand until the next day. Repeat this operation for four days and the last time boil the peaches and syrup together for ten minutes; take out the fruit and put into jars; then boil the syrup a little longer and then pour over the fruit. When cool tie up closely.

Stuffed Pickled Peaches.

Remove the stones from freestone peaches by cutting them in half without paring them. Fill the cavities with chopped white cabbage well seasoned with celery seed, grated horseradish and mustard. Tie them up with cord or fasten the two halves together with long wooden toothpicks and pack in airtight jars; cover with sweet pickle syrup.

Boil a quart of vinegar with two pounds of light brown sugar, whole cloves, stick cinnamon, green ginger root and allspice.

INQUIRIES ANSWERED.

Mrs. M. H. R. writes: Will you kindly publish a recipe for making potato chips and also crapapple jelly.

Potato Chips.

Wash and peel a dozen potatoes, rather small size, and divide them into pieces resembling a section of orange or cut them in thin slices across the grain; throw them into a basin of cold water and let them stand awhile, then remove and dry on a cloth. Have a pan of deep hot fat ready—enough to float the potatoes—and fry them in this until they are partially done; then skim out the potatoes and set the fat over a hotter fire and when very hot again put in the potatoes and fry until the pieces blow themselves out and are a nice brown; remove from the fat, drain and sprinkle with salt and serve.

Crab Apple Jelly.

Wash the apples, remove the stems and blossom ends and put them in a granite or porcelain lined preserving kettle, adding enough cold water to come nearly to the top and cover the apples. Cover and let them heat and cook slowly until the apples are soft; mash them; turn into a thin muslin bag and let drain. Do not squeeze the pulp for the first grade of jelly or it will not be clear. The cloudy jelly can be used for cakes and for whips. When all the juice has strained out measure it and allow an equal quantity of granulated sugar. Boil the juice 20 minutes and then add the sugar and boil five minutes longer, skimming carefully. Pour it into glasses, filling them very full. Cover when cold.

OATMEAL MUSH AND DIABETES.

Dr. Pavy of England has shown that diabetes is due to an imperfect digestion of starch and its absorption in the blood. It is impossible for the stomach to digest cereal foods taken in the form of mush in which the starch is less than half cooked. This is one of the reasons why diabetes is becoming so common in this country and British islands. French physicians long ago discovered that toasted bread or dextrinized starch is an excellent remedy in diabetes. The best dextrinized food, however, is known to be Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, made by the Battle Creek Sanitarium Food Co. These flakes are thin, thoroughly cooked and browned. They are very appetizing, partly pre-digested and quickly assimilable.

FOR BABY'S SKIN SCALP AND HAIR

Something for Mothers to Think About

EVERY CHILD born into the world with an inherited or early developed tendency to distressing, disfiguring humours of the skin, scalp, and blood, becomes an object of the most tender solicitude, not only because of its suffering but because of the dreadful fear that the disfiguration is to be lifelong and mar its future happiness and prosperity. Hence it becomes the duty of mothers of such afflicted children to acquaint themselves with the best, the purest, and most effective treatment available, viz., THE CUTICURA TREATMENT.

Warm baths with CUTICURA SOAP, to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, gentle anointings with CUTICURA OINTMENT, to instantly allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, to be followed in the severer cases by mild doses of CUTICURA RESOLVENT PILLS (see below), to cool and cleanse the blood, are all that can be desired for the alleviation of the suffering of skin-tortured infants and children and the comfort of worn-out, worried mothers. A single set costing $1.00 is often sufficient to cure when the best physicians fail.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 4.—There was nothing but Pittsburgh to the game today at the Polo grounds between the champions and New Yorks from start to finish, notwithstanding the spurt New York made in the last inning, scoring four runs.

Pittsburgh held them safe all through the game, even if they did not make as many base hits, but they were always there with the necessary hit when required to score a run for their side.

Capt. Clarke led his team in batting, making nearly one half of the hits made by the champions.

Phillippe pitched his usual good game against the Giants, with the exception of the last inning, when he let down and allowed the New Yorks to score four runs with two hands out.

Leach and Conroy both played an elegant fielding game, accepting 16 chances between them, some of Leach's being on hard-hit balls along the ground.

Trouble in New York.

Trouble has broken out in the New York club, the first under McGraw's management. Frank Bowerman, who was ordered to report for an exhibition game Sunday, refused to do so, and was fined $25 by McGraw. Bowerman says he will leave the club.

In the first inning the champions scored two runs. Capt. Clarke led off with his customary single. Beaumont popped a fly trying to sacrifice. Leach also filed out.

Wagner got a free pass, and Bransfield was hit with a pitched ball, filling the bases. Ritchey was there with the single sending in Clarke and Wagner.

Clarke opened the third inning with a single and went to third on Jones' fumble. Beaumont made a neat sacrifice, scoring his captain.

In the fourth the Pirates added three more runs to their score. Ritchey reached first on a hard hit to third. Conroy was hit by McGinnity, filling the bases. O'Connor hit safely, scoring Bransfield.

Ritchey Scored.

Phillippe sacrificed, Ritchey scoring. Clarke's two-bagger to right scored Conroy, which ended the run-getting for this inning. In the eighth Ritchey waited and walked. Conroy hit for two bases. Ritchey scored on O'Connor's sacrifice.

Phillippe sent a high fly to Brown, Conroy scoring after the catch. One more tally was added in the ninth when Wagner reached first, McGinnity hitting him with the ball. He stole second and kept on to third on Bresnahan's poor throw, and scored on Bransfield's fly.

New York scored a single run in the second, fourth and eighth innings, and in the ninth they scored four more. Lauder beat out a bunt. Smith popped a safe one. Brown beat out an infield hit, filling the bases.

McGraw singled, Lauder scoring. Bresnahan hit to Conroy, who fumbled it, and Smith and Brown scored. McGraw made a daring steal of third. McGann singled to right, which scored McGraw. Score:

POOLE'S COSTLY FUMBLE.

Failed to Get Farrell's Bunt in Seventh and Reds Lost to Hanlon's Superbas.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 4.—Brooklyn defeated Cincinnati by 3 to 1 today. Each side made a run in the first inning, but there was no further scoring until the latter half of the seventh, when the home players got two more runs on three singles, a sacrifice hit and Poole's fumble of Farrell's bunt. The pitching honors were about equally divided. The score:

ST. LOUIS BEAT BOSTON.

Donovan's Team Scored a Solitary Run in Sixth Which Proved the Winner.

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—St. Louis beat Boston in a seven-inning game, scoring a solitary run in the sixth inning. Brilliant fielding by Carney, who threw Brashear out at the plate, saved Boston from a worse defeat. Currie had the Boston batters at his mercy. Rain stopped the game at the end of the seventh inning. Score:

PLAYERS OUTLAWED.

Manager Powell of the New Orleans Team Refused to Allow St. Vrain, Evans and Babb in the Field.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4.—Under orders of Manager Powell, the police today refused admission of St. Vrain, Evans and Babb of the Memphis Baseball club when they tried to enter Athletic park, and there was no game this afternoon between Memphis and New Orleans clubs.

Unless the differences between the two managers shall be settled none of the series of three games will be played. Manager Frank said tonight:

"We shall play no game here unless St. Vrain, Evans and Babb are allowed to take part. I have a telegram from President Nicoll dated August 1, saying that all restrictions against my players had been withdrawn."

Manager Powell said: "We refused to let the three players enter today because they have been outlawed. Here the ruling of the minor league association we don't propose to play with them. To do so would be to run the risk of having ourselves outlawed."

YACHT RACES POSTPONED.

Boats Unable to Reach Course in Time For Scheduled Events.

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 4.—The Interlake Yacht Racing association of New York state postponed the races for the first day of the regatta which were to be sailed at Sheldrake on Cayuga lake today. The boats were not able to reach the lake in time, but the events will be held tomorrow.

Unusual interest is centered in the contest as the fastest boats on inland waters will compete. Many hundred dollars' worth up cups are at stake and several thousands of dollars have been wagered on the result.

ST. LOUIS WON AGAIN.

Took the Second Game from Baltimore With Ease—Wiltse Hit Hard.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—St. Louis took another game from Baltimore today without being pushed. The visitors made the same number of hits as the home team and one less error, but their work in the field was decidedly off color, lack of head work proving damaging. St. Louis bunched hits on Wiltse. Hemphill's drive over the right field fence was the feature. Attendance, 1,500. Score:

JOCKEYS REINSTATED.

Western Jockey Club Stewards Remove Bans from Riders and Trainers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—At a meeting of the stewards of the Western Jockey club today a number of disqualifications were removed and nearly 100 trainers, jockeys and apprentices were granted licenses.

A number of applications for reinstatement were passed to the next meeting of the board.

An order was adopted that all licensed trainers against whom forfeits have been lodged be notified that unless the forfeits are paid on or before September 1 the licenses will be revoked.

The list of officials submitted by the Kinloch Park Jockey club was approved.

ARENA WORK STARTS.

Erection of Boxes and Stage for McGovern-Corbett Fight Begins Today.

NEW LONDON, CONN., Aug. 4.—The contract for the erection of an arena for the proposed Corbett-McGovern boxing exhibition to be held in this city on August 29, was awarded today.

Work will begin on the structure tomorrow. Its exterior dimensions will be 420 feet by 250 feet, and it will seat 20,000 people. Tiers of boxes will encircle the ring and behind these and encircling them will be 20 tiers of seats.

All arrangements for the exhibition are going on despite the assertion that the fight will be stopped.

ROSE TREE WON GARDEN CITY RACE

AN OUTSIDER CAPTURED LEADING EVENT AT HARLEM TRACK.

Was Overlooked in the Betting on Account of the Other Fast Sprinters in the Race—Three Favorites and Two Second Choices Divide Other Events.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Rose Tree, E. Corrigan's imported mare, at odds of 12 to 1, won the Garden City stakes at Harlem today in 1:12 3-5, the fastest race of the season at six furlongs over the local tracks. Burnie Bunton was second with Wainamoinen third. Fifteen of the fastest sprints in the west started in the race.

Of these Jiminez, Constellator and A. D. Gibson were added starters. Otis, Scorpio and Flora Pomona were scratched. Toah was always the favorite. He ran a good race after being outfooted the first half and was beaten only by a head for third money, although several lengths separated him from the winner.

Burnie Bunton was second choice, while Rose Tree was practically overlooked in the betting, as she drifted from 5 to 1 to 12 to 1 at post time.

The stake was worth $3,340 to the winner. Dick Welles retrieved himself in the second race for the poor showing he made in the Test stakes last week, by turning the five furlongs in 1:00 flat, eased up.

Three favorites and two second choices divided the other five events. Weather cloudy and warm, track fast. Summary:

First race, six furlongs—L Etienne, 100, Birkenruth, 13 to 10, won; St. Cuthbert, 106, Coburn, 9 to 2, second; Winter, 106, Knight, 20 to 1, third. Time, 1:13 3-5. Anues, Lakeview Belle, Theory, Montanic, Dodie S. and Magi also ran.

Second race, five furlongs—Dick Welles, 111, Knight, 9 to 20, won; Sidney C. Love, 108, Hansch, 4 to 1, second; Mirence, 93, Wolfe, 30 to 1, third. Time, 1:00. Bay Wonder, Watoma, Tom Cogan, Senor and Jove ran. O'er Land and Sea left at post.

Third race, the Garden City handicap, six furlongs—Rose Tree, 106, Dominick, 12 to 1, won; Burnie Bunton, 110, Dominick, 9 to 2, second; Wainamoinen, 98, J. Hicks, 10 to

THREE-YEAR-OLD FRANCESCO WON THE HANDICAP

Charles F. Dwyer's Entry Took Classic Saratoga Event From Field.

HERBERT WAS SECOND

Articulate, Looked on as a Winner, Landed Under the Wire Third. Judith Campbell Won Flash Stakes—Other Results.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Charles F. Dwyer's 3-year-old Francesco won the $10,000 Saratoga handicap, the feature race of the Saratoga association's opening day's sport this afternoon; Herbert was second and Articulate third.

The time for the mile and three-sixteenths, 1:59, was very fast, considering that the track, although dried out considerably, was inclined to be cuppy.

Blues was the favorite with the Dwyer pair, Ethics and Francesco, coupled in the betting, strong second choices. The field numbered 11.

Articulate was first away from the post, but Lord Pepper and Blues outran him to the turn. Blues went to the front going down the backstretch and opened up a gap of five lengths.

Francesco gradually worked his way into second position, and, closing on Blues after the stretch was reached and drawling away, won handily by four lengths, Herbert, second, five lengths, before Articulate.

Advance Guard was fourth and Carbuncle fifth, close up. Blues collapsed completely nearing the finish. Ethics, Roxane, Nones and Reina were never factors after the first half mile had been traversed.

The Flash stakes at five and one-half furlongs resulted in a very easy victory for the favorite, Judith Campbell, who led from start to finish and won at the end by three lengths. Charles Elwood being second and Sergeant third.

The Ballston cup steeplechase resulted in a victory for Borough, who, solely through the superior jockeyship of Barry, beat out Self Protection, ridden by his owner, Harry S. Page, a head.

The attendance was very large, the society element being out in full force. Eastern and western owned horses divided the honors, each capturing three races. The weather was clear and warm. Summaries:

First race, sweepstakes for all ages, seven furlongs—Hermis, 114, Odom, 7 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Monograph, 110, O'Connor, 7 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Maud Gonne, 114, J. Martin, 15 to 1 and 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:28. Unmasked, Minerva, Tenagra, Gold Cure, South Trimble, Remorse, Tribes Hill, The Rival, Sweet Tooth and Port Royal also ran. San Nicholas left at the post.

Second race, the Ballston cup, steeplechase for hunters, two miles and a half—Borough, 164, Barry 2 to 1 and 3 to 5, won; Self Protection, 166, Mr. Page, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Rockstorm, 132, G. Green, 11 to 5 and 7 to 10, third. Time, 5:24. Gypsie also ran. Somerset fell.

Third race, the Flash stakes, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs—Judith Campbell, 112, Bullman, 2 to 1 and 4 to 5, won; Charles Elwood, 122, Wondedly, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, second; Sergeant, 112, J. Burns, 8 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:08. Africander, Tantalus Cup, Music, Glendale, Sparkle Esher, River Pirate, Gimerack and Short Hose also ran.

Fourth race, the Saratoga handicap, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile and three-sixteenths—Francesco, 97, H. Michaels, 3 to 1 and 7 to 5, won; Herbert, 118, L. Smith, 12 to 1 and 4 to 1, second; Articulate, 116, Wynne, 7 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:59. Chesapeake Guard, Carbuncle, Blues, Ethics, Roxane, Nones, Lord Pepper and Reina also ran.

Fifth race, for two-year-olds, selling, five and one-half furlongs—Wannakee, 94, Henderson, 40 to 1 and 15 to 1, won; Dark Planet, 102, J. Martin, 12 to 1 and 4 to 1, second; Gladiosa, 94, L. Smith, 5 to 1 and 8 to 5, third. Time, 1:08 1-5. Louise Collier, Dr. Saylor, Kickshaw, Christine A., Mackey Dwyer, Sheriff Bill, Nevermore, Anna Daly and Olloff also ran.

Sixth race, selling, for three-year-olds and upwards, one mile—Vincennes, 108, Lyne, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, won; Bluff, 111, T. Burns, 8 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Drummond, 103, McHenry, 20 to 1 and 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 4-5. Fonsoluca, King's Favorite, Five Nations, Philippine, Kilogram, Ennia, Lee King, Frank McKee, Anak, Handicapper and Guess Work also ran.

The following are the entries for tomorrow:

First race, 5½ furlongs—Cinquevalli, High Chancellor, Wax Candle, Decoration, Cincinnatus, 115; Guy Fark, Old Fort, 113; Lady Alsercraft, Jesop, Santo, 111; Coffee Boy, Boundless, Grantsdale, Bassence, 103; Hilarity, Gray Friar, Empress of India, Forward, Dazzling, 100.

Second race, one mile—Zorcaster, 110; Hans Wagner, 103; Conundrum, 102; Mosketo, 101; Locket, 94; Musidora, 89.

Third race, apprentice jockeys, 5½ furlongs—Farcroft, Showman, Mr. Dingle, Ornature, Lady Jib, Meadow Mint, Melinda, Yard Master, 112; Parisienne, Mollie Brunt, Dainty, Medal, 109.

Fourth race, the Alabama, 1 1-16 miles—Gun Fire, 124; Pensdell, 121; Bim Castle, Hessie McCarthy, Josephs, Plum Tart, Barouche, Par Excellence, Mary Worth, 116; Hatasoo, 114.

Fifth race, selling, 6 furlongs—Bellario, 113; Belring, 112; The Musketeer, 111; Delagoa, 109; Belle of Lexington, 108; Cloritta, 106; Anecdote, 103, Sadducee, 102; Roue, 99; Flying Buttress, Cionmell, 97.

Sixth race, handicap, 1¼ miles—Ten Candles, 116, Sombrero, Morningside, 110; Highlander, 109; Himself, 108; Caughnawaga, 107; Col. Bill, 103; Lanceman, 100; Cuspidor, 97; Numeral, Janice, 95; Daffo Down Dilly, 90.

CONGESTION WAS PARTLY RELIEVED

RAILROADS WORKED HARD ON SUNDAY AND MOVED MUCH FREIGHT.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Moved 12,000 Cars in Two Days, and Other Roads Cleared Their Tracks to a Large Extent.

At 6 o'clock yesterday morning the improvement in the condition of the railroads, as the result of the hard work of Saturday and Sunday, was most noteworthy. The congestion that had been piling up for some weeks had been to a large extent removed, but is not by any means all gone yet.

Fully 20,000 cars were moved Saturday and Sunday about Pittsburgh.

The West Penn division of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Baltimore & Ohio, in and about Pittsburgh, have been the most congested. It was stated yesterday by a transport official of the West Penn that the tie-up of traffic on that division had been practically removed, and that trains are being run satisfactorily.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad moved 2,100 cars at Pittsburgh on Sunday, and an equally large number on Saturday. The result showed when at 6 o'clock in the morning yesterday the eastbound passing sidings, which had for days been filled with freight awaiting movement, were reported clear. On the westbound sidings, however, there still remains considerable trouble. Improvement is shown by the fact that yesterday there were 521 fewer cars on the Pittsburgh division awaiting shipment than on Saturday morning. Only the motive power belonging to this division was used in effecting the improvement.

Improvement Is Great.

It is stated by a Baltimore & Ohio officials that, barring accidents, another week will restore the normal conditions. The trouble was started largely on the Wheeling branch, by the washout of the bridge over Wheeling creek July 10. On July 4 the Newark division had been tied up by washouts, in which several miles of tracks were lost. The repairs to these places have been completed, but the effects of several days of complete stoppage of traffic are still being felt. There has been recently a great increase of business from the Wheeling branch, and the single track of that line is hardly capable of handling all the business offered. There is much need of another track.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie moved 12,000 cars on Saturday and Sunday. As these cars will average 40 tons capacity, the total tonnage moved was almost 500,000. This is not the record movement for the road, but is very close to it.

In addition to the large number of engines owned by the "Little Giant," there were in use a number of Lake Shore and Erie engines, and two borrowed from the St. Clair Terminal Railroad Company.

New Engines at Work.

The Lake Erie has recently received six of the order of 15 large freight engines, and they are doing great work. Trains of 80 cars are being sent out with these engines daily. The remaining nine are due for receipt soon. They were made at the Pittsburgh works of the American Locomotive Company.

The opening of part of the Hazelton yards has greatly aided in the handling of the freight traffic on this line. Capacity for nearly 3,000 cars is now provided. The completed yard will handle 6,000 cars. The new position of general yardmaster in charge of these yards has been created, and E. Reese, formerly a passenger conductor on the line, has been appointed to the position.

Coke is now being moved promptly from the Connellsville region to the furnaces in the valleys. There is as large a car supply as the output of coke requires. The shortage at present is in the output, rather than in the transportation facilities. For a few weeks there were not enough cars to carry the coke offered at the ovens.

RECORD WON'T STAND.

Champion's Mark in Pittsburgh Not Allowed Because He Was Not Timed by Official Timekeepers.

BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—A sensation was sprung upon the pace followers today at Charles river track when Bobby Walthour returned from New York and announced that the N. C. A. had refused to allow Albert Champion's hour record of 43 miles, 1,197 yards, made at Pittsburgh.

The reason given was that the race was not timed by official timers recognized by the N. C. A. When in New York Bobby Walthour called upon Chairman Baethler and the latter told him that Harry Elks had the hour record and Walthour the 25-mile record.

Further conversation developed the fact that Champion's Pittsburgh record was rejected on the above named grounds. This, of counrse, throws all figuring on hour records and also on records up to 25 miles away out of reckoning.

Sale of Thoroughbreds.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Aug. 4.—Because of advancing years and feeble health, Gen. W. H. Jackson, the master of Belle Meade, has decided to quit the breeding of thoroughbreds. On October 22 and 23 next, at that noted nursery, some 25 stallions, brood mares, horses in training and youngsters will be sold at auction. Among the stallions are the Commodore, Inspector B., Imp Loyalist, Imp Tithonus, Imp Cyclonis, Luke Blackburn and Clarendon. Belle Meade was established by John Harding in 1803. On the place now rest the bones of Bonnie Scotland, Enquirer, Iroquois, Tremont and other celebrated racers.

McDonald Beat Fords.

The game between Ford club and McDonald was one of the best games seen at McDonald in years. A two-base hit, coupled with two errors, scored two runs for McDonald in the first. After that only one man from each side reached third. It was a pitchers' battle, Easley having slightly the better of it. Score:

Afro-American League Today.

HARRISBURG, PA., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—W. J. Ballor of Harrisburg and R. J. Nelson of Reading are rival candidates for president of the Pennsylvania Afro-American league, which holds its annual convention tomorrow in this city. Ballor has opened headquarters at the United States hotel and is conducting an active campaign.

Charged With Wife Murder.

PADUCAH, KY., Aug. 4.—Thomas Edwards of Nashville is in jail at Wickliffe on a charge of killing his wife and placing her body on the Illinois Central railroad track to be mangled by a train. Marks on her neck showed she had been choked to death.

Stone Thrower Kills Gun Man.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Aug. 4.—In a quarrel about a woman near Trenton today Mose Tyler, a farm hand, advanced with a drawn pistol on Thaddeus Coleman. Coleman hurled two stones at Tyler. The first stunned him and the second struck him on the head and killed him instantly.

Farmer Shot by Robber.

WOOSTER, O., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—Elmer McFadden, a farmer living near this city, was shot twice this morning by a burglar whom he discovered in his barn. The first shot grazed McFadden's right arm. McFadden grappled with the man, when he fired a second shot, the bullet going through McFadden's right foot.

German War Veterans.

HAMILTON, O., Aug. 4.—The convention of the German war veterans of America was called to order today by the president, Conrad Frank Erling. The discussion of the matter of publishing the bi-weekly organ of the society resulting in the appointment of a committee who reported in favor of Rudolph von Ahlefeld of Cleveland as the publisher of the official organ for the next two years.

The Pig Iron Output for Six Months Will Be Bought at End of Year.

NEW BUSINESS SHUNNED

United States Steel Corporation's Earnings Likely to Greatly Exceed President Schwab's Estimate. Proposed Steel Plate Pool.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 4.—Manufacturers say that by the close of the current month the books of the various blast furnaces will show that the possible production of pig iron for the first six months of next year will have been purchased. Future business is being taken on a basis of $17 and $18 at Alabama furnaces; $21 and $22 at Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio furnaces, and $19 and $20 at Virginia furnaces.

So far as future business is concerned the situation is the most remarkable in the history of the iron and steel industry. Manufacturers are not seeking new business for the simple reason that they find difficulty in taking care of unsolicited business.

Rogers, Brown & Co. estimate that the tonnage of foundry iron placed in the last 10 days for delivery during the first six months of 1903 will aggregate 300,000 tons. This, on top of 300,000 tons previously placed, makes the total of foundry iron booked somewhere between 600,000 and 800,000 tons. Assuming the output of this class of pig iron to be 4,000,000 tons a year, it would appear that about one-third of the first half of next year is already under contract. Some of the largest consumers announce themselves as completely booked to May 1.

The heavy demand for pig iron reflects the prosperity of the steel industry. Word comes from Chicago that the supply available for furnaces in that district has been narrowed to a small margin, one pig iron interest having been obliged to decline deliveries beginning earlier than April of next year. A Cincinnati manufacturer writes that if consumption continues at the present rate it is apparent that here will be a scarcity of iron through the first half of next year, certainly, and perhaps much longer.

Realty Combine's First Orders.

The important officers of the $66,000,000 United States Realty and Construction Company, which will consume more structural steel than any other organization in the world, have been decided upon. The president of the consolidated company will be Hendrik Johnson, president of the New York Realty Corporation. Harry S. Black, at present president of the George A. Fuller Company, will be chairman of the board of directors. Mr. Black also will be one of the vice presidents of the corporation, as will Samuel P. McConnell, who holds the office of vice president of the Fuller company. As vice presidents, Messrs. Black and McConnell will have charge of the construction department. The other vice presidents will be Albert F. Lake and Robert E. Dowling, vice presidents and active managers of the New York Realty Corporation. James Stillman, president of the $150,000,000 National City bank, will be chairman of the executive committee.

The Money Outlook.

Concerning the money situation, an officer of a local bank that carries a large line of interior deposits, said:

"If gold exports continue money rates naturally will assume a firmer tone. However, exaggerated rates are unlikely. Flurries can be expected but they will be of short duration. Our western and southern correspondents inform us that demands upon the eastern banks for funds in connection with the movement of grain and cotton will not be in excess of last season's. In fact, many of them are of the opinion that they will be somewhat less than a year ago. The banks of the interior are becoming more and more independent in the matter of available funds. There was a time when the question of supplying the west and south with grain and cotton funds was regarded as an important one, but their requirements are growing less every year. The tide of funds will turn in the direction of the west and south about the first of next month. Interior funds have been coming in rather freely of late."

Steel Corporation's Earnings.

A person in close touch with the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation today said the earnings of the combine for the current fiscal year would be considerably in excess of the estimate of $140,000,000 made by President Schwab. To earn $140,000,000 a year the corporation would be required to earn on an average of not much over $11,500,000 a month. Their earnings are now averaging $13,000,000 a month. Not until the latter part of the year are the earnings of the corporation expected to show any material falling off.

No Dividend on Republic Common.

It has been currently reported in financial circles for some time that the directors of the Republic Iron and Steel Company contemplate the payment of a small dividend on the common stock. When the rumor was called to the attention of a representative of the company today he said a dividend on the common shares in the near future is unlikely, as the directors are pursuing a very conservative policy and would first place their property in good physical condition and accumulate a substantial surplus before considering payments on the common.

Prospects for Steel Plate Pool.

Now that the principal shipbuilding interests of the country have been consolidated, it is considered more likely that the much discussed merger of the steel plate mills will be accomplished. The shipbuilding industry consumes the largest proportion of the steel plate made in this country, and competent observers of the situation point out that it is only a natural trade sequence that the consumers and the producers should desire stable relations to exist between them.

There is nothing in the present state of the market to make immediate action in this direction an urgent need. In fact, the pressure the steel plate mills are now under to deliver their orders leaves little time in which those in control may devote to this subject. It is believed, nevertheless, that this matter will be actively taken up as soon as there is a slight lull in the market.

Steel plate makers report that they are able to get all the soft coal they need, and that orders continue to come in practically the same volume as during the past several weeks. E. W. HARDEN.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 4—Revised figures show that Cripple Creek's production last month was 54,000 tons of ore, yielding $1,885,500 gross. The output would have been larger but for the closing of the Ajax and the curtailment of several Battle mountain shippers, owing to scarcity of water; but the camp is, nevertheless, producing more ore than at any previous time.

The Ori Abe, in White Oaks, N. M., has passed into control of the Eagle Mining Company which was financed by Indiana men. New machinery will be installed and more economic methods of mining put into operation.

A dispatch from Boise, Ida., says the Dewey management has decided not to let any more contracts for building a new wagon road to Thunder mountain this season.

In the seventh level of the Henrietta, near Silverton, Col., 12 feet of vein matter has been cut. It shows yellow copper, black copper and copper glance.

Idaho Springs (Col.) reports that the Internal Mining Company of Boston has secured the Weldon and Fairmount. The price was $140,000 for the two properties.

Leasers on the Sunburst, at Georgetown, Col., have opened a body of ore which is full of gray copper, black sulphurets and polybasite. Some of it will mill $1,000 a ton.

Eastern men have taken an option on the Elder Creek group, near Battle mountain, Nev., and are projecting a 100-foot tunnel.

The Metal Market.

English metal markets were closed today. All local markets were dull and featureless, with traders manifesting little interest as to the course of prices. Tin eased off a trifle on the bid price, spot closing at $28.25@28.50. There were no sales reported on change. In copper dullness also ruled, prices sagging from 5 to 15 points in sheer absence of support. Standard, spot to November, closed at $11.30@11.60; lake, $11.70@11.95; electrolytic, $11.70@11.85; casting, $11.60@11.70. Lead and spelter were quiet, the former at 4¼c and spelter at 5¾c. Iron locally was steady with a good demand at unchanged prices. No. 1 foundry, northern, $23.00@25.00; No. 2 foundry, northern, $22.00@23.00; No. 1 foundry, southern, $22.00@25.00; No. 1 foundry, southern, soft, $22.00@23.00. Warrants were nominal and not quoted.

Early Activity Falls Away and Day Becomes One of Dullest of Year.

MONEY MARKET FEVERISH

Question of Future Has Bad Influence on Prices—Iron and Steel Group Given Advantage on Brilliant Trade Prospects.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 4.—There was no strong influence at work in today's market and the rate of activity fell away to about the dullest of the year. The closing of the London stock exchange was only a slight factor in the dullness. The future of the local money market was a more effective consideration. Last week's loan increase has brought the loans of the New York clearing house banks to a total of over $919,000,000, which is $40,000,000 in excess of those of a year ago. Deposits are only about $1,000,000 greater, but the cash reserves are about $8,000,000 less than a year ago and the surplus reserves about $8,000,000 less. But the condition of the New York trust companies is of greater importance now than ever before in estimating the money situation, their deposits on June 30 of $700,000,000 comparing with $957,000,000 in the banks on the same date.

Watching Trust Companies.

Comparative figures show that trust companies' loans on collateral and on personal security were over $630,000,000, compared with $547,000,000 a year ago, while the actual cash on hand reported by these institutions on June 30 was only $8,238,110, or less than $1,000,000 greater than last year. The enormous expansion of the business of the trust companies is the key to the cautious feeling which gains force as the period approaches for the interior demand for currency. Today's developments seem to show that the outward movement of gold is over for the present, owing, probably, to the success attending the French rente conversion plan. Discounts in Paris today fell to near 2 per cent and an advance in the sterling rate there indicated renewed remittances to London to be placed in the loan market there. Aside from this general repressive influence, only a few stocks were affected by individual causes.

Good for Iron and Steel.

The iron and steel group had some advantage from the brilliant trade prospects, the strong semi-annual report of the Republic Steel Company, rumors of coming developments concerning the Pressed Steel Car Company and inspired intimations of large earnings for July by the United States Steel Corporation. The government's favorable estimates of the August 1 cotton condition had some effect on cotton carrying railroads, and an attempt was made to advance the coalers on the idea that coal mining may be resumed soon. But the effect was only transitory. Profit-taking by the room traders, who had been the only buyers, caused prices to retrace their course. One or two stiffened up at the last, notably Texas & Pacific, but the closing was dull and irregular.

There was a violent rise and a feverish reaction in the Central of Georgia income bonds. Otherwise there was no feature in the bond market. Total sales, par value, $1,112,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says: Midsummer dullness settled upon Wall street yesterday and no definite tone was noted in speculative sentiment. The attendance of brokers on the floor of the exchange was slim and brokerage offices had a deserted appearance. The dealings of the day were of a purely professional character, in consequence of which little significance attached to the fluctuations. The market opened steady and developed strength at mid-day, but on the advances traders encountered long stock and the market relapsed into irregularity toward the close.

* * *

London was closed for a holiday, depriving the market of some business from foreign sources. The day was even more dull, however, than appeared from the meagre total of 398,534 shares. Of this aggregate, nearly one-fifth was made up of Reading common, in which there were transactions of 43,900 shares, and Union Pacific rights, dealings in which aggregated 25,783 shares. Dealings in these and four other properties—Atchison, Missouri Pacific, St. Louis Southwestern and Tennessee Coal and Iron—greatly exceeded half the business of the day.

* * *

Brokers apparently rather welcome than not the lull in the business, and one rather extensive group were more interested in the disposition of a picture and betting on one another's chances in drawing odd or even numbers than they were in securities. The petition to close the exchange on Saturday, in commemoration of King Edward's coronation, was eagerly signed in consequence of the apathetic market. In a general way it was believed that the New York Yacht club cruise and the opening of the racing season in Saratoga had much to do with the dullness, inasmuch as these events took many traders—the backlog of the present market—out of town.

* * *

Despite the dullness securities maintained a strong undertone and there was but little liquidation, except of professional profit-taking character. The slowing down of the market appeared almost as though by design, for in nearly every instance when prices were advanced a little long stock was fed out and the movement halted.

* * *

Money showed a slightly firmer tendency, though without a quotable change in rates, and the monetary situation played some part in the discussions of the day. The belief is quite general that money will become an important factor in the market a little later on.

NEW COAL CONCERN LAUNCHED.

Organization Completed to Develop 1,000 Acres Near Blaine, W. Va.

The Blaine Mining Company of Davis, W. Va., yesterday completed its organization at the Hotel Henry. The company will develop 1,000 acres of coal, owned and leased, near the town of Blaine, W. Va., on the West Virginia Central railroad. Mines already opened for the company have an output of 500 tons a day, and the managers of the company plan to materially increase this.

The meeting yesterday elected T. B. Davis, Jr., president; C. E. Smith, secretary, and W. P. Young, treasurer. Headquarters will be at Davis, W. Va.

Cereals Close Lower in Chicago

ANXIOUS SHORTS DRIVE UP PRICES AT THE OPENING

Fine Weather and Excellent Prospects Ignored by Bears Seeking Cover.

HEAVY LONG LINES OUT

Withdrawal of Support in Wheat Brings Big Slump—Early Strength in Corn Fails to Hold Out—Oats Trade Light.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Manipulation and fears of September shorts in all grains influenced an early firmness in grain today out of all proportion to the natural trend that follows such a prolific season. Support, however, that was necessary to the scheme of the bulls was withdrawn and prices tumbled sharply. As a result September wheat closed ¾@⅞c down, September corn 1½c lower and September oats ⅝@¾c lower. Provisions closed 10@15c lower.

Fine weather and excellent crop prospects were almost entirely ignored at the opening of the wheat pit in the anxiety of shorts to cover. Gossip had another deal afoot, this time in September wheat. It was admitted there were heavy long lines out, and naturally that meant a big short interest. Statistics generally were a little bullish, although local receipts were very liberal. After a trifling dip early there was very good buying by a prominent professional house. September opened ⅛c to a shade down at 70⅝@70¼c to 70⅝c and quickly advanced to 71c. Much of the covering was for foreign houses, influenced by the small world's shipments and the decrease in breadstuffs on passage.

Some Heavy Unloading.

At top figures there was heavy unloading, supposed to be for the interests that were supporting early, and as a result September slumped to 69⅜@69¾c, and closed weak, ¾@⅞c lower at 69⅞c. The cash demand was reported good, the local situation was somewhat improved and grading was very low. Local receipts were 263 cars, 8 of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 210 cars, making a total for the three points of 473 cars, against 647 last week, and 534 a year ago. Primary receipts were 1,396,000 bushels, against 1,464,000 bushels a year ago. Clearances in wheat and flour equaled 576,000 bushels.

There was good early strength in corn, induced by very small receipts, but it did not hold. As in wheat, there was talk of manipulation of September options and all the market needed to slump sharply was selling by the bulls supposed to be under the deal. The local buying early, although very light, was good enough to push prices up 1c. At the top prices the bulls let go about 1,000,000 bushels.

Close Near the Bottom.

From that time there was no support, offerings depressed the prices and the close was near the bottom. September opened ¼@⅜c up at 58⅛c to 58¾c, sold to 58⅝@58¾c, dropped to 57⅞@57¼c and closed weak ½c down at 57¼@57⅝c. Receipts were only 45 cars.

Oats felt the bullish influence of the corn advance and light receipts and early made good advances. Trade was light, but covering was fair. When corn broke, oats followed and the slump that resulted was augmented by favorable weather and good crop advices. September sold from 33c to 33⅜c, dipped to 32¼c and closed week, ⅝@⅞c down, at the last figure. Receipts were 128 cars.

Provisions were quiet and of a waiting nature. Hogs were fairly steady and checked a break that followed renewed outside liquidation of a light character. September pork closed 12½c lower at $16 72½; September lard 10c down at $10 02½, and September ribs 15c down at $8 40.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 320 cars; corn, 80 cars; oats, 305 cars; hogs, 20,000 head.

Local Stocks Were Dull and Narrow, but Still Quite Firm

THE BANKS AND COAL STOCKS LED THE SALES

Prices Advanced Sharply on Active Buying and a Broader Demand.

RAIL COAL WAS FIRMER

Heavy Buying by an Inside House Sent the Price Up—Reacted at the Close—Miscellaneous Issues Very Dull—Bonds Were Neglected.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was very dull and narrow, but still quite firm, the closing prices on the 2,612 shares sold generally showing advances. The feature of the day's business was in the banking group. Of these, Federal National bank easily led, as over 150 shares changed hands, and the price closed at 148, an advance over Saturday of $4 a share. The advance is due to the securing of some very large accounts and a rumor that dividends may shortly be commenced. Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company was also firmer and higher, advancing to $234 bid at the close. The final price paid was $232, for two shares, and represented a loss of $1 for the day, but the actual market price of $234 was a gain of $2. The only other member of the group that was dealt in was American Trust, 10 shares selling unchanged at 128. In the quotations, however, there was considerable of interest. Allegheny National Bank was bid up $1 2-3 a share to 123½, a new high record, without any explanation for the advance. First National Bank of Pittsburgh went up $4 to $615 bid and Pittsburgh Trust jumped $5 to $620 bid. There are many vague rumors of "deals" and "combines" among some of the leading banks and trust companies, but denials are generally forthcoming when information is sought. In the general list Pittsburgh Coal common was the feature, an inside house taking over 1,500 shares out of the day's business of 1,410 shares. The price advanced to 27¾ but reacted to 27⅝ at the close. Dividend rumors continue, but without any confirmation. The preferred stock was not dealt in but was firmer at 90¼ bid and 90¼ asked. River Coal issues were dull and only about steady. Westinghouse Electric seconds advanced fractionally on small sales, while Airbrake was $1 lower at 185. Brewing common was firmer and higher, advancing 5-8 to 28⅛. Philadelphia Company common also gained a fraction. Crucible Steels were steady but dull and practically unchanged. U. S. Steels did not get a sale, the common closing at 40 bid and the preferred at 90⅛. National Fire Proofing issues also passed the day without a sale, the common finishing at 31⅛@32 and the preferred at 59½@59¾. Bonds were almost completely ignored, having no sales. The market's close was very dull.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $2,278,285 68.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange 2,612 shares.

Federal National bank advanced $4 to $143.

Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust advanced to $234 bid at the close.

Westinghouse Electric seconds were dull but ⅜ higher at 106⅛.

Window Glass was dull and unchanged at 62¼.

Crucible Steel closed at 21⅛ and the preferred at 86⅛.

Pittsburgh Coal common sold 1,410 shares and advanced to 27¾. Close at 27⅝.

Brewing stocks were firmer and higher.

United States Steel and Fire Proofing issues neglected.

Bonds passed without a sale.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

"Barney" Dreyfuss was given three cheers by brokers on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday in appreciation of his letter granting the "Bulls" and "Bears" the use of the opposition grounds for a ball game tomorrow. The entire active membership of the exchange constitute the talent for the two nines. President Dreyfuss expressed the hope that he might find some new material for the Pirates.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

Hill & Co. sold American Trust Company at 128.

Robinson Bros. sold Philadelphia Company common.

There was not a trade in the bond department during the day.

There was not a trade in United States Steel or Fire Proofing stocks all day.

Just before the close 80 was bid for 20 Union Switch & Signal common.

The New Orleans exchange will be closed Saturday, August 9, in honor of King Edward's coronation.

Henry J. Lotz left yesterday afternoon for Bert Lake, Mich. He will spend two or three weeks in that locality.

The annual meeting of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company will be held at Milwaukee on September 27.

H. M. Long was the only seller of Lustre Mining; despite the fact that he is a persistent bull, he continues to market it at 14.

Lytle offered 200 Safe Deposit & Trust Company at 110; it is unusual for such large blocks of a trust company or bank stock to be offered.

Hill & Co. were almost the sole buyers of Pittsburgh Coal common, getting 1,310 shares, being all but 100 that sold. McMullin sold 450.

The London Statist estimates that the Union Pacific, after interest on the Southern Pacific purchase debt, has earned 11 per cent on the common stock.

Sproul & Co. and Lytle & Davis were the principal sellers of Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Company; Miller was the largest individual buyer.

The steel holders of the Sharon Steel Company voted in favor of increasing the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 in order to carry out improvements.

Weitengel, Sproul & Co., Holmes & Sons and Lytle & Davis were the largest buyers of Federal National bank; Lawrence, Crawford & Eberman, Barbour, Hill & Co. and Sproul & Co. were the sellers.

United States Steel was bought on earnings and news agencies printing reports that these earnings would be in excess of $140,000,000 and the net earnings for July are expected to be not far from $18,000,000.

It is said that the deal between the Frisco and the Morgan interests will give the former control of the Georgia Central. This system connects with the Frisco at Birmingham, and extends to the Atlantic coast at Savannah.

Last week 50 was bid on the Pittsburgh stock exchange for Calumet & Arizona Mining stock, of which about $500,000 is held by prominent Pittsburghers. Par is $10, and there are prospects of dividends before very long. In connection with this a dispatch from Calumet, Mich., will prove interesting. It says: "The Calumet & Pittsburgh Development Company of this city, which is associated with the Calumet & Arizona Mining company of Bisbee, Ariz., has called a special meeting of stockholders to vote on an increase of capital stock from $200,000 to $400,000. The new stock is to be sold at par and is to be used in buying the Del Oro and in bonding the Ormond claims, all of which lie close to the property which the Development company is working. The company is also issuing to its stockholders at par the unissued balance of its original capitalization. This stock, which is $10 par, is held at $40 to $45 bid, or 400 to 450 per cent. The company is owned by the same Duluth, Calumet and Pittsburgh interests which own the Calumet & Arizona and the Lake Superior Mining & Development, the latter is the purchaser for $1,200,000 of the famous South Bisbee. All the properties are at Bisbee and lie close to the Copper Queen. The smelter now building for the Calumet & Arizona will be running in a few months, and by the beginning of next year will be making at least 1,000,000 pounds of copper a month. A meeting of the directors will soon be held to decide on doubling the smelter capacity. This almost surely will be decided favorably. Pittsburgh people connected in important capacities with the United States Reduction & Refining Company, the Calumet & Arizona will be continued to market it at 21 at 14.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

Amalgamated looks like doing better.

It looks as if we were in for a dull week.

Tennessee Coal & Iron is showing decided strength. There are strong points out to buy the stock.

Conditions could not be more favorable, money continues easy and we believe that we have seen the beginning of the end of the strike, therefore, while the market is somewhat irregular at times we feel that the foundation is solid and those who purchase stocks, particularly the lower priced issues, with the idea of holding them, will eventually realize big profits.—Lounsberry.

Unrecorded Quotations.

Trada Dollar Mining offered at $1.50 a share.

Near the close 234 was bid for Commonwealth Real Estate & Trust Co.

Philadelphia Company new 5s were quoted at 105¾ bid, offered and sold at 106⅜.

Pittsburgh & Charlerol Street railway 5s were quoted at 106 bid and 106⅜ asked.

Dividends.

It is believed the Alton will show for the year ended June 30, barely 1 per cent for the common.

Manhattan directors say the year ended June 30 will show over 6 per cent earned on the stock.

The American Radiator Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on the preferred stock, payable August 15.

The Philadelphia Company declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on the preferred stock, payable September 1 to stock of record August 15.

STARTED WITH A GAIN.

Pittsburgh Bank Exchanges for Yesterday Over $2,278,000 Larger Than Last Year.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges for yesterday were more than $2,278,000 larger than those for the same day last year, thus giving the present week a good start. The Treasury and the Banks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—(Special.)—In redemption of 4 per cent bonds by deposits of gold at the Seattle assay office, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out Saturday $260. Total thus paid since Friday, $1,287. The payments to the Philadelphia New York banks for the day, $3,903,000. Payment by banks to government, $3,740,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $163,000, paid by banks to government since Friday, $378,000, against $31,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago.

IN THE OIL FIELDS.

Monday proved a dull day in the lower southwest fields. Only a small number of wells was completed and they of small consequence either as to size or location.

In the north end of the new Freeport development in Greene county the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 2 on the M. L. Pethiel farm and has a 60-barrel producer.

On Richwood run, Wetzel county, W. Va., the United States Coal and Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the D. H. Cox farm through the Gordon and has a duster. It is now drilling to the fifth sand.

In the new Gordon sand development southwest of Littleton the Philadelphia Company has drilled its test on the James Van Horn farm into the Gordon and has a show for a producer. The well made one flow and was then shut in to move for the boiler.

On Buffalo creek the Kanawha Oil Company has drilled its No. 32 on the Big Mills tract into the Big Injun sand and has a show for a 40-barrel producer. It will be drilled to the Gordon.

On Richmond run the Carter Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the J. M. Lovell farm through the Gordon and has a show for a very small well.

In the Pine Grove district the South Penn Oil Company's No. 7 on the L. S. Dulaney farm had stopped producing and on Saturday they gave it a shot and the ensuing 24 hours it placed 65 barrels to its credit.

On the west side of the northeast end of the Folson development near the Marvin-Weizel county line, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the E. R. Cunningham farm through all sands and has a duster. After drilling below all known sands the well was abandoned.

Increased When Shot.

On Big Knot run, Clay district, Ritchie county, Mallory Bros. & Co. gave the No. 1 on the John Freeland farm its first dose of the high explosive fluid last Saturday and the well produced 850 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. In the meantime the Three Joes Oil Company's No. 1 on the Elroy Wagner farm dropped from 400 to 300 barrels a day.

On Bonds creek, in the same district and county, the Cleveland and Parkersburg Oil Company's No. 2 on the J. E. Bonds farm and the Associated Producers Company's No. 1 on the William Campbell farm are holding up at 140 and 120 barrels a day respectively.

Near Petroleum, Wood county, Stiles Bros. have completed their No. 35 on the Volcano Oil and Coal tract and J. S. Wiles & Co.'s No. 3 on the West Virginia Oil and Coal tract. Both are very light producers in the Salt sand.

In the Salem district the good producers are beginning to decline. The Southern Oil Company's Riffe has dropped to 125 barrels. The Eastern Oil Company's No. 8 Ritter heirs to 205 barrels and O'Day Bros. & Gartlan's No. 2 E. W. Custer to 130 barrels a day.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side in the Jackson Ridge development, in Monroe county, the Keener Oil Company has drilled its No. 8 on the Bradford Grey farm through the Keener sand and has a show for a 25-barrel well.

Northeast of Riparda Mills, Munroe county, Smith & Woodruff have drilled their No. 2 on the Martin Bros. farm into the Big Lime and in that formation have a natural producer, good for 15 barrels a day. This is the first well in that locality to get so good a showing at that level. Southeast of Riparda Mills, in Washington county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 1 on the Esau McVay farm is holding up at 140 barrels a day.

A Bunch of Small Pumpers.

Near Germantown, Washington county, the Consolidated Oil and Mining Company has drilled in its No. 9 on the C. N. and E. C. Miller farm and has a five-barrel pumper in the second Cow Run sand.

Lessee Bros. Oil Company completed a test on the Charles Gruber farm and have a show of the same size in the second Cow Run sand.

Near Payne station the Boston Oil Company has completed its No. 1 on the D. L. Lepmer farm and have a 10-barrel pumper.

In the Marietta district Henry C. Lord & Co. have drilled in their No. 8 on the Joseph Fisher farm and have a show for a 25-barrel producer.

In the same district Jerry Buckley's No. 5 on the Nancy Robinson farm is holding up at 170 barrels a day.

In the Chester Hill district, Morgan county, F. M. Selby & Co. have drilled their test on the John Yarnell farm through the Big Injun sand and have a duster. They will drill down and test the Berea grit.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The coffee market opened steady in tone, with August 5 points higher and other months unchanged to 5 points lower. For the balance of the session a most irregular market followed, with the bull syndicate practically in control, whereas for some time past the near positions have ruled relatively firm on support, the bull contingent today they were relatively weak and finished at about the bottom with sentiment concerning them once more quite bearish. The importing element sold with considerable confidence at times, believing the weaker shorts to have covered, and that a large speculative long interest has accumulated. The reaction was regarded as the order, particularly as Brazil receipts were heavy and foreign market news not up to expectations. Trading was very active all day with the close 5 points lower than yesterday's net unchanged to 15 points lower, while distant months were unchanged to 15 points higher. Total sales were 131,500 bags, including August, 7,000@5.85c; September, 5,500@5.80c; October, 5,350@5.50c; December, 5,850@5.50c; January, 55,45@5.50c; February, 5,450@5.45c; March, 5,400@5.60c; May, 5,600@5.75c; June, 5,650@5.85c; July, 5,750@5.95c. Sugar—Raw, steady; fair refining, 2¾c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3⅜c. Molasses sugar, 2¾c. Refined steady.

Earnings and Reports.

Mexican Central gross earnings for June increased $85,507; net increased $30,000.

Hocking Valley for the fourth week in July increased $39,080. Increase for the month, $84,080.

Norfolk & Western earnings for June showed a gross increase of $120,407, and a net increase of $78,855.

The net earnings of Wheeling & Lake Erie for June increased $3,943, and the net for the fiscal year increased $65,830.

A statement of the income account of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company for the month of March 31, 1902, follows: Gross earnings, $15,409,817 48; operating expenses, $7,385,883; surplus, $8,023,934 48; fixed charges, $1,815,421 52. Deducted from this is the charge for wear and tear on plants, renewals, repairs, improvements and cost of operation, amounting to $824,818. The liabilities outstanding are $41,547,900. Since its beginning the officers of the company claim it has acquired, in addition to plants equivalent in value to the full amount of liabilities, lands and raw materials worth $21,150,000, a dividend of 4½ per cent per annum has been declared on the common stock. The annual dividend on preferred stock is 7 per cent.

DEATH RUDELY INTERRUPTED VACATION JOY

Edward J. Kolb, Jr., Was Drowned While Bathing With Friends.

WAS MERRIEST OF CROWD

In Sight of Fifteen Companions He Sank in Monongahela Near Pt. Marion on Sunday—Body Was Found, but Nurses Work in Vain.

Saddened by a fatal accident, a little party of Allegheny and Pittsburgh people yesterday returned from Pt. Marion, bringing with them the body of Edward Kolb, Jr., drowned in the Monongahela river on Sunday afternoon.

On Friday morning Kolb, with his three sisters, Mrs. Cecelia Mertes and Edward J. Kolb, Jr.

Annie and Tillie Kolb, and his friends, William R. McNaughton and Al. L. Heibling, left this city for Pt. Marion to enjoy two weeks' vacation at this popular resort at the junction of the Cheat and Monongahela rivers.

The party arrived at Pt. Marion Saturday morning and had been having a merry time previous to the sad accident. On Saturday evening they were in bathing, and yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock a merry party of 15 entered the water again and the air resounded with the splashing and the cries and laughter of the party. Edward Kolb was the merriest of them all and his pranks amused the entire crowd.

A Saddened Crowd.

Of the 15 bathers 10 were good swimmers, but neither Kolb nor his friends could swim and kept splashing about in the water near the shore. Intent on their fun, none noticed that Kolb had waded far out into the stream until one saw him throw up his arms and disappear. Thinking it was only a joke he waited for a few moments and then sounded the alarm.

Eight minutes after he sank the young man was pulled out of the river with a boat hook, and two trained nurses who were with the party worked over an hour in an attempt to revive him, but their labors were in vain.

Sadly the little crowd carried the body of their friend into Pt. Marion, where it was prepared for burial and brought to Allegheny, reaching there yesterday morning, accompanied by the grief-stricken members of the party.

Edward J. Kolb, Jr., was a stamp clerk in the Allegheny postoffice and was very popular with his fellow clerks and the patrons of the office. All knew him well, and he was particularly noticeable on account of his diminutive stature and boyish appearance.

Often Taken for Boy.

He was 33 years of age, but was only 4 feet 5 inches in height, and his weight was but 74 pounds. His boyish appearance was a constant source of mistakes, which he seemed to enjoy more than anyone else, and he delighted in recounting the humorous experiences he had through being mistaken for a boy.

He was the son of Edward J. Kolb, Sr., a well-known resident of Allegheny, and in July, 1894, was appointed registry clerk in the Allegheny postoffice, which position he held until 1899, when he became stamp clerk. His fidelity and ability had earned the esteem of his superiors and Postmaster James A. Bier, who was very fond of his assistant, said yesterday that he considered him one of the most painstaking and accurate employes of the office, as well as one whose sunny disposition made him a favorite with all classes.

Was Prominent Elk.

Kolb was a member of lodge 339, Brotherhood of the Protective Order of Elks, and at the Milwaukee convention in 1901 took the prize for being the smallest man in the organization. The Morgantown lodge of Elks, which was preparing to go into camp at Pt. Marion, had already an advance guard there, and Kolb and his friends were anticipating a merry time in company with the members of that lodge.

Edward Kolb, Jr., lived at No. 14 Juniata street, Allegheny. He is survived by his father and mother, three brothers, Joseph, Albert and Charles, and four sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth McElroy, Mrs. Cecelia Mertes and Annie and Tillie Kolb.

SCHOOLS TO EXHIBIT.

Their Work Will Be a Leading Attraction at Exposition.

An attraction of great interest at the Pittsburgh Exposition this fall will be the educational exhibits, which will consist of the combined work of the city's 20 vacation schools, the School of Design, the Third Ward Manual Training school of Allegheny, and the Pennsylvania Reform school. The exhibit of the Reform school took the second prize at the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo last year, its only rival being the work displayed by the Johns Hopkins university of Baltimore.

The managers of the Reform school are making every effort to have the Pittsburgh display excel the one at Buffalo and have guaranteed to have an attractive exhibition. The other three schools are making extensive preparations for an elaborate display of the work of the schools.

Increased Wages.

Many men have had their wages raised recently. The wise ones are saving the increase and placing it where it will earn more money. When work is slack or wages are low they'll have a fund to draw on. We pay 4 per cent interest on savings and a capital and surplus of $800,000 assure safety. The Pennsylvania Trust Company of Pittsburgh, 410 Smithfield Street.

TEACHERS PASS FROM ONE LAND OF ART TREASURES TO ANOTHER.

Visits to The Hague and Amsterdam. Some of the Rembrandt Masterpieces—A Gem Found in a Butcher Shop—A Touch of Bad Weather.

By L. W. STRAYER.

Special Correspondence of The Gazette.

AMSTERDAM, July 22.—Tired, hungry and happy, The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph tourist teachers arrived here this evening, having crossed the Belgian frontier into Holland, braved the Dutch customs officers, adopted another kind of money and seen some beautiful and famous pictures.

There was an early breakfast at Brussels and then the party was driven from the Grand hotel to the station where they took a train for The Hague. At an intermediate station on the Dutch frontier there was a stop of half an hour for an interview with the customs officials. All the baggage was taken into the station, with the exception of the hand satchels, which were left in the coaches, and each passenger was compelled to identify and declare whether it contained anything dutiable. It was really only a matter of form, for scarcely any of the baggage was opened and a mere nod of the head was sufficient to secure the chalk-mark hieroglyphics, which meant that the authorities were satisfied. Then the baggage was all loaded onto the train again and we resumed our journey.

It is four hours' ride from Brussels to The Hague and by the time we reached our destination we were ready for luncheon. A special tram car awaited us at the station and took us to the Hotel Bellevue, where luncheon was served.

It had been raining at intervals all morning and we were just able to reach the art gallery before a heavy shower began. This gallery contains some of Rembrandt's greatest works, the most famous being his "School of Anatomy." Another one is his "Simeon in the Temple." Next to these the one which attracted the most attention was Paul Potter's "Bull," a painting which hung for a number of years in a butcher shop before its qualities were discovered, and it was placed among the other masterpieces in the gallery.

The rain caused the abandonment of a train ride to Scheveningen, the famous Dutch watering place, which would also have given us a view of the "House in the Wood," where the famous peace conference was held. So, after rambling about the town for a while the party returned to the hotel and awaited the time for the train to Amsterdam. We arrived there about 6 o'clock and were driven to the Hotel Pays-bas, where an excellent dinner was served. After dinner an impromptu dance was given in the hotel parlors, and plans made for a more pretentious dance tomorrow evening.

At The Hague some of the ladies invested in Delft pottery, and I foresee a great a run on the pottery shops of Amsterdam as there was on the lace shops of Brussels. But as shopping is one of the keenest delights of woman, and as this is a pleasure excursion, why not?

CONFER WITH FARMERS.

J. J. Hill and Other Railroad Officials Break Bread at Davenport, Wash., With Man With Hoe.

SPOKANE, WASH., Aug. 4.—"I am getting to be an old man. I have not many years to live. If I accomplish all I have set out to do, things must move with celerity."

Such was the statement of James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway, who, in company with Charles F. Mellen, president of the Northern Pacific, and A. L. Mohler, president of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company, arrived at Davenport this morning to confer with the farmers of the "Big Bend" country in regard to railroad rates and shipping conditions.

Delegates are present from a region that may harvest 20,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

The day's program included a public meeting at 10 a. m., addressed by President Hill, a dinner with the farmers at noon and a conference between the railroad presidents and the representatives of the farmers in the afternoon.

President Mellen announced that the Northern Pacific has ordered the building of a railway from the terminus of the Central Washington at Coulee City to Adrian on the Great Northern, about 25 miles south. This will cut off 150 miles of the haul to the coast.

COBBLE STONES BEING REMOVED FROM STREET

Rattle of Vehicles Has Greatly Annoyed the Judges For Months.

ASPHALT IS BEING LAID

Work of Repairing in Ross Street Was Started Yesterday by Bureau of Highways and Sewers—Permanent Improvements Being Made.

The judges of the Allegheny county courts will no longer be disturbed by the annoyances resulting from the rattle of wagons over the cobblestones in Ross street. For some months, or since the warm weather has made it necessary that the court room windows be kept open, the judges and others attending trials have been complaining of the nuisance, and as a last resort appealed to the county commissioners to have the annoyance removed if possible.

Ross street is paved with asphalt, and owing to the constant and heavy traffic on the street in a number of places the asphalt has been worn through, causing holes to appear in the street. As usual in such cases the holes are filled in with block stone until such time as the employes of the bureau of highways and sewers can repair the breaks in the street with asphalt. There has been a large amount of repairing done this summer, and as a consequence it has taken some little time for the pavers to get around to Ross street to do repair work there.

Yesterday the city workmen began reopening the holes in Ross street preparatory to repairing the damaged spots in the street with asphalt. Last night Supt. John Battles said the repairing of the street would be completed in a short time, as there was not much work to be done in Ross street.

AN OLD MISTAKE.

After Thirty Years Eugene M. O'Neill Discovered He Was Not a Citizen.

Eugene M. O'Neill, for a quarter of a century one of the owners of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, did not know until yesterday that he was not a citizen of the United States. On September 27, 1872, Mr. O'Neill was declared a citizen. When he left the court house he took with him the record of his naturalization, and has preserved it ever since, under the belief that it was his naturalization papers.

Mr. O'Neill applied for a passport yesterday, as he is going abroad for a long trip. It was then ascertained that there was no record of Mr. O'Neill's naturalization. He insisted that he had complied with the law and produced the paper he has treasured so many years. Then it was discovered where the error was. Mr. O'Neill now has his papers in legal shape.

ASKS $20,000 DAMAGES.

William Scott Enters Suit for That Amount Against Consolidated Traction Company.

Suit was entered in common pleas No. 1 by William Scott against the Consolidated Traction Company for $20,000 for personal injuries. The plaintiff claims that through the carelessness of agents of the defendant his buggy was run into by a street car on September 1, 1900, while driving down Penn avenue. He says he was thrown from his buggy, fracturing two ribs and receiving internal injuries from which he will suffer throughout the remainder of his life.

HE GOT HER ESTATE.

Respondent in Divorce Says Her Husband Has Neglected Family.

The respondent in the divorce suit of Henry A. France against Sophia C. France filed her answer. She denies that she has been guilty of infidelity. She avers that the libellant was cruel to her and their two small children, and that by reason of his treatment and his failure to properly provide for them she was compelled to leave his home.

The respondent avers that her husband shortly after their marriage obtained possession of her own separate estate and either spent or wasted it or converted it to his own use. She alleges that he has made conveyances of certain real estate with the purpose of defrauding her and his creditors.

LACK OF MOTIVE POWER CUTS OFF NEW MARKETS

Pittsburgh Coal Co. May Nevertheless Add 4,000,000 Tons to Output.

NORTHWEST FAMINE SURE

If Anthracite Strike Were to End Today the Northwest Coal Supply This Winter Would be Short. Premiums for Anthracite.

The Pittsburgh and other bituminous producers of coal have at their doors a vastly expanding market by reason of the idleness in the anthracite fields. The supply of anthracite in all sections is at a minimum, and at the supply points of the northwest there is scarcely any.

As a result new business is being offered to the Pittsburgh Coal Company and other heavy producers here at prices about 20 cents the ton above the minimum of the price agreement between the producers of this section. The Pittsburgh company is getting little of this business from new buyers, because it is rushed to fulfill its contracts running for a year.

At the same time it is said that the Pittsburgh Coal Company will this year increase its production by 4,000,000 tons. All its mines are active, and the only trouble is to get sufficient transportation facilities. The car supply is sufficient, but the crippled motive power prevents deliveries keeping pace with the production. The railroads are working with motive power that is inadequate, and will improve this very little before the rush of the coal-shipping season is over.

There is promised now a famine in coal supply for the markets of the northwest. The anthracite strike may be over in a month and a half, but if it is the anthracite producers will not be able to meet the demands of their northwest markets. This will further increase the call for bituminous coal, and it will be impossible to supply it.

The Ohio and Youghiogheny Coal Company, controlled by F. M. Osborne, former president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, is asking that the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company give it much more than the supply of coal for shipment over the lakes to the northwest market provided for in the purchase of Mr. Osborne of between 100,000 and 150,000 tons a month of the rail output of the river coal company.

Anthracite Production.

The production of anthracite coal has been cut to the minimum by the strike. In May the production was 1,708,892 tons, as against 4,674,707 in May last year. The markets of the east are suffering with the others. New York and Philadelphia are black with bituminous smoke. There and at other eastern cities the authorities are turning their attention to smoke consumers.

One of the general officers of the Pittsburgh Coal Company said yesterday: "We are not getting the business that the anthracite operators cannot handle. We have all we can do to take care of our own contracts, made before the anthracite strike began. There will be a shortage of coal in the northwest at the end of the lake traffic. There is every year. Transportation facilities are far below what they should be, but it is too early to estimate what conditions will be at the end of the lake-shipping season, which will probably continue till the first of December.

"Long before that the anthracite strike may be settled, but the anthracite producers will not be able to supply the coal necessary to meet the markets of past years."

Supply From Hocking Valley.

It is reported outside of the Pittsburgh company that it was short something like 2,000,000 tons on its contracts in the northwest last year. This year it will deliver the increased supply from the Hocking valley of Ohio, where it has a large ownership in producing properties. On the whole, it is said that the company will mine and deliver something like 4,000,000 tons over the production of last year.

The Pittsburgh interests sell large quantities of bituminous coal to jobbers who supply markets in the east and northeast. These have been asking for a greater supply to meet the expanding market in the east by reason of the cutting off of the anthracite supply.

It is not that the Pittsburgh producers are stepping into the anthracite market, although at the same time some of their coal may be supplying the shortage.

At Minneapolis and St. Paul there is now less than 30,000 tons of anthracite coal. The supply of bituminous is nearly normal and the producers of Illinois and Iowa are working on the opportunity to get into these markets. Whatever increased deliveries the Pittsburgh producers can arrange to forward will mean just so much of profit from the higher prices that will result from the shortage of anthracite.

Deliveries of bituminous coal at Duluth are not up to what is expected. The jobbers have no stocks of anthracite and are worried.

Earthquake Rumps Montana.

HELENA, MONT., Aug. 4.—An earthquake which lasted only two seconds visited Missoula county last evening, causing some slight damage. At Bonner a large dynamo was shaken from its adjustment. At Clinton the shock was quite severe, the operator reporting that several old buildings collapsed.

Today
A Special Sale of

ODDS AND ENDS,

Being an Accumulation of a Thousand and One Things—Big and Little—Trifles as well as Articles of Great Value—Crossed off our Inventory Sheets to be Sold for

The Most Ridiculous of Little Prices.

A sale the possibilities of which are great—for you may pick up the very thing you've been wanting—and only have to pay a mere fraction of its former selling price.

Our half store-year ended with the 31st of July. We are getting ready to receive Fall goods, and we do not want them to come in upon us and say the very first thing, "Room seems to be quite scarce here, seeing that you expected early Fall visitors."

Well, the best way to get room we know of is to call out a great lot of little prices—which we have done.

In this collection of odds and ends there is something for men and women, boys and girls—even babies—all Summer goods with sweep-away prices to them.

Today is the beginning of a lively August—in this store.

PENN AND FIFTH.

☞ Hotel and Boarding House Keepers, who want to get the best possible beds for the least possible money, will take advantage of this great sale.

"THE BIG STORE"

☞ Out-of-towners can save more than their traveling expenses at this sale. All goods bought now will be stored free of charge as long as desired.

Annual Bed AND Bedding Sale

This always so eagerly looked-for event started last Friday, and the sales of Friday, Saturday and yesterday were the biggest on record for so short a time. This is accounted for by the fact that many people, realizing that these goods cannot be duplicated later on for double the prices asked at this sale, are buying NOW for future needs. There are about 150 different styles from which to choose—from the plainest to the most elaborate. The makers sold these beds to us (for reasons stated in last Thursday's papers) for less than the cost of production. We now offer them to you

For About Half the Usual Prices.

But be sure not to delay buying, for, at the rate the goods are going, there's no telling how long they'll last. Come today, or this week, if you want a full assortment to pick from.
